DEDICATION

This 1986 Chiefs media guide, designed to provide information and reference to the media covering the team and the NFL, is, with a great deal of pleasure, dedicated to Joe McGuff, the new vice president and editor of the Kansas City Star & Times. A sportswriter for the Star for the last 38 years and sports editor since 1966, McGuff has established a unique standard of excellence in covering the Chiefs the last 23 seasons in Kansas City. We salute his unending integrity and excellence and wish him well in his new assignment.

CHIEFS OWNER

LAMAR HUNT

Lamar Hunt begins his 27th year in professional football and without him, the sport surely would have taken a different direction. Few individuals, if any, have helped shape the game more than this quiet Texan, whose interest in the sport began as a reserve end for Southern Methodist University.

The founder and organizer of the American Football League and his own Dallas Texan franchise has seen the game change drastically over the last 26 seasons. He wouldn't trade the experience for any other.

"It's been a terrific experience," he told reporters two years ago in celebrating a quarter of a century in the business. "I hope I can stay in football the rest of my life."

Hunt has been a dynamic force and leader in the game for the past 26 years and will continue to be highly recognized and respected by his peers and the administrators and owners of the sport that is now considered No. 1 in the nation.

Indicative of his stature within the game is the fact that he was the first AFL figure to be enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame. That honor was bestowed on Hunt in the summer of 1972 when, at the enshrinement ceremonies in Canton, Hunt's good friend and original AFL owner Billy Sullivan of the Boston/New England Patriots described the Chiefs owner as the "architect, designer and builder of an impossible dream."

He has since been honored by the NFL Alumni Association, winning the prestigious Leather Helmet Award along with Dallas Cowboys head coach Tom Landry in 1982, and, a year later, was inducted into the Texsas Sports Hall of Fame. The AFC Championship Trophy is now named after him.

Hunt was greatly involved in the merger of the AFL and NFL in the late sixties and was one of the key designers of the Super Bowl format. In fact, it was Hunt who named the NFL World Championship Game the "Super Bowl." His Chiefs played in Super Bowl I, losing to the Green Bay Packers, and then came back in Super Bowl IV to defeat the Minnesota Vikings and capture the World Championship following the 1969 season. In the 10-year history of the AFL, Hunt's franchise won more games than any of the league's other franchises.

Hunt continues to be a prominent pro football leader and his ventures in Kansas City involve more than just the Chiefs. First there were $9.5 million worth of improvements the Chiefs funded during the construction of Arrowhead Stadium in 1972. Hunt then developed a multi-million-dollar, Kansas City area recreation park, Worlds of Fun, and five years ago opened a new theme park in the area, Oceans of Fun. He also owns Hunt Midwest Enterprises, Inc. in Kansas City.

A sportsman in the true sense of the word — an avid jogger, tennis player and sports spectator — Hunt also is involved in several other sports ventures. He organized and coordinated the formation and development of World Championship Tennis and is one of the founding owners of the Chicago Bulls of the NBA.

In addition to his numerous business commitments, Hunt is active as a member of the board of directors of NFL Charities, is a member of the Board of Trustees of the Pro Football Hall of Fame and serves on the NFL Alumni Association's Board of Governors. As president of the American Football Conference, Hunt is a member of two prominent NFL committees, finance and long range planning.

Hunt was born August 2, 1932, in Dallas and graduated from SMU with a B.S. in geology in 1956. Hunt and his wife, Norma, divide their time between Dallas and Kansas City. Their residence is in Dallas. The Hunts have four children, Lamar Jr., Sharron, Clark and Daniel.

CHIEFS PRESIDENT

JACK STEADMAN

For 26 years, Jack Steadman has been the "right hand man" for Lamar Hunt, the founder of the American Football League and one of its original franchises — the Dallas Texans/Kansas City Chiefs. Steadman begins year No. 27 with Hunt as the chief executive officer of the Chiefs and all of Hunt's Kansas City-based operations.

Beginning his eleventh year as the president of the football club, Steadman has been an administrative leader in first the AFL and now the NFL during his administrative career. In addition to being in charge of the overall direction and operations of the Chiefs, Steadman is chairman and chief executive officer of Hunt Midwest Enterprises, Inc. HME operates family recreation theme parks, Worlds of Fun and Oceans of Fun, plus is involved in real estate, limestone rock-mining and commercial development in Kansas City.

Steadman's football experience began in Dallas in 1960 when Hunt appointed him general manager of his AFL Texans at the midway point of the league's inaugural season. Steadman has guided Hunt's football operations ever since and has been instrumental in the success of a franchise which has produced two Super Bowl berths and the most successful record in the 10-year history of the American Football League.

Steadman's creative ideas and leadership have helped shape much of the direction pro football has taken over the last 25 seasons. He was and is an administrative innovator in the old AFL and now NFL. Many of his marketing and administrative developments have been duplicated throughout the league. He spearheaded pro football's move to Mid-America, coordinating the move of the Dallas Texans to Kansas City in 1963. It also was Steadman who conceived the idea of Kansas City building the dual-stadium Harry S. Truman Sports Complex which houses the 78,000-seat Arrowhead and 41,000-seat Royals Stadium, regarded by many sports enthusiasts as one of the finest sports facilities in the nation.

The multiplicity of Steadman's civic involvement in the Kansas City community in the last 23 years reinforces his belief that the success of a professional sports franchise literally integrates with the community. "We are extremely proud to represent Kansas City and all of the Midwest in the NFL," relates Steadman. "It is truly a longterm association and for us to be a success we must enjoy both citizen and civic support. From our standpoint, we have a great appreciation for community involvement in our program and for our involvement in the community."

Promoted from general manager to executive vice president and general manager in 1966, Steadman was named president of the Kansas City Chiefs in 1976. As a member of the NFL executive committee, Steadman serves as the chairman of the NFL Front Office and Coaches Pension Plan Committee. He also is a member of the Board of Directors of Commerce Bank of Kansas City.

His strong civic involvement continues with the following activities: Chairman, Private Industry Council; Board of Directors, Starlight Theatre Association; Board of Directors, Chamber of Commerce of Greater Kansas City; Board of Directors, Full Employment Council; Board of Directors, Civic Council of Greater Kansas City; Board of Directors, American Royal Association; Advisory Trustee, Research Medical Center; Trustee, Midwest Research Institute.

He has served as the chairman, president and campaign chairman of United Way and chairman of the Chamber of Commerce of Greater Kansas City. He also was president of Starlight Theatre Association and chairman of the Full Employment Council and is a former member of the board of directors of Children's Mercy Hospital.

Born September 14, 1928, in Aurora, IL, Steadman grew up in Warrenville, IL, and Dallas, TX. He attended Baylor University and received his B.A. in business administration from Southern Methodist University. Jack and his wife, Martha, who also is involved in a number of civic organizations in the metropolitan area, live in Mission Hills, KS.

CHIEFS VICE PRESIDENTS

JIM SCHAAF, General Manager/Football Operations

Jim Schaaf, the Chiefs vice president and general manager, begins his 21st season with the franchise, serving in virtually all areas of the club's administrative operations. He is currently in charge of the organization's total football operations, covering coaching, scouting, player acquisitions and player personnel matters.

The 48-year old Schaaf has a diversified background in athletics, both from an administrative and playing level. He was a starting guard for Notre Dame University for three years from 1956-58 following a multiple sport high school career at Cathedral Preparatory School in Erie, PA.

Schaaf's administrative sports background began in Kansas City when he joined the baseball Athletics under owner Charles O. Finley. After five years of public relations and promotions with the Athletics, Schaaf joined the Chiefs in 1966 as director of public relations. He was elevated to assistant general manager in January, 1968 and then to vice president and general manager in July of 1974.

Prior to taking over the duties of handling the football operations, Schaaf oversaw the day-to-day administrative operations for the Chiefs as general manager.

"Jim has all the qualities you look for in a general manager," said Chiefs president Jack Steadman. "He is dedicated, aggressive, intelligent, thorough and highly motivated to succeed. He is now being recognized as one of the most outstanding general managers in pro football."

Schaaf, born May 22, 1938, in Erie, PA, earned a bachelor's degree in economics at Notre Dame. He and his wife, Julie, have two children. Daughter Jill Marie, 22, graduated from Notre Dame last spring and son, James, 18, graduated from Rockhurst High School in Kansas City last spring. The family resides in Overland Park, KS.

DON STEADMAN, Administration

Donald W. Steadman is the vice president of administration for the Chiefs and coordinates all of the front office operations and activities.

The son of Chiefs president Jack Steadman, Don joined the Chiefs organization in 1980 and was elevated to vice president for administration last year. He also serves as vice president of the Chiefs Children's Fund, a private foundation established by the football club in 1983 to benefit children's charities in metropolitan Kansas City.

A graduate of Shawnee Mission South High School in Overland Park, KS, Steadman graduated from Baylor University in 1978. He has done graduate work at the Denver Seminary in Religion and Rockhurst College in business. Prior to joining the Chiefs organization, Steadman worked in several church-related positions as well as the manager of sales and leasing for Great Midwest Corporation. His involvement with the Chiefs includes positions in promotions and group sales.

Steadman has been involved in the President's Club and the Centurions, a leadership group for young business people, through the Greater Kansas City Chamber of Commerce. He has also worked with the Heart of America United Way. Born July 16, 1956, Steadman and his wife, Julie, have two children, Drew, 4 years, and Amy, 2 years.

CHIEFS HEAD COACH

JOHN MACKOVIC

With a strong commitment to build his team into a consistent championship-caliber challenger in the NFL, John Mackovic begins his fourth season as the Kansas City Chiefs head coach in 1986.

After making some major coaching changes during the off-season and receiving a significant boost in new young talent by way of outside acquisitions and the NFL draft, Mackovic feels the Chiefs are ready to challenge the best teams in the league in the '86 campaign. As members of the NFL's most difficult division — the AFC West — the goal of reaching the playoffs is not an easy task.

While the team has shown a marked improvement over the last three seasons in nearly every area on the field, the Chiefs have managed to accumulate only two fifth places and one fourth place spot in a division that owns the NFL's best overall record and winning percentage in the three years Mackovic has been the Kansas City head coach. The division, over the last three seasons, has won 138 games for a 57.5% mark with the NFL East second at 54.0% and 128 victories.

"I think you learn more every year," said Mackovic following the Chiefs disappointing 6-10 season a year ago. "We went through some things that were tougher than anything we had gone through here. Perhaps that will make us stronger. It doesn't mean you'll be any different, it just means you'll have a little more resolve."

That resolve, perserverence and the positive approach Mackovic takes to everything was instrumental in the Chiefs turnaround at the conclusion of '85 after suffering a seven-game losing skid in the middle of the campaign. The Chiefs captured three victories in their final five games and, in so doing, managed to earn splits in all of their AFC Western Division home-and-home battles except with the second place Denver Broncos.

To move his team into a point of contention in the AFC West, Mackovic has nearly had to revamp every phase of the Chiefs team, first installing a new wide-open, pass-oriented offensive attack to building a strong, solid defensive unit. Even though his team will be one of the youngest in the league, Mackovic feels there is a nucleus of veteran talent to blend with the youthful newcomers and make the Chiefs a challenger this season.

Difficult assignments have been a Mackovic trademark throughout his coaching career. In 1978, after 13 years as a high school and college assistant coach, Mackovic assumed the head coaching duties of a sagging program at Wake Forest, his alma mater. The Deacons had won only 13 games in the previous six years in the rugged Atlantic Coast Conference. Mackovic's team finished 1-10 in that '78 season, but the next year, he guided the Deacons to an 8-3 record and a position in the national rankings for the first time in the school's history. The record, which included a big victory over Georgia, provided Wake Forest with an invitation to the Tangerine Bowl, marking the first post-season game for the school since 1949.

In 1980, Wake Forest compiled a 5-6 record, losing four of those games by a combined total of seven points. His three-year head coaching stint at his alma mater earned him a solid reputation of producing wide-open, multiple offensive attacks and developing solid foundations in football programs.

He gave up his college head coaching job to join the coaching staff of Tom Landry's Dallas Cowboys in 1981, serving as the quarterback coach for two seasons. In both of those seasons, the Cowboys earned a pair of playoff berths and quarterback Danny White developed into a Pro Bowl signal caller. His success at both Wake Forest and Dallas provided the rapid climb to an NFL head coaching position.

Mackovic was named the fifth Chiefs head coach in February of 1983 while he was finishing his assistant coaching assignment at the Pro Bowl with the Cowboys coaching staff. In his first year with Kansas City, Mackovic rennovated the Chiefs offense, which wound up the season with the third best passing attack in the NFL and a No. 9 rating in overall offense. It was a remarkable transition for a team that had floundered offensively in past years. While the first year record for Mackovic of 6-10 was disappointing from a won-loss standpoint, five of the 10 defeats were measured by three points or less while a sixth was only by five points. In '84, the team jumped into fourth place with an 8-8 mark, marking only the third time in the last 11 years the team had finished .500 or above.

Last year again was a disappointing season with the seven-game losing streak in a schedule that ranked as the toughest in the NFL with the AFC West opponents and both Super Bowl teams. Still, the Chiefs finished strong with three wins in the final five contests and the offense continued to feature a strong passing barage.

"We got a little beat up physically and emotionally during that seven-game losing streak," noted Mackovic of last season. "The nicest and greatest thing about this team is that they were able to keep playing and our coaching staff continued working. We didn't play that way in the last five weeks just by mistake. There was something behind it. A lot of it has to do with the way people felt about themselves and the way they were able to dig out of a hole and we were in a pretty deep hole."

Since that time, there have been several adjustments in Mackovic's coaching staff, strengthening the development and teaching area. Mackovic brought in highly-respected Frank Gansz to take over the kicking teams and serve as assistant head coach. He named veteran Chiefs coach Walt Corey defensive coordinator and added new coaches Carl Mauck (offensive line) and John Paul Young (defensive line) to his coaching staff.

"We will be working to bring to Kansas City what we set out to bring and that's a great football team. Nothing less than a great football team and we have a lot of work to do to get there, no question about it. It can't be done single-handedly, it's going to take a lot of hard work by a lot of people."

After receiving his B.A. degree from Wake Forest, Mackovic began his coaching career in 1965 as a graduate assistant at Miami of Ohio, where he also earned his master's degree in secondary education. An outstanding quarterback at Wake Forest in his collegiate playing days, Mackovic then returned to his prep alma mater, Barberton (Ohio) High School for the 1966 season. He then served as the freshmen coach at the U.S. Military Academy at West Point for two years (1967-68). Prior to returning to Wake Forest as the head man, Mackovic was an assistant coach and offensive coordinator at San Jose State, Army, Arizona and Purdue.

An excellent speaker and motivator, Mackovic is a goal-oriented individual who believes strongly in setting a definite direction for himself and for his team and coaching staff. In addition to their on-field performances and efforts, Mackovic asks his players to make year-long commitments to the community as well. His enthusiasm and positive outlook have been an infectious comodity, not only around the team but within the Kansas City area. Mackovic has assisted in a number of civic and charity events, including serving as co-chairman of a March of Dimes benefit dinner that generates more than $100,000 in proceeds to help fight birth defects.

Born October 1, 1943, in Barberton, Mackovic is an avid golfer during the off-season. He serves on the Board of Directors, Greater Kansas City Area Chapter, March of Dimes and is active in the Kansas and Missouri Special Olympics. Mackovic's wife, Arlene, is an active volunteer with the March of Dimes and also is a member of their board of directors. The family includes two children, Aimee, 11 years, and John, 8 years. The family resides in Mission Hills, Kansas.

CHIEFS COACHING STAFF

FRANK GANSZ, Assistant Head Coach/Kicking Teams

One of three new additions to the Chiefs coaching staff, Frank Gansz will be handling two major assignments for the team. As assistant head coach, Gansz will work closely with head coach John Mackovic with on-field planning and development plus he will be in charge of the Chiefs kicking game and will work with the tight ends.

An assistant coach in the NFL for the past eight seasons, including two years with the Chiefs, Gansz will be starting his 22nd season of coaching in the college and professional ranks. He coached the Chiefs kicking teams in 1981 and '82 under Marv Levy and, in both seasons, the Chiefs special teams ranked near the top of the league based on a point system covering 20 kicking game areas. In '81, the Chiefs ranked first in the NFL and placekicker Nick Lowery was named to the AFC Pro Bowl squad.

Gansz has spent the last three seasons with the Philadelphia Eagles coaching the special teams. The Eagles kicking game boosted itself from 27th in 1982 to 10th in '83 and first in '84 during Gansz's tenure. He is one of the most highly regarded special teams coaches in the NFL.

A graduate of the U.S. Naval Academy in 1960, where he played guard, center and linebacker, Gansz has coached with the Cincinnati Bengals and San Francisco 49ers in addition to the Chiefs and Eagles. After graduation, he served in the U.S. Air Force as a jet pilot from 1961-66 and began his coaching career as an assistant at the Air Force Academy in 1964. On the collegiate level, Gansz has coached at Colgate, Navy, Oklahoma State, Army and UCLA in addition to the Air Force Academy.

Born, November 22, 1938, in Altoona, PA, Gansz and his wife, Barbara, have two children, Frank, Jr., and Jennifer Anne.

WALT COREY, Defensive Coordinator/Linebackers

Walt Corey takes on a brand new assignment in one respect and returns to an old one in another as he begins his 19th season with the Kansas City Chiefs in 1986. An original member of the Dallas Texans in 1960 when he made the team as a free agent linebacker out of the University of Miami, Corey has spent 19 of his professional football years with Lamar Hunt's team. He played for the Texans/Chiefs as a linebacker from 1960 thru 1966, including action in Super Bowl I against the Green Bay Packers. The other 12 seasons have been spent as an assistant coach with the team in various capacities.

This year, he becomes the team's defensive coordinator, a new position created by head coach John Mackovic this season, and moves from coaching the defensive line to handling the linebackers.

Corey has coached all three defensive positions with the Chiefs. He held numerous responsibilities under Hank Stram from 1971-74, including linebackers, special teams and strength coach. He coached both the defensive line and the secondary under Marv Levy from 1978-82. The first assistant coach hired by Mackovic when he was named the team's head coach in 1983, Corey was an assistant coach in charge of the linebackers under Forrest Gregg at Cleveland from 1975-77.

After completing his playing career with the Chiefs, Corey coached five years in the collegiate ranks. He was the defensive coordinator at Utah State from 1967-69 and then the defensive coordinator at his alma mater, Miami University, in 1970 and '71. He was an outstanding standup defensive end and outside linebacker at Miami.

Born May 9, 1938, in Latrobe, PA, Corey and his wife, Jane, have two children, Carla and Mark.

DAVE BRAZIL, Defensive Assistant

Dave Brazil joined John Mackovic's coaching staff early in the 1984 season and his role involves both on-field and off-field activities. The bulk of his time is concentrated in the defensive quality control area and includes evaluating the Chiefs defensive tendencies throughout the season and working extensively in advance scouting of opponents.

Brazil joined the Chiefs staff after spending three years as defensive coordinator at Kent State University from 1980-83. He has worked and coached at five different colleges and has been the defensive or offensive coordinator in all of his assignments. He began in the collegiate ranks in 1968 at Holy Cross, then moved to Tulsa in 1970 and Eastern Michigan in 1972. He returned to his native Detroit in 1974 to become the defensive coordinator of the Detroit Wheel of the now defunct World Football League and handled coaching duties with the Chicago Fire the next season in the WFL. He then returned to the collegiate ranks with Boston College in 1978 and moved on to Kent State in '80.

A high school coach in Michigan for 10 years before heading into the college coaching ranks, Brazil coached eight consecutive prep years without losing more than two games.

Born March 3, 1936, in Detroit, Brazil attended the University of Detroit, graduating in 1958 with a business administration degree. He and his wife, Bridget, have six children, Kathleen, Mary Ann, Michael, Daniel, Thomas and Patrick.

DOUG GRABER, Defensive Backs

For the last three years, Doug Graber has tutored the Chiefs most successful group of players, the secondary. The team's defensive backs have led the AFC in two of the last three seasons and, with 87 interceptions during that period of time, rank third in the NFL behind Dallas and Seattle.

It is an accomplished group of standouts and Graber has played no small role in the development of the Chiefs secondary, which includes three-time Pro Bowler Deron Cherry, veteran strong safety Lloyd Burruss and two of the younger but best corners in the conference in Albert Lewis and Kevin Ross.

Graber joined John Mackovic's staff three years ago, giving up the head coaching job at Montana State to move into the professional coaching ranks. An outstanding football player and a letter winner in golf at Wayne State University, the Detroit native earned his master's degree in education from Northern Michigan. At Montana State, Graber guided the Bobcats from their seventh place position in the Big Sky Conference in 1981 to the co-championship in 1982 with a 6-5 overall record and a 5-2 conference mark in his only season as a collegiate head coach.

After starting his coaching career in his native Detroit at St. Francis Cabrini High School, Graber worked as an assistant coach at Michigan Tech, Eastern Michigan, Ball State and Wisconsin before taking the head duties at Montana State. He served as the defensive coordinator, defensive backs coach and recruiting coordinator as an assistant coach. Born September 26, 1944, Graber and his wife, Faye, have two sons, Joe and J.J.

J.D. HELM, Offensive Assistant

J.D. Helm begins his 12th year with the Kansas City Chiefs, his fifth as an assistant coach. One of two assistant coaches retained by John Mackovic when he became the team's head coach in 1983, Helm carries a number of responsibilities on the current coaching staff.

He first serves as a general assistant on offense plus handles offensive evaluation and tendencies and works on the scouting of advance opponents. His evaluation expertise comes from seven years of serving as a member of the Chiefs scouting department prior to joining Marv Levy's coaching staff as the offensive backfield coach in 1982.

Mackovic first became acquainted with Helm when they coached against each other in the WAC, Helm as an assistant at BYU and Mackovic as an assistant at Arizona. Helm became an offensive assistant at Brigham Young in 1968 for seven seasons, and was instrumental in helping develop the Cougars wide open and nationally-recognized offensive attack. During his coaching career with BYU, Helm handled all phases of the team's offensive system.

A football and track standout at the University of Kansas, Helm has coached on the high school, college and professional levels in addition to owning a wide range of experience in the player personnel area. He has been an assistant coach at his alma mater, KU, and was on the prep coaching staff at Shawnee Mission East High School in suburban Kansas City. A native of Marceline, MO, Helm was born December 27, 1940. He and his wife, Elizabeth, have four children, Heather, Lisa, Erin and Adam.

C.T. HEWGLEY, Linemen/Strength & Conditioning

C.T. Hewgley, an original member of John Mackovic's coaching staff, serves a dual role with the Chiefs. He coordinates the team's all-important strength and conditioning program and assists Carl Mauck with the offensive line and John Paul Young with the defensive line.

With a wealth of collegiate coaching experience, Hewgley enters his fourth season with the Chiefs, his first professional coaching assignment. A second team All-America offensive lineman at the University of Wyoming in the late forties and early fifties, Hewgley has a rather storied background outside of football. He has been a Golden Gloves champion, raced sports cars and is a decorated, retired Army veteran with combat experience in World War II, Korea and Vietnam as a green Beret commander. He has served on the Joint Chiefs of Staff in Washington D.C. and retired as a Lt. Col. after 25 years in the regular Army.

Hewgley began his coaching career in 1968 as the freshmen coach and recruiting coordinator at Miami (FL) University. Following the 1970 season, Hewgley returned to his alma mater to coach the Cowboys offensive line from 1971-75. He then became the head coach of the University of Nebraska-Omaha in 1974 and then moved onto Michigan State from 1976-79, following Darryl Rogers to Arizona State in 1980-82, before joining Mackovic's staff in '83.

A native of Nashville, TN, Hewgley was born August 22, 1925. He grew up in Nashville, attending East Nashville High School. He and his wife, Julia, live in Lee's Summit, MO.

CARL MAUCK, Offensive Line

A new addition to the Chiefs coaching staff beginning this season, Carl Mauck takes charge of the Chiefs offensive line. It is an area Mauck is quite familiar with in that he played professional football in the offensive line for 13 seasons.

Mauck spent most of his professional playing and coaching career with Bum Phillips, seven as a player with the Houston Oilers and the last four years on Phillips' coaching staff at New Orleans. A durable performer, Mauck started 155 consecutive games and played in 156 straight during his playing career. A 13th round draft pick by the Baltimore Colts out of Southern Illinois University, Mauck played with the Colts, Miami Dolphins and San Diego Chargers before going to Houston's Oilers in a 1975 trade. An outstanding center, Mauck retired following the 1981 season and was quickly acquired by Phillips to join the Saints coaching staff.

A tough taskmaster, who brings a wealth of experience at all offensive line positions, Mauck will help put together the Chiefs running attack in 1986. He played both linebacker and center at Southern Illinois, starring on defense in the collegiate ranks but receiving top recognition for his center play on the professional side of the business.

Mauck graduated with honors at Southern Illinois, earning a degree in business management in 1969. A native of McLeansboro, IL, Mauck was born July 7, 1947. Mauck and his wife, Vicki, have four children, Tim, Chrissy, Teresa and Cathy.

PETE McCULLEY, Quarterbacks

Playing a major role in the rapid rise of the Chiefs passing game and the development of quarterbacks Bill Kenney and Todd Blackledge, Pete McCulley begins his fourth season as the team's quarterback coach.

Regarded as one of pro football's best teaching technicians of quarterbacks, McCulley has been a coach since 1959. In the professional ranks since 1973, McCulley has helped develop such standout quarterbacks as Bert Jones at Baltimore and Richard Todd at the New York Jets in addition to the superb job he has done with Kenney and Blackledge in Kansas City. All of those mentioned have taken the time at some point of their careers to acknowledge the assistance and guidance McCulley has given them along their professional careers, a solid testimony to McCulley's expertise in quarterback coaching.

An All-Conference quarterback and the MVP at Louisiana Tech in the mid-fifties, McCulley served as the head coach of the San Francisco 49ers for most of the 1978 season. In the professional ranks, he has coached at Baltimore (1973-76), Washington (1977), San Francisco (1978) and the New York Jets (1979-82) before joining John Mackovic's original coaching staff in Kansas City in 1983. At the Jets, McCulley coached the receivers the first three seasons before specifically handling Todd and the other Jets quarterbacks his final year.

In addition to his 11 years of NFL coaching, McCulley has 14 years of experience in the collegiate coaching ranks, beginning with Stephen F. Austin State College in 1959. He spent one year there, three years on the University of Houston staff, seven years with Baylor University and then three years with the U.S. Naval Academy.

Born November 29, 1931, in Franklin County, MS, McCulley and his wife, Nettie Jean, have two sons, Kit and Kim.

WILLIE PEETE, Offensive Backs

An original member of John Mackovic's coaching staff and a longtime friend of the Chiefs head coach, Willie Peete begins his fourth season as the team's offensive backfield coach.

It took a close friendship and the challenge of professional football to lure Peete from the coaching staff of his alma mater, the University of Arizona, where he had spent 12 seasons as an assistant coach. Peete and Mackovic coached together on the Arizona staff in the early 70's, and not only worked together on the offense but became close friends. When Mackovic was named the Chiefs head coach, Peete was one of his first calls to complete his coaching staff.

Peete started his coaching career at Arizona and has handled all phases of the offense, including coaching running backs, tight ends, line and receivers. He began his coaching there as a graduate assistant while completing his degree in physical education. He returned to his hometown of Mesa in 1963 and was an assistant coach at Mesa H.S. in football and track, then moved to a new high school, Westwood, where he served as an assistant in football and as the junior varsity basketball coach for seven years. He earned his master's degree in secondary education from Arizona State during that time. He then returned to the Arizona coaching staff fulltime and stayed on until taking the Chiefs assignment prior to the 1983 NFL season.

Born July 14, 1937, in Mesa, Peete and his wife, Edna, have two sons, both owning famed athletic backgrounds. Oldest son, Skip, recently graduated from Kansas University and signed a free agent contract with the Denver Broncos as a wide receiver this season. Rodney is a second year quarterback at Southern California.

RICHARD WILLIAMSON, Receivers

Much of the success of the Chiefs talented receivers corps belongs to Richard Williamson, who has been in charge of the team's receiving unit for the past three seasons.

Williamson joined John Mackovic's coaching staff in 1983 and has since been instrumental in the development of the Chiefs passing attack. Taking the assignment in Kansas City brought about a return to coaching for Williamson, who had spent two years outside the profession in private business and as the executive director of the Bluebonnet Bowl in Houston. He spent 18 years in collegiate coaching, both as a head coach and as an assistant, before entering private business in 1981.

The head coach at Memphis State from 1975-80, Williamson compiled a 31-35 record in six years as the Tigers head man. An independent football school, Memphis State consistently carried one of the most difficult schedules of any major college football team. He guided the Tigers to consecutive 7-4 records in his first two seasons as the school's head coach and was named Southern Independent Coach of the Year in 1976. Williamson was selected to coach in the Blue-Gray All-Star Game twice while at Memphis State.

Williamson worked as an assistant coach under two college football coaching legends — the late Paul "Bear" Bryant at Alabama and Frank Broyles at Arkansas. A wide receiver and strong safety at Alabama as a collegiate star, Williamson was an All-SEC wide receiver in his senior year with the Crimson Tide. He coached at Alabama from 1963-67, moved to Arkansas for two seasons (1968-69) and then returned to coach with Bryant for two more years (1970-71) before returning to join Broyles' coaching staff with the Razorbacks in 1972-74.

A native of Fort Deposit, AL, Williamson was born April 13, 1941. He and his wife, Norma, have two children, Rich and Caroline.

JOHN PAUL YOUNG, Defensive Line

One of the NFL's most highly-respected defensive coaches, John Paul Young is one of three new assistant coaches on John Mackovic's Chiefs staff this season. He moves in to handle the defensive line and provide a key role in helping coordinator Walt Corey with the overall defense.

Young was the defensive coordinator for the New Orleans Saints the last half of the 1985 season. He joined the Saints staff in 1981 when Bum Phillips was named the team's head coach, coming with Phillips from the Houston Oilers where he had worked as an assistant for four years. He brings to Kansas City eight years of NFL coaching experience plus has handled a number of administrative duties, including development of computer scouting programs. In all, Young has coached in the collegiate or professional ranks for 24 years and the defensive squads he has coached have a long list of top-ranking statistics to show for it.

A four-year starter at linebacker for the University of Texas at El Paso in the early sixties, Young was a three-year All-Conference selection, a second team All-America choice and the team captain in his final season. He was a standout performer on the Abilene High School team that captured three consecutive State 4-A championships and won 49 straight games.

Young started his coaching career with Phillips when the latter was the head man at UTEP in 1962 and 1963. After a three year coaching stint at Jacksonville High School in Texas as the defensive coordinator, Young coached at Southern Methodist, Oklahoma State and Texas A&M before re-joining Phillips at the Houston Oilers in 1978.

Born December 31, 1939, Young and his wife, Dolores, have two sons, John Paul, Jr., and Jason.

GREG MOHNS, Pro Scouting Coordinator

Greg Mohns assumes a newly-created position with the Chiefs coaching department this year as pro scouting coordinator.

Associated with the Chiefs player personnel area for the past three years, including last year as the coordinator of college scouting, Mohns will turn his attention to evaluation of NFL talent and other pro scouting areas. He also is expected to handle some limited college scouting.

The 36-year-old Mohns joined the Chiefs scouting staff in 1983 after 10 years of coaching and recruiting coordinating on the collegiate level. He has served as an assistant coach at Nevada-Las Vegas, Oklahoma State and Arizona State. At all three schools, Mohns was the recruiting coordinator as well as an assistant coach. He was the head football coach at Ventura (Calif.) Junior College in 1980 & '81, guiding his team to a junior college bowl appearance both seasons while earning Coach-of-the-Year honors in the conference.

A native of Pasadena, CA, Mohns grew up in the Kansas City area, attending Lee's Summit High School. His collegiate playing experience as an offensive lineman came at Bradley University and Baker University, where he earned his B.S. degree. He also has a master's degree from Oklahoma State.

JON PHILLIPS, Travel and Equipment Coordinator

The multi-dutied Jon Phillips is a vital part of John Mackovic's staff as he begins his fourth year with the Chiefs.

In addition to the time-consuming chore of coordinating the team's equipment, Phillips also is in charge of the Chiefs travel arrangements and training camp plans.

A graduate of Syracuse University, the 46-year-old Phillips had been associated with college athletics for 13 years as the equipment manager at Syracuse and Michigan State University before joining the Chiefs staff. He spent 10 years at his alma mater, Syracuse University in New York.

In 1980, Phillips was selected equipment manager of the year by the Athletic Equipment Managers Association and served as the association's Executive Director.

Phillips' assistant is Jeff Hiller, who also joined the Chiefs staff in '83. A native of Iowa, Hiller spent four years as a student equipment manager at Arizona State University before coming to Kansas City.

DAVE KENDALL, Trainer

Dave Kendall is in his third season as the Chiefs trainer after serving as the assistant trainer under Wayne Rudy for nine years.

Upon Rudy's retirement in 1984, Kendall was named to the top post, becoming just the second trainer in the history of the franchise.

The 35-year-old Kendall served as assistant trainer at Pittsburg State in Pittsburg, Kansas before joining the Chiefs staff in 1975. He graduated from Pittsburg State with a degree in physical education.

A graduate of Wyandotte High School in Kansas City, Kendall is a member of the National Athletic Trainers Association. Dave and his wife, Jacki, live in Lee's Summit and have a four-year-old daughter, Kristen.

Kendall's assistant is Bud Epps, who is in his third season with the Chiefs. The 32-year-old Epps was an assistant trainer at the University of Missouri for eight years before moving to Kansas City.

PLAYER PERSONNEL STAFF

LES MILLER, Director of Player Personnel

In charge of the evaluation of players for the NFL college draft each year, Les Miller begins his 12th season as the Kansas City Chiefs director of player personnel.

Every player on the current Chiefs squad has been acquired since Miller joined the Chiefs and became in charge of the college draft and much of the direction the Chiefs take in other player acquisitions. Prior to joining the Chiefs organization as the player personnel director, Miller spent 13 years in the coaching profession, a forerunner of his expertise in player evaluation.

Just prior to the 1975 season when the Chiefs made the decision to separate its player personnel and coaching areas, the team lured Miller away from a highly successful Miami Dolphins organization. Miller had been working under current Washington Redskins General Manager Bobby Beathard for three years as a talent scout.

Miller coached at the high school and college level for 13 years before moving into the professional football scouting area. He was the head football, basketball and baseball coach at Afton (OK) High School from 1958-60 and then moved on to Tulsa where he coached baseball and football at two high schools — McLain and Memorial — from 1960-64. After a brief stint in private business, Miller returned to the high school coaching profession as the head coach at Joplin (MO) High School in 1967 and '68.

Following his successful career in high school coaching, Miller moved on to Brigham Young University to coach the offensive backs and help Lavell Edwards with his highly-renowned passing offense for three years.

Born September 27, 1936, in Bernice, OK, Miller attended Oklahoma State University and received his degree from Kansas State College at Pittsburg (Pittsburg State). An outstanding football and baseball player at both colleges, Miller spent two seasons (1954-55) as a third baseman and outfielder in the New York Yankees farm system.

Les and his wife, Joyce, live in Overland Park and have four children, Mike, Debbie, Marty and Matt.

BOBBY GILL, Assistant Director of Player Personnel

One of the first people hired by director of player personnel Les Miller when the Chiefs first formed a separate scouting department in 1975, Bobby Gill begins his 12th season with the Kansas City Chiefs as the assistant director of player personnel.

Gill joined current Chiefs assistant coach J.D. Helm and now part-time scout Tommy O'Boyle on the Chiefs initial scouting staff after spending 16 years as a collegiate coach and one more in the now defunct World Football League. Gill, who first served as a regular talent scout with the organization, was named assistant player personnel director prior to the beginning of the 1985 season.

Gill's coaching career began in 1958 at Ouachita Baptist University in Arkadelphia, Ark. After four years as an assistant coach, Gill coached under Bill Yeoman at the University of Houston from 1962-66. Gill then accepted the offensive coordinator position at the University of Tulsa and, after two seasons there, became the offensive coordinator at New Mexico State, coaching from 1969-71. He completed his assistant collegiate coaching assignment at the University of Texas El Paso in 1972 and '73, giving him 16 years in the college football ranks.

Now the senior member of the Chiefs personnel staff, Gill attended Baylor University in his hometown of Waco, Texas. His wife, Barbara, is a highly recognized junior college athletic administrator and coach.

OTIS TAYLOR, Talent Scout

The all-time leading receiver in Chiefs history, Otis Taylor begins his ninth year on the player personnel staff.

Taylor's outstanding play at wide receiver in the 1960s and 70s helped the Chiefs get into two NFL Super Bowls. It was his 46-yard touchdown reception that broke open the Chiefs Super Bowl IV victory over Minnesota following the 1969 season. His lifetime 410 receptions, 7,306 yards receiving and 60 touchdowns all still stand as club records. The 43-year-old Taylor, the team's fourth round draft choice in 1965 out of Prairie View A&M, is a member of the Chiefs Hall of Fame.

CHUCK LESTER, Talent Scout

Chuck Lester begins his third season as an NFL scout with the Chiefs after compiling an eight-year background in intercollegiate football.

Lester began his coaching tenure as a graduate assistant at Oklahoma in 1976. After four years, he was named linebacker coach at Iowa State, where he stayed two seasons. He then returned to Oklahoma, serving as an administrative assistant to Barry Switzer for the '82 and '83 seasons, plus was in charge of the offensive and defensive quality control in '83. Lester joined the Chiefs staff in July of 1984. He is a graduate of Oklahoma.

CHUCK COOK, Talent Scout

Entering his third year with the Chiefs, Chuck Cook joined Les Miller's staff in July of 1984 as a talent scout.

A native of Andalusia, Ala., Cook came to Kansas City after serving two years as an offensive assistant coach with the Arizona Wranglers of the USFL. His first coaching position was a graduate assistant at the University of Wyoming in 1980.

Cook was a football star at Southern Mississippi, where he began his playing career as a wide receiver and finished as a defensive back in '80.

FRED SCHUBACH, Talent Scout

A 19-year NFL scouting veteran who spent 10 seasons as the player personnel director of the Baltimore Colts, Fred Schubach is the newest member of the Chiefs player personnel staff.

Schubach's responsibilities for scouting will center in the eastern region of the country where he resides. His tenure as the head of the Colts scouting operations began in 1973 and lasted until the team moved its franchise to Indianapolis. After his departure from the Colts, Schubach served as a talent scout of the Buffalo Bills from 1983-84. In '85 he established his own scouting combine and worked the east coast region for the Chicago Bears and L.A. Raiders.

JIM ARNOLD • 6
Punter Ht: 6-2 Ht: 220

How Acquired: Draft (No. 5 -1983)
College: Vanderbilt
NFL Experience: 4
Birthdate: January 31, 1961
Birthplace: Dalton, Georgia
Residence: Lee's Summit, Missouri

Pro Career: A complete 1986 season would give Arnold the second-longest tenure of any punter in Chiefs history, behind the legendary Jerrel Wilson's 15 years . . . Already ranks second on team career charts for number of punts (284) and punting average (42.0) . . . Is 16 punts shy of 300 career kicks, which will qualify him for the NFL's career list (should rank in Top 20 when he qualifies) . . . Ranks as the sixth leading active punter in the AFC and 11th in the NFL . . . Among punters who have been in the NFL three years, he ranks fifth in the AFC and sixth in the NFL . . . Has punted more times in each of his three seasons than any other previous Chiefs player had in a single year (98, 93 and 93 consecutively). 1985: Punting average slipped slightly from his NFL-leading '84 campaign, as he notched a 41.2 gross average to rank eighth in the AFC and 20th in the NFL . . . Net average was 32.4 . . . Punted 93 times, more than any other punter in the league in '85 and tying his '83 total for second-most in Chiefs annals . . . Compiled a 40-yard average or better in 11 games, including the final four . . . Top performance was six punts for a 48.5 average Week 13 at Seattle . . . That included a season-high four kicks of 50 yards or longer . . . Of his 16 punts of 50 yards or more, 10 came in the final six games . . . Booted a 61- and 62-yarder in the first meeting with Seattle, his two longest punts of the season . . . Tied a Chiefs record by punting 11 times at San Francisco . . . Had two punts blocked in a home game vs. Denver, a club record, and had entered that game with no career blocks. 1984: Established himself as one of the premier punters in the game by claiming the NFL punting title with a 44.9 average . . . Won a tight race over Miami's Reggie Roby and Indianapolis' Rohn Stark (both 44.7) . . . Finished second behind Roby in net punting with a 37.5 average . . . His impressive averages came on 98 punts, tying Stark for the league lead and nearly doubling Roby's number of attempts (51) . . . Was edged by Roby in balloting for the AFC Pro Bowl punter, finishing as the first alternate . . . His 98 punts and 4,397 punting yards set new Chiefs records, breaking his own mark of 93 punts from 1983 and surpassing Bob Grupp's 1979 yardage total of 3,883 yards . . . His 44.9 average stands as a tie for the fourth-best season mark in team history behind Jerrel Wilson performances . . . Compiled single-game averages of 45.0 or better in 10 of the 16 games and 40.0 or better in all but one . . . Best game of his career came at the L.A. Raiders when he posted a 51.0 average on eight punts, including a career-most five kicks of 50 yards or more . . . Boomed 31 punts of 50 yards or more in '84, including five of 60 yards or more, with a long of 63 vs. San Diego. 1983: Experienced an inconsistent rookie season, finishing with a 39.9 punting average, which ranked 10th in the AFC and 20th in the NFL . . . Posted a 32.6 net average . . . His 93 punts were a team record at the time, surpassing Grupp's 1979 record of 89, and ranked as the most in the AFC and second-most in the NFL in '83 . . . Displayed a powerful leg at times, registering 18 punts over 50 yards and four punts of 60 yards or more . . . Landed 21 punts inside the opponent's 20-yard line and had just six touchbacks, which was the best ratio in the AFC and tied for fourth-best in the NFL . . . Best performance came at Denver, when he compiled a 48.4 average on seven punts, including three over 50 yards . . . Longest punt of his career came as a rookie, a 64-yarder vs. Buffalo that ranked as the team's longest since a 74-yarder by Grupp in '79.

College/Personal: First punter taken in the 1983 draft . . . Led the nation in net punting with a 42.1 average as a senior at Vanderbilt . . . Was a consensus first team All-America punter after compiling a 45.8 average as a senior, giving him a 43.9 career average . . . Broke Vanderbilt's single-game punting record with a 53.1 average vs. North Carolina his senior year . . . Graduated with a degree in sociology . . . Attended Dalton (Ga.) High School, where he participated in five sports . . . Serves as a spokesperson for the Kansas City Foundation for the Retarded . . . That charity group benefitted from a celebrity softball game in Kansas City which he organized this past summer . . . Full name: James Edward Arnold . . . Single.

WALT ARNOLD • 87
Tight End Ht: 6-3 Wt: 234

How Acquired: Free Agent (1984)
College: New Mexico
NFL Experience: 7 (3rd with Chiefs)
Birthdate: August 31, 1958
Birthplace: Galveston, Texas
Residence: Albuquerque, New Mexico

Pro Career: Is coming off his best pro season and has seemingly found his niche with the Chiefs, his fourth NFL team . . . After spending two seasons with the L.A Rams, two with Houston and part of a season at Washington, he has become a key figure in the Chiefs passing attack the past year and a half . . . In his 26 games with the Chiefs, he has caught more passes (39 for 434 yards) than in the first four-plus years of his NFL career (37 for 424) . . . Has started 20 of those 26 games, including all 16 last year. 1985: Compiled career-high season totals with 28 receptions, 339 yards and 16 starts . . . His 339 yards rank as the most receiving yards by a Chiefs tight end since 1981 (356 by Al Dixon) . . . Caught at least one pass in all but two games . . . Put together the best game of his NFL career in a Thursday night, national TV victory over the L.A. Raiders in the second game of '85, gaining a career-most 69 receiving yards on a career-tying four receptions, including a career-long 38-yarder . . . The 69 yards were the most by a Chiefs tight end since Dixon's 102 vs. the Raiders in '82 . . . Had three catches in three other games . . . His lone touchdown reception came on the Chiefs first offensive series of the season at New Orleans on a 31-yard pass from Bill Kenney. 1984: Joined the Chiefs as a free agent prior to the seventh game and earned the starting tight end job by season's end . . . Started four of the final five contests and was the starter in the Chiefs three season-ending victories . . . Caught 11 passes for 95 yards in his 10 games with Chiefs . . . First touchdown came in the finale vs. San Diego on a four-yard pass from Kenney . . . Caught at least one pass in all but two games . . . Played four games for the Redskins before joining the Chiefs and made no receptions. At Houston: Signed with the Oilers as a free agent in '82 after being released by the Rams . . . Played in all nine games of the shortened season and made no receptions, playing primarily on kicking teams . . . Was waived by Houston on the final roster cutdown in '83, but re-signed in September following a trade of Dave Casper . . . Played in 13 games that year and started one, catching 12 passes for 137 yards and one TD . . . Top outing was a three-catch, 57-yard effort vs. Cincinnati. At Los Angeles: Began his NFL career in 1980 as a free agent with the Rams . . . Caught five passes for 75 yards and one touchdown as a rookie . . . Best pro year prior to 1985 was in '81, when he started nine games and made 20 receptions for 212 yards and two touchdowns . . . Played all 16 games both of those seasons and his best performance was a four-catch, 48-yard effort vs. Detroit in '81.

How Acquired: Draft (No. 9a - 1984)
College: Michigan State
NFL Experience: 3
Birthdate: October 4, 1961
Birthplace: Columbia City, Indiana
Residence: Fort Wayne, Indiana

Pro Career: Within a two week period in 1985, Auer went from jobless to being a started on the Chiefs offensive line . . . That valuable experience should give him an advantage in securing a spot on the Chiefs roster in '86, his third NFL season . . . After making the squad as a rookie in '84, he was waived on the final roster cutdown in '85, but then was recalled prior to the sixth game when Matt Herkenhoff was placed on injured reserve . . . Didn't play his first week, saw some action his second week (Rams), then became the starting left guard when Brad Budde suffered a season-ending injury . . . Started six consecutive games (Denver through Seattle), but a sprained ankle sidelined him for the final three contests . . . Can play both guard and tackle, although he spent his entire '85 action at left guard . . . Saw limited offensive line duty as a rookie in '84, although he played all 16 games on kicking teams . . . Most lengthy game experience that year came at Seattle the 10th week when he played most of the second half at left guard . . . Was a ninth round draft choice by the Chiefs in '84.

College/Personal: Played mostly as a tackle while lettering four years at Michigan State . . . Was the starting left tackle as a senior in 1983 and was voted winner of the Gerald R. Ford Award as the Spartans outstanding lineman . . . Began collegiate career as a tight end and caught one pass as a freshman in 1980 . . . Attended Elmhurst H.S. in Fort Wayne, Indiana . . . Earned first team all-state honors at tight end and second team credit at defensive end in addition to being the team's MVP . . . Graduated from MSU with a degree in packaging engineering . . . Tackle/Guard Ht: 6-4 Wt: 281

How Acquired: Free Agent (1983)
College: Wake Forest
NFL Experience: 5 (4th with Chiefs)
Birthdate: December 31, 1959
Birthplace: Camp Le Jeune, North Carolina
Residence: Massapequa, New York

Pro Career: Has become the Chiefs most versatile offensive lineman since joining the team midway through the 1983 season . . . Has played every offensive line position except center and has finished the season in a starting capacity in two of his three years in Kansas City. 1985: Started games at both guard spots and saw consfderable action early in the season at both tackle spots . . . Started the final five games of '85, the last three at left guard (Brad Budde and Scott Auer injuries) and the two before that at right guard (replaced Bob Olderman) . . . Played most of the Week 5 game vs. the Raiders at right tackle (David Lutz injury) and most of the following game at San Diego at left tackle (Matt Herkenhoff injury) . . . Played in all 16 games and was one of few offensive linemen to remain healthy all season. 1984: Versatility began to show in '84, his first full year with the Chiefs as he saw substantial action at both right tackle and right guard . . . Alternated with Jim Rourke the first half of the season at right tackle after Lutz was sidelined in the opener . . . Filled in some for starting right guard Tom Condon the second half of the season . . . Played in the first 14 games before missing the final two contests because of the mumps. 1983: Joined the Chiefs as a free agent at the halfway point when Condon was put on IR . . . Quickly proved his worth to the team by starting the final four contests at left tackle when Herkenhoff was injured

. . . Played in six of the eight games after coming to Kansas City . . . Had been released by the Giants earlier in '83. At New York: Was a 10th round draft choice of the Giants in 1982 . . . Made the squad as a rookie and played in one of the nine games during the shortened season.

College/Personal: Was a starting tackle for John Mackovic at Wake Forest . . . Won All-ACC honors as a senior in '81 . . . Attended Massapequa H.S. in Long Island, N.Y., winning letters in football, basketball and track . . . Brother of Gary Baldinger, the Chiefs ninth round draft choice this year, and Brian Baldinger, a center/guard with the Dallas Cowboys . . . Is the only current trio of brothers in the NFL . . . Graduated from WFU with a history degree . . . Full name: Richard L. Baldinger . . . Single.

MIKE BELL • 99

Defensive End Ht: 6-4 Wt: 250

How Acquired: Draft (No. 1a - 1979)
College: Colorado State
NFL Experience: 7
Birthdate: August 30, 1957
Birthplace: Wichita, Kansas
Residence: Overland Park, Kansas

Pro Career: Finished his sixth pro season on a leave of absence from the team due to non-football related matters . . . Has been one of the league's top pass rushers throughout his career, netting 41½ sacks, an average of seven per season . . . That total ranks second in Chiefs history to teammate Art Still (since individual sacks began being recorded in '73) . . . Career log reads: 77 games, 68 starts, 333 total tackles, 41½ sacks and six fumble recoveries . . . Has been a starter since midway through his rookie season of 1979, when he was a No. 1 draft choice and second player overall in his draft class next to Tom Cousineau. 1985: Missed the final five games after being granted the paid leave of absence and was the team's leading sacker at the time . . . Starting the first 11 games, he had six sacks, 23 pressures (led team in '85), and 49 tackles (33 solos) . . . Made a season-high 11 tackles vs. Pittsburgh and two sacks at Houston. 1984: Best season as a pro, despite nagging knee injury the second half of the season . . . Was voted as an alternate to the AFC Pro Bowl team after recording a career-most 13½ sacks . . . All of his sacks came in the first 12 games, third in NFL at the time, but finished eighth in AFC and 11th in NFL . . . Named AFC Defensive-Player-of-the-Week for a three-sack effort vs. Anthony Munoz at Cincy the second week . . . Started 14 games and played in 15, going on IR for the finale. 1979-83: Broke into the starting lineup for the final four games of his rookie season and finished with 35 tackles and 5½ sacks . . . Missed five games at mid-season due to a strained knee . . . Missed nearly the entire '80 campaign after undergoing surgery to repair a bicep muscle in the shoulder area which separated from the bone in the second game (wasn't given year of NFL experience) . . . Started all 16 games in '81 and was the team's third-leading tackler with 77 and second in sacks with five . . . Was injured throughout the nine-game '82 season, missing three full games and parts of three others . . . Finished with 27 tackles in six contests . . . Started all 16 games in '83 and led the Chiefs with 10 sacks, ranking seventh in the conference . . . Selected as first alternate for the AFC Pro Bowl team . . . Had three sacks vs. Cincy and finished with 75 tackles for the season.

College/Personal: Enjoyed a brilliant four-year career at Colorado State, but knee surgery following his senior year kept him from playing in any post-season all-star games . . . Was a first team All-America selection by The Sporting News and second team by AP and UPI . . . Racked up 36 career sacks at CSU . . . Twin brother, Mark, has played with several NFL teams, most recently with the Colts . . . Attended Bishop Carroll H.S. in Wichita, where he began playing football as a junior . . . Majored in business . . . Full name: Mike J. Bell . . . Single.

TODD BLACKLEDGE • 14

Quarterback Ht: 6-3 Wt: 225

How Acquired: Draft (No. 1 - 1983)
College: Penn State
NFL Experience: 4
Birthdate: February 25, 1961
Birthplace: Canton, Ohio
Residence: Lee's Summit, Missouri

Pro Career: Has earned the Chiefs No. 1 quarterback job in 1986 after maturing in the NFL mainly as a backup during his first three pro seasons . . . Has started 14 career games, including the final five of '85, but has primarily played behind Bill Kenney . . . Was John Mackovic's first draft choice as head coach of the Chiefs, the second quarterback taken in the famed "Class of 1983" . . . Mackovic vowed to "bring him along slowly" in his sophisticated passing scheme and has done just that . . . After gaining more confidence and control each season, he was proclaimed ready to be the Chiefs starting field general by Mackovic this past May . . . Has displayed outstanding leadership qualities thus far in his young career, a key factor that has always made him a highly-regarded NFL prospect . . . Has led the Chiefs to a 7-7 record in his 14 starts and has compiled a 59.7 career quarterback rating . . . Has attempted 500 career passes and completed 253 (50.6 percent) for 3,156 yards, 15 touchdowns and 25 interceptions . . . Suffered a dislocated thumb on his throwing hand in last year's season finale and surgery was required, but it has healed and he's been throwing since April. 1985: Started the final five games, after Kenney suffered numerous injuries, and led the Chiefs to three wins, plus a last-minute, one-point loss to Denver in possibly the best-played game of the group . . . First start of those final five games was vs. Indianapolis and he helped the team snap a seven-game losing streak by throwing for a season-high 246 yards (16 of 31) and one touchdown and scrambled five times for 21 yards in a 20-7 Chiefs victory . . . After a loss to Seattle, he came back and beat Atlanta, 38-10, by throwing for 219 yards (11 of 19) and a career-best three touchdown passes . . . One of those TDs was a career-long 70-yard completion to Stephone Paige . . . After the narrow loss at Denver, he was on his way to a career-best performance in the finale until suffering a dislocated right thumb early in the second quarter; already had thrown for 143 yards (4 of 7), including a 56-yard touchdown to Paige . . . Also started the seventh game of '85 vs. the L.A. Rams when Kenney was injured, completing 14 of 32 passes for 161 yards and throwing a team-record six interceptions in a 16-0 loss that he called the "worst athletic experience" of his career . . . Played in 14 games and started six, compiling a 3-3 record . . . His non-starting playing time was as follows: final 7:50 of opener (no attempts), one play in the second game when Kenney was shaken, just over a quarter in home Seattle game (three attempts and two interceptions), the final series at San Diego (one of four for six yards), one down in home Denver game when Kenney was injured (team scored only TD of game on that play), and the final quarter at San Francisco (10 of 20 for 77 yards) . . . Final stats were 172 attempts, 86 completions, 1,190 yards, six TDs and 14 interceptions . . . The mobile QB also rushed for 97 yards on 17 carries . . . His QB rating for the season was 50.5, but it was 77.6 in his final five starts. 1984: Was the Chiefs starting quarterback for half of the '84 season and despite not compiling great statistics, led the team to a 4-4 record in his eight starts . . . After making just four token appearances as a rookie in '83, he was suddenly thrust into the limelight when Kenney broke a thumb in the final preseason game . . . Composed youngster stepped right in and led the Chiefs to back-to-back victories on the road to open the regular season . . . Adding to the pressure, his first NFL start came at Pittsburgh, where his father was an assistant coach and in the state where he gained collegiate fame at Penn State . . . Led the Chiefs to scores on each of their first three possessions, including a one-yard run by himself for the first touchdown, and completed 19 of 36 passes for 170 yards and one TD in a 37-27 victory . . . Repeat performance the next Sunday at Cincinnati resulted in a 27-22 Chiefs triumph as he connected on 18 of 35 pass attempts for 280 yards and two touchdowns . . . Two weeks later he set career highs with 48 pass attempts, 23 completions and 295 yards in a loss at Denver . . . The 48 attempts rank as the second highest single-game total by an individual in Chiefs history . . . Started the first seven games before Kenney returned in the second half of Week 7 vs. San Diego . . . Did not play in five of the next seven games, but replaced an injured Kenney in the second quarter at Seattle and started his eighth game the next week vs. Houston . . . Played the final quarter Week 15 vs. Seattle and played most of the second half in the season-ending win at San Diego . . . Final totals were 147 completions in 294 pass attempts for 1,707 yards, six touchdowns, 11 interceptions and a QB rating of 59.2 in his 11 outings . . . Gained 102 rushing yards on 18 carries. 1983: Spent most of his rookie season learning Mackovic's offensive system from the sideline, but was impressive in four playing stints . . . Accuracy and composure were apparent in his appearances, as he completed 20 of 34 pass attempts (58.8 percent) for 259 yards, three touchdowns and no interceptions . . . His QB rating was 112.0 . . . First NFL regular season action came Week Five vs. St. Louis when the Chiefs held a comfortable lead in the fourth quarter . . . Drove the Chiefs 60 yards in eight plays in his first series, completing four of five passes for 48 yards in eight plays, including a 15-yard touchdown pass to Willie Scott to cap the drive . . . His second action came two weeks later in the final two minutes vs. the N.Y. Giants, but he did not attempt a pass . . . Third appearance came at Dallas in the fourth quarter and he completed 10 of 19 passes for 95 yards and one TD . . . Combined with Kenney in that game to set the Chiefs record for team pass attempts (59), completions (33) and passing first downs (21) . . . Most extensive action came in the finale, when he played the final 1½ quarters in sub-zero weather, completing six of 10 passes for 116 yards and one TD . . . Was the seventh player taken in the '83 draft, the second (next to John Elway) of seven quarterbacks selected in the first round.

College/Personal: Capped a brilliant collegiate career by leading Penn State to its first-ever national championship and finishing sixth in balloting for the Heisman Trophy . . . Established 28 Penn State records during his three years as quarterback: six career, 11 season, 10 game and one bowl mark . . . Technically had one year of eligibility remaining when he was drafted because of being redshirted his first year with a broken hand . . . Three-year career totals included 341 completions, 658 attempts, 4,812 yards, 41 touchdowns and 41 interceptions . . . Also completed 32 of 58 passes for 520 yards in three bowl games . . . Sensational senior campaign vaulted him to the top of his draft class, connecting on 161 of 292 passes for 2,218 yards, 22 TDs and 14 thefts, leading Penn state to an 11-1 record and national title by defeating Georgia in the Sugar Bowl . . . Was named MVP in that game by throwing for a school bowl record 228 yards . . . Nittany Lions were 29-4 in games Blackledge started, including 13 come-from-behind wins since he won the starting job the fourth game of 1980 . . . Was winner of distinguished Davey O'Brien National Quarterback Award in 1982 for academic, athletic and leadership qualities . . . Won second team All-America honors from College and Pro Football Newsweekly and honorable mention from AP, UPI and The Sporting News as a senior, plus was a COSIDA first team Academic All-America . . . Graduated Phi Beta Kappa in speech communications . . . Attended Hoover H.S. in Canton, Ohio, which is the same area John Mackovic and former Chiefs quarterback Len Dawson went to school . . . His father, Ron, is in his fifth year as offensive line coach for the Steelers . . . Interests include golf, swimming, basketball and church-related activities . . . Makes regular visits to kids at Children's Mercy Hospital in Kansas City . . . Full name: Todd Alan Blackledge . . . Single.

JERRY BLANTON • 57

Linebacker Ht: 6-1 Wt: 229

How Acquired: Free Agent (1979)
College: Kentucky
NFL Experience: 8
Birthdate: December 20, 1956
Birthplace: Toledo, Ohio
Residence: Lee's Summit, Missouri

Pro Career: Still plays an active role in the Chiefs defensive scheme, although it's now in a reserve capacity after four years as a starter at inside linebacker . . . Joined the Chiefs in 1979 as a free agent and worked his way into a starting role by '81 and led the team in tackles in '83 . . . Was replaced in the lineup in '85 by Scott Radecic . . . Has played in 93 Chiefs games and started 49 in his seven seasons . . . Has compiled 474 total career tackles (291 unassisted). 1985: Finished seventh on the team in tackles with 72 (45 unassisted) while playing in all 16 games . . . Started three contests when Gary Spani was injured (San Francisco, Atlanta, Denver) . . . Was the team's top tackler in two games — nine vs. San Francisco and seven the next week vs. Indianapolis . . . Also posted eight vs. Atlanta . . . Had five or more stops in 10 games . . . His 72 tackles were the third-most of his career. 1984: Came on strong during the second half of '84 after opening the season on injured reserve . . . Registered 79 tackles (48 solos) despite playing in just 10 games and starting the final nine . . . Missed training camp, the entire preseason and the first six weeks of the regular season with a disc problem in his back . . . Recorded 14 tackles in his first start of the season vs. the Jets at New York . . . Matched that season-high figure five weeks later in the same stadium against the N.Y. Giants . . . Made his first NFL interception Week 15 in a 34-7 victory over the Seahawks. 1983: Most productive season as a pro was in '83, when he rolled up a career-high 136 total tackles to lead the team . . . Started all 16 games and was especially important early in the season when Spani was injured, notching 45 tackles in a three game span: a career-high 17 in a Monday night game vs. San Diego, 12 the following Sunday at Washington, then 16 at Miami . . . Had over 10 tackles in six games and led the team each time. 1982: Started all nine games and was the Chiefs third-leading tackler with 60. 1981: Played well when healthy in '81, making 66 tackles in nine games . . . Missed the first six games after suffering a strained knee in the final preseason game, then missed the season finale after re-injuring the same knee against the same team, Miami. 1979-80: Signed with the Chiefs as a free agent in '79 and was one of the club's best kicking teams performers as a rookie and in '80, playing in all 16 games both years . . . Backed up Whitney Paul at outside linebacker his first season, then moved to an inside spot in '80 and earned a starting berth the final three games . . . Finished that campaign with 39 total tackles. Pre-Chiefs: Was an 11th round draft choice of the Buffalo Bills in 1978 . . . After being released, he played briefly with Hamilton of the CFL before reporting to the Chiefs.

Personal/College: Played on the defensive line with Art Still at Kentucky and was an all-Southeast Conference performer as a senior . . . Graduated with a degree in criminology . . . Attended DeVilbiss H.S. in Toledo, where he was a fullback and linebacker . . . Enjoys horseback riding . . . Is a member of the Chiefs Academic Corps, which works with inner-city high school students in Kansas City . . . Full name: Gerald Blanton . . . Single.

BRAD BUDDE • 66

Guard Ht: 6-4 Wt: 271

How Acquired: Draft (No. 1 - 1980)
College: Southern California
NFL Experience: 7
Birthdate: May 9, 1958
Birthplace: Detroit, Michigan
Residence: Laguna Beach, California

Pro Career: Has been the Chiefs starting left guard since late in his rookie season and has now been with the team longer than any other offensive lineman . . . Bob Rush is the only Chiefs offensive lineman with more NFL experience (nine years) . . . Has played in 76 games and started 61 since being drafted No. 1 in 1980 . . . His only missed games were because of injuries in '83 (four games) and '85 (nine games). 1985: Started the first seven games in his usual spot until a strained shoulder sidelined him for the remainder of the season . . . Injured the shoulder against the L.A. Rams and when he didn't start the next Sunday, it broke a 23-game streak of games started. 1984: Started all 16 games and played more downs than any other lineman . . . Helped the Chiefs attain the lowest sack ratio in team history and fourth-best in the NFL that year. 1983: Made a smooth transition to John Mackovic's pass-oriented offense, then suffered the first injury of his pro career . . . Sprained his left knee vs. Dallas and spent the final four games on injured reserve, but surgery wasn't required . . . That broke a streak of 38 consecutive games in which he had started . . . Showed versatility that year by starting the N.Y. Giants game at left tackle because of injuries to two Chiefs tackles. 1981-82: Showed great improvement during his second and third seasons and started every game in both years. 1980: Came to Kansas City with much fanfare, not only because he was the club's No. 1 draft choice and the top collegiate lineman in the country, but also because his father, Ed, had been an All-Pro guard for the Chiefs during his career from 1963-76 . . . It marked the first time in pro football history that a father and son had been drafted in the first round by the same team . . . Played all 16 games his rookie year . . . First start of his career came in the fifth game, when Bob Simmons was sidelined . . . Next start came in the next to last game of that season and he has maintained the spot ever since.

College/Personal: Enjoyed a brilliant four-year career at USC, capping it by winning the Lombardi Award as the top collegiate lineman of the year . . . Became just the second offensive lineman to win the award . . . Was a consensus first team All-America selection and was named UPI's offensive lineman of the year . . . During his four years, the Trojans gained three Rose Bowl berths and won all three . . . A three-time All-Pacific 10 selection before becoming the 11th player chosen in the '80 draft . . . Was a high school All-America at Rockhurst H.S. in Kansas City, where he played both offense and defense . . . Was a water boy as a youngster at the Chiefs training camp in Liberty, Mo. . . . Wore his father's jersey number (71) at USC, but selected No. 66 when he joined the Chiefs because veteran Dave Lindstrom already had 71 . . . Graduated from USC with a degree in public administration and is working on a master's degree in sports psychology . . . Has played semi-pro volleyball . . . Has done charity work with abused children . . . Full name: Brad Edward Budde . . . Married, wife Nicky, five-year-old daughter Sasha, one-year-old son Beau.

Pro Career: Has received little notoriety on the national level for his accomplishments, but a highlight of his consistent five-year career came in 1985 when he was voted as the Chiefs Most Valuable Player . . . Has been the team's starting strong safety since early in his rookie season of 1981 . . . Is the only defensive back to start each of the last five seasons for the Chiefs and he ties Deron Cherry for longest term of NFL experience among the secondary performers . . . Has been overshadowed a bit by the fact that at least one Chiefs defensive back has been voted to the AFC Pro Bowl team each of his five years . . . Has played in 68 of a possible 73 games with the Chiefs and has started 65 . . . Has made 12 career interceptions and recorded 327 total tackles (231 solos). 1985: His MVP season, as voted by his teammates, came as a result of his respected leadership as much as his performance on the field . . . Posted the second-highest tackle total of his career, 70 (49 solos), and added one interception . . . His theft came in a Week 15, one-point loss at Denver in a nationally-televised contest . . . Probably his best overall game was the Thursday night, national TV victory over the Raiders the second week, when he led the Chiefs with 10 tackles and forced a fumble . . . Also led the team in tackles in the season-ending win over San Diego with nine . . . Tied for the lead in sacks among Chiefs defensive backs in '85 with two . . . Started 14 games and played in 15 . . . A bruised thigh sustained in the fourth outing of the campaign kept him out of action the following week at L.A. (breaking a 20-game starting streak) and limited his playing time to one quarter the next Sunday at San Diego. 1984: Started all 16 games, finishing with a career-high 92 tackles (65 solos) and intercepting two passes . . . First theft led to a go-ahead touchdown in a 22-20 loss to the Raiders and his second came the following week at Denver . . . Top tackling effort came vs. the N.Y. Giants, when he registered a career single-game best of 13 total stops . . . Made the fourth fumble recovery of his career in a 16-13 Week 14 win over Denver. 1983: Matched his career best of four interceptions despite missing four games because of a pulled hamstring . . . The injury kept him from being completely healthy the final 10 games and he didn't play in the final three contests . . . Played and started 12 games, but had a 29-game starting streak snapped vs. Houston . . . Equalled his single-game best by making two interceptions in the final two minutes of the season-opening win over Seattle . . . Was credited with 46 tackles (30 solos) and recovered two fumbles at Miami. 1982: Started all nine games, intercepting one pass and leading the squad with nine pass breakups . . . Recorded 50 tackles (35 solos), with a season high of 12 vs. the Rams . . . Blocked a field goal and punt that year on kicking teams. 1981: Was the Chiefs third pick of the third round in the '81 draft, coming on a choice obtained from the Rams in a 1980 trade for Water White . . . Appeared in all 16 games as a rookie . . . Started the second game of the season, then broke into the lineup permanently in the final 13 games . . . Finished with four interceptions, which still ties as a career best, and 69 tackles (52 solos) . . . Was voted winner of the Mack Lee Hill Award for his rookie achievements . . . Picked off two passes vs. New England, which still ties his career best . . . Made the Chiefs only interception return for a touchdown that year, picking off a Jim Zorn pass and racing 46 yards in a win over Seattle . . . Was used occasionally on kickoff returns, running back five for 91 yards, an 18.2 average . . . Burruss and the late Joe Delaney were the only rookie starters for the Chiefs in '81.

College/Personal: Was a four-year starter at Maryland, totaling nine interceptions and 160 tackles during his career . . . Was a first team All-ACC selection and an honorable mention All-America choice by AP . . . Started four bowl games for the Terrapins: Cotton, Hall of Fame, Sun and Tangerine . . . Attended Charlottesville (Va.) H.S., where he was a prep All-America in football and track . . . Is an avid hunter and fisherman . . . Graduated with a general studies degree . . . Full name: Lloyd Earl Burruss, Jr. . . . Married, wife Pamela, two daughters, Jessica (3) and Danielle (1).

CARLOS CARSON • 88

Wide Receiver Ht: 5-11 Wt: 180

How Acquired: Draft (No. 5a - 1980)
College: Louisana State
NFL Experience: 7
Birthdate: December 28, 1958
Birthplace: Lake Worth, Florida
Residence: Grandview, Missouri

Pro Career: Has been the Chiefs No. 1 pass receiving target since John Mackovic's pass-oriented offense arrived in '83, becoming one of the league's premier wide receivers . . . Has gained 3,272 pass receiving yards in those three years, more than all but five NFL receivers during that period, including the Chiefs first back-to-back 1,000 yard seasons in '83 and '84 . . . Is one of just four players in Chiefs history to gain over 4,000 career receiving yards, as his 4,013 ranks fourth behind Otis Taylor

(7,306), Henry Marshall (5,767) and Chris Burford (5,525) . . . Ranks fifth in career receptions with 223, behind Taylor (410), Burford (391), Marshall (360) and Ed Podolak (288) . . . Set the team record for single-season receptions (80) and receiving yards (1,351) in 1983 . . . Has recorded 13 games with 100 or more receiving yards, ranking second on club charts next to Taylor's 21 . . . All but one have come the last three years . . . Has been the Chiefs leader in either receiving yards ('83 and '84) or receptions ('83 and '85) each of the last three seasons . . . Totals for past three years are 184 receptions, 3,272 yards and 15 touchdowns . . . Career average per receptions is 18.0 yards . . . Has been a starter since 1982. 1985: Led the team in receptions with 47 and finished second to Stephone Paige in yardage with 843, despite missing most of three games . . . Was off to the best start of his career until a minor knee injury in the third game limited his playing time for three weeks . . . Led the NFL in receiving yardage after two games with 291 yards on 13 receptions . . . Opened the campaign with the best game of his career, snatching eight passes for 173 yards, including touchdown receptions of 37 and 19 yards . . . The 173 yards set a personal best while the eight catches and two TDs tied career bests . . . Against the Raiders four nights later in a prime time victory, he grabbed five passes for 118 yards and one touchdown . . . That marked the third time of his career that he produced consecutive 100-yard games, the first Chiefs player to do so (Taylor had two) . . . Those were the 12th and 13th 100-yard games of his career and the last of the '85 season . . . A potentially great year was hampered the next week when he sprained his left knee early in the game at Miami . . . Didn't play the following week vs. Seattle, snapping a 46-game starting streak, and played only several downs the next week at San Diego . . . Had caught a pass in 44 consecutive contests before leaving the Miami game . . . Best games the rest of the season were six catches for 87 yards at Houston and six for 92 yards at Denver . . . Led the team in receptions or receiving yards in nine games . . . Caught four touchdown passes to bring career total to 18 . . . Averaged 3.1 receptions and 56.2 yards in his 15 games (started 14). 1984: Became the first player in Chiefs history to gain over 1,000 receiving yards in consecutive seasons . . . Led the team with 1,078 yards, which ranked fourth in team records for a single season, behind his record '83 total and two Taylor years . . . Ranked seventh in the AFC in '84 and 11th in the NFL . . . Yardage came on 57 receptions, second to Marshall's 62 . . . Gained 100 or more yards in four games, second-most in team annals for a season, behind his six in '83 and Taylor's six in '66 . . . All came in the final 10 games: 7-165 vs. San Diego, 7-131 vs. Tampa Bay, 5-153 at N.Y. Giants and 7-126 the next week vs. Denver . . . Scored four touchdowns, three coming in the final four games . . . Caught four passes over 50 yards long, including a career-long 57-yarder in the finale at San Diego . . . Averaged 3.6 receptions and 67.4 yards per game and 19.9 yards per catch while starting all 16 contests . . . Caught at least one pass in every game . . . Compiled more receiving yardage in '84 and '83 than any other AFC player (2,429). 1983: Established himself among the NFL's receiving elite, recording the most productive receiving season in Chiefs history and being voted as a starter for the AFC Pro Bowl squad . . . Set Chiefs season records for receptions and receiving yardage: his 80 catches shattered a 21-year-old record of 68 receptions by Burford in '62 and his 1,351 yards broke Taylor's '66 club mark of 1,297 yards . . . His 1,351 yards were most in the AFC in '83, second-best in the NFL next to Mike Quick, and was the 13th best performance in league history . . . His 80 receptions were fifth in the NFL and second among wide receivers, behind Tim Smith . . . Caught passes for over 100 yards in six games that year, tying Quick for most in the league and tying Taylor's club record of six from '66 . . . His century-mark games were 7-165 at San Diego, 7-149 at Seattle, 7-135 at Dallas, 5-103 vs. Raiders, 6-109 at Washington and 7-104 vs. Seattle . . . Caught a career-high eight passes at Houston . . . Caught seven TD passes, the most by a Chiefs wide receiver at that time since Taylor's seven in '71 . . . Threw a 48-yard TD pass to Marshall in a Monday night game vs. San Diego for a go-ahead score late in the game . . . Averaged five catches and 84.4 yards per game for the season. 1982: Entered starting lineup for the first time in his career, opening in six of the nine games of the shortened season . . . Was the Chiefs second-leading receiver with 27 receptions for 494 yards, a team-leading 18.3 average and two touchdowns . . . Top yardage game was a

110-yard effort on three catches vs. Denver. 1981: Was off to a good start as a reserve before breaking his left leg in the third game . . . Caught four passes for 101 yards in the first three games, including a 53-yard touchdown that helped the Chiefs upset the Steelers in the opener . . . Missed the next 11 games before returning for the final two contests . . . Started the finale in place of the injured J.T. Smith . . . Returned 10 kickoffs for a 22.7 average. 1980: Served primarily as a kick return specialist and finished fifth in the AFC with a 22.9 average on 40 returns . . . That was only one shy of the Chiefs record for most returns in a season held by Noland Smith (1967) . . . His 917 yardage total was second in team history behind Smith's 1967 total of 1,148 yards . . . Also caught five passes for 68 yards as a rookie . . . Was the Chiefs fifth round draft choice in '80 on a choice obtained from the Colts.

College/Personal: Made 89 receptions in three years at LSU . . . Set NCAA record in '77 by catching six consecutive passes for touchdowns, including five in one game . . . Majored in physical education . . . Attended Leonard H.S. in Lake Worth, Fla. . . . Enjoys fishing . . . Full name: Carlos A. Carson . . . Married, wife Wilma, four-year-old daughter Brooke and one-year-old son Maurio.

How Acquired: Free Agent (1981)
College: Rutgers
NFL Experience: 6
Birthdate: September 12, 1959
Birthplace: Palmyra, New Jersey
Residence: Kansas City, Missouri

Pro Career: Has put together a remarkable NFL story, becoming one of the most feared defensive backs in the league the past three years after entering the pro ranks as a free agent punter in 1981 . . . Has made seven interceptions in each of the last three seasons and has played in the Pro Bowl each year . . . His 21 interceptions in the last three years are more than any other player in the league during that period . . . Has started all 48 games in those three seasons, giving him the team's longest current streak of consecutive games started . . . Has been the Chiefs top tackler during those three years, notching over 100 tackles each campaign and a total of 372 . . . Played as a reserve for two years before assuming a starting role in 1983 and gaining instant stardom . . . Five year career totals are 68 games, 48 starts, 22 interceptions, one touchdown and 382 tackles (240 unassisted). 1985: Earned his third consecutive Pro Bowl berth, second time as the starting free safety, after posting his third straight seven-interception season . . . Also led the Chiefs in tackles by recording 85 solo stops and 134 total stops, both career bests . . . Tied a club and NFL record by intercepting four passes vs. Seattle in a Week 4 win . . . That matched 15 other players in league history, including former Chiefs Bobby Hunt (vs. Houston in '64) and Bobby Ply (vs. San Diego in '62) . . . Scored his first NFL touchdown vs. Pittsburgh when he picked off a David Woodley pass and returned it 47 yards, the longest return by a Chiefs defender in '85 . . . His other thefts were in the opener vs. New Orleans and in the Week 13 rematch vs. Seattle . . . Five of his seven interceptions came against the Seahawks . . . His seven interceptions tied for third in the AFC (Albert Lewis and Eugene Daniel had eight) and for fourth in the NFL (Everson Walls had nine) . . . Posted 10 or more tackles in five games, including four in a row, with a high of 13 in the home Denver game . . . Averaged 8.4 tackles per game and had at least five in every contest . . . Started all 16 games for the third straight year . . . In addition to Pro Bowl honors, he was named to AFC first teams by UPI and Football News and to All-NFL second teams by AP and NEA. 1984: Proved that his spectacular '83 season wasn't a fluke, earning his second trip to the Pro Bowl after another seven-interception season . . . The seven thefts tied him for third in the AFC (Kenny Easley had 10 and Dave Brown had 8) and for fourth in the NFL (Tom Flynn had 9) . . . His 140 return yards were a career high and the most by a Chiefs player since 1980 . . . Also finished as the Chiefs second-leading tackler with 128 (78 solos), three behind Art Still . . . Tied single-game career high by picking off two passes vs. the Raiders the third week . . . Other thefts came vs. Cleveland (a game-saver in the final minute that he returned a career-long 67 yards), at Pittsburgh, vs. San Diego, at N.Y. Giants and vs. Seattle . . . Made a career-most 15 tackles (11 solos) vs. the Giants and hit double figures in tackles five times . . . Another game-saving play came at Cincinnati, when he forced a fumble in the final minute . . . Was named to the All-NFL first team by AP and College and Pro Football Weekly, the All-AFC first team by UPI and the All-NFL second team by NEA. 1983: Vaulted from a backup defensive back to one of league's best safeties in '83 and capped that brilliant season by being voted as the AFC's starting free safety in the Pro Bowl . . . Won the Chiefs starting free safety job in training camp when All-Pro Gary Barbaro was an unsigned free agent . . . Took full advantage of the opportunity and played consistently all season long, starting all 16 games and leading the league in interceptions most of the season . . . Finished with seven, which ranked third in the AFC (Ken Riley and Vann McElroy had eight) and sixth in the NFL . . . Also had three thefts called back because of a penalty away from the play . . . Picked off two passes vs. St. Louis, the first double-interception game of his career . . . Was the Chiefs second-leading tackler with 110 (71 solos), behind Jerry Blanton's 136 . . . Had 1½ sacks vs. Cincinnati, the only sacks of his career . . . Recovered two fumbles and forced two others . . . Blocked a field goal attempt in a Chiefs victory over St. Louis . . . Named to the College and Pro Football Newsweekly All-Pro Team, the All-AFC first team by UPI, and Pro Football Weekly and the AP All-Pro second team. 1982: Served as the Chiefs nickel back . . . Missed at least parts of four games due to a sprained ankle early in the season and a separated shoulder late in the year . . . Played in seven games and made four tackles and no interceptions. 1981: Signed with the Chiefs as a free agent punter in the summer of '81 . . . When it became apparent he wouldn't beat out incumbent Bob Grupp, he switched to the secondary during preseason . . . Was released on the final cutdown, but rejoined the club on Sept. 23 when the Chiefs made several roster moves due to injuries . . . Played in 13 games and made the first interception of his pro career in a victory over the Raiders . . . Was credited with six tackles.

College/Personal: Was a strong safety and punter at Rutgers, earning AP All-East honors in 1979-80 . . . Attended Palmyra H.S. in New Jersey, where he was a quarterback and played basketball and baseball . . . Is a member of the Chiefs Academic Corps, a group of players that work with inner city high school students . . . Donates money to Cystic Fibrosis for each tackle he makes . . . Earned a degree in biology . . . Enjoys golf, reading and music . . . Full name: Deron Leigh Cherry . . . Married, wife Faith, one-year-old son Deron II.

College: North Carolina
NFL Experience: 5
Birthdate: December 26, 1958
Birthplace: Morehead City, N.C.
Residence: Grandview, Missouri

Pro Career: Has started every game at outside linebacker the last two years and has been the team's top blitzer during that time . . . Has developed steadily since being the team's second round draft choice in 1982, playing in all 57 games . . . Has recorded 168 tackles (96 solos) in his four years, with 151 (and 85 solos) coming in the last two seasons . . . Seven of his 9½ career sacks have also been made the last two years . . . Has started the last 33 games, dating back to the final outing of '83 . . . Began on the right side, but now plays the left. 1985: Was one of five Chiefs defensive players to start every game, finishing with 61 tackles (38 solos) and 2½ sacks . . . Also tied for the team lead with two fumble recoveries, one each at Miami and at Denver . . . All of his sacks came in the final five contests . . . Registered five or more tackles in six games with a high of seven in a Thursday night, nationally televised victory over the Raiders . . . Was credited with six quarterback pressures. 1984: Played a vital role in an improved Chiefs defense, nailing down a career-high 90 tackles (47 solos) and helping boost the pass rush to record levels as a blitzer, making 4½ sacks . . . Also made the first two interceptions of his NFL career (vs. Cleveland and Seattle) . . . Started all 16 games, the first 13 on the right side and the final three on the left side . . . Top single-game tackling output of his career came in the second meeting vs. the Raiders, when he netted 12 . . . His 4½ sacks were the most by a Chiefs linebacker since Whitney Paul's eight in 1979 . . . Best single-game sack total was 1½ vs. San Diego . . . Made the Chiefs only block of the year, batting down a PAT attempt in the home opener vs. the Raiders. 1983: Saw limited action in the first half of his "sophomore" season, but played more in the final seven games and cracked the starting lineup in the finale, replacing Charles Jackson . . . Recovered a fumble in that game to set up a touchdown in a 48-17 Chiefs victory over Denver . . . Made 14 of his season total of 15 tackles in the final seven games, including all of his 2½ sacks. 1982: Played in all nine games as a rookie, but mostly on kicking teams . . . Made just two tackles in regular play, plus six kicking team stops . . . Broke the fibula in his foot in the '82 finale vs. the N.Y. Jets.

College/Personal: Started three years at North Carolina, recording 166 career tackles, including 27 behind the line of scrimmage, and was one of the top linebackers in his draft class . . . Teamed with Lawrence Taylor, now an All-Pro for the N.Y. Giants, in 1979 and '80 to give UNC a tremendous outside linebacking duo . . . Was a starter in the Tar Heels' 1979 and 1981 Gator Bowl victories and their '80 Bluebonnet Bowl win . . . RICK DONNALLEY • 51

Center Ht: 6-2 Wt: 260

How Acquired: Trade (1986 - Washington)
College: North Carolina
NFL Experience: 5 (1st with Chiefs)
Birthdate: December 11, 1958
Birthplace: Wilmington, Delaware
Residence: Reston, Virginia

Pro Career: Acquired by the Chiefs in a draft-day trade this year with the Washington Redskins in exchange for a sixth round draft choice . . . Has been a part-time starter the past three years, the last two at Washington and the year prior to that at Pittsburgh . . . Was drafted by the Steelers in the third round in '81 and played for them until being traded to the Redskins in '84 . . . Has played in 49 regular season games and started 27 in four NFL seasons and he's played in two playoff games and started one . . . Has played and started at both center and guard, but will primarily be a center with the Chiefs. At Washington: Was the starting center in 20 of the last 24 games over the past two seasons with the Redskins . . . In 1985, he started 12 games despite breaking two bones in his left hand in a Week 11 game vs. the N.Y. Giants . . . Wearing a cast, he finished that game, didn't start the next — although he played most of the second half — then started the following week . . . The broken hand caused an imbalance in his blocking which resulted in a sprained shoulder and he missed the final three games of the season . . . Selected as Redskin Offensive Player of the Game vs. Houston . . . With Donnalley in the middle, the Redskins ranked second in the NFL in rushing and time of possession in '85 next to the Bears . . . Gained starting job in final eight games of '84 when Redskins All-Pro center Jeff Bostic tore a knee . . . Also started the NFC playoff game vs. Chicago . . . Was voted Offensive Player of the Game vs. Atlanta on Week 10 . . . Was acquired by Washington in '84 from Pittsburgh for a fifth round draft choice. At Pittsburgh: Spent his entire first year on injured reserve after breaking his right thumb during preseason . . . Played in five games during the shortened '82 season, then developed quickly during an active '83 campaign . . . Earned his first pro start (replacing Steve Courson) in a Monday night win at Cincinnati . . . Started six games in a row, five at right guard and one at left guard (for Craig Wolfley) . . . Started again at LG against Detroit, giving him seven starts in his 16 games in '83 . . . Also played in the Steelers AFC playoff game that year . . . At center, he was behind All-Pro Mike Webster.

College/Personal: Played center and guard at North Carolina and was a four-year letterman, three-year starter and senior co-captain . . . Was an unanimous pick to the 1980 All-ACC team and was second team All-America . . . A National Football Foundation Scholar Athlete Award winner and three-time Academic All-ACC . . . Earned a degree in Business Administration and is now pursuing his Master's in BA . . . Was a heavyweight wrestling champion and standout fullback and linebacker at Sanderson H.S. in Raleigh, N.C. . . . Won the "Strongest Man in NFL" contest in 1982 . . . Has two brothers playing college football — Brian at North Carolina and Kevin at Davidson . . . Full name: William Frederick Donnalley . . . Married, wife Patty, one-year-old daughter Cortney.

ROB FADA • 65

How Acquired: Free Agent (1985)
College: Pittsburgh
NFL Experience: 4 (2nd with Chiefs)
Birthdate: May 7, 1961
Birthplace: Fairborn, Ohio
Residence: Parks Hill, Pennsylvania

Pro Career: Helped the Chiefs injury-plagued offensive line in 1985 after joining the team as a free agent in mid-season . . . Played with the Chicago Bears for two years before his release and subsequent signing with the Chiefs . . . Came to Kansas City prior to the 10th game last year when Art Still was placed on injured reserve . . . Played in five of the final seven contests . . . Was a ninth round draft choice of the Bears in 1983 and played mostly as a reserve lineman his first two years . . . Began his rookie season of '83 as Chicago's starting left guard, but injured his knee the third game of the year and finished the season with only five games played . . . Played 14 regular season games plus Chicago's two playoff contests in '84 as a reserve guard . . . Was waived during the '85 preseason.

College/Personal: Was a three-year starter at left guard during his collegiate career at Pitt . . . Was an Academic All-America performer . . . Attended Parks Hill H.S. in Pa., where he was a three-year letterman in football and two-year letterwinner in track . . . Earned his B.S. in Pre-Med and is now attending Med School . . . BOYCE GREEN • 40
Running Back Ht: 5-11 Wt: 215

How Acquired: Trade (1986 - Cleveland)
College: Carson-Newman
NFL Experience: 4 (1st with Chiefs)
Birthdate: June 24, 1960
Birthplace: Beaufort, South Carolina
Residence: Jefferson City, Tennessee

Pro Career: Brings his running talents to Kansas City after a strange three-year tenure with the Cleveland Browns . . . Was acquired by the Chiefs in a draft-day trade this year for their seventh round choice . . . Surprisingly, as an 11th round draft selection, was one of the NFL's top young running backs during his first two years, rushing for a combined 1,170 yards . . . But, just as surprisingly, he sat the bench last year and didn't carry the ball once . . . Only two players in Browns history had rushed for more yards in their first two years . . . Started 12 games those two seasons and gained over 100 rushing yards four times . . . Career totals include 42 games and 12 starts, 306 rushes for 1,170 yards, 37 receptions for 291 yards, and five touchdowns (three rushing and two receiving) . . . Also has 19 kickoff returns for 370 yards . . . Joins former Browns teammate Mike Pruitt with the Chiefs. 1985: Didn't have any offensive statistics as a result of getting caught behind the NFL's hottest rushing tandem, Kevin Mack and Earnest Byner, who both gained over 1,000 yards . . . Played in 13 games, but only three on offense . . . Returned two kickoffs for 20 yards while playing the wedge in the finale.

1984: Was the Browns leading rusher with 673 yards on 202 carries . . . Moved into a starting role after Pruitt injured a knee the eighth week . . . Started the last eight games, rushing for 580 yards on 154 attempts . . . Ranked 11th among AFC backs, but ranked fifth over the second half of the season . . . Gained a career-high 156 rushing yards on 29 carries in rain-soaked Buffalo and that total was the most by an opposing back in Rich Stadium history . . . Two weeks later at Atlanta, his career-high 30 attempts helped him over the century mark for the fourth time in his career, 121 yards . . . Also had starts vs. Steelers and Patriots during the first half of the season . . . A 44-yard reception vs. Pittsburgh was his career long and 76 receiving yards in that game was a single-game high . . . Finished season with 12 receptions for 124 yards . . . Played in all 16 games and started 10. 1983: Beat the odds as an 11th round draftee and concluded an amazing rookie campaign by rushing for 497 yards and rolling up over 1,000 all-purpose yards . . . Finished fourth among NFL rookies in rushing in '83, behind first-rounders Eric Dickerson and Curt Warner and second-rounder Roger Craig . . . Among AFC running backs with 100 carries, his 4.8-yard average per carry was bettered only by Mosi Tatupu . . . Accounted for 1,014 all-purpose yards (497 rushing, 167 receiving, 350 kickoff returns) . . . In his first NFL start (Week 7 at Pittsburgh for injured Pruitt), he recorded the highest total ever by a Browns rookie in initial regular season start by gaining 137 yards on 28 carries . . . That was the second-best total ever by a Steeler opponent at Three Rivers Stadium (O.J. Simpson 227 yards in '75) . . . Also scored two touchdowns and caught a career-high five passes in that game . . . Topped the century mark vs. Houston by running for a 20-yard, game-winning TD in overtime; had a career-most 239 all-purpose yards, including 107 rushing (all in second half), 40 receiving and 92 on KO returns . . . Played in the final 13 games and started twice . . . Good chance to make the team came when Charles White broke an ankle in the second preseason game . . . Entered that game and on his second carry of NFL career, he scooted 71 yards for a touchdown . . . Finished that game with 117 rushing yards on six carries and two TDs.

College/Personal: Gained 2,353 career yards, averaged six yards per carry and scored 23 touchdowns in a brilliant career at Carson-Newman . . . Helped the team to NAIA Division I championship game and third place national ranking . . . Played fullback at Beaufort (S.C.) High and had a personal best of 48.7 in 440-yard dash while running track . . . Earned degree in physical education and is working on master's in education . . . Would like to teach school . . . Enjoys horseback riding, fishing and bowling . . . Full name: Boyce Keith Green . . . Single.

BOB HAMM • 90
Defensive End Ht: 6-4 Wt: 257

How Acquired: Trade (1985 - Houston)
College: Nevada - Reno
NFL Experience: 3 (2nd with Chiefs)
Birthdate: April 24, 1959
Birthplace: Kansas City, Missouri
Residence: Kansas City, Missouri

Pro Career: Plays an important role in the Chiefs defense, primarily as a fourth down lineman in nickel sets . . . Spent his first regular season with the Chiefs in 1985 after a draft-day trade with the Houston Oilers . . . Began his pro career in Kansas City in 1983 with an impressive preseason as a rookie free agent, but was waived on the final roster cutdown and awarded to Houston (also claimed by Cincinnati) . . . Chiefs coaches wanted to keep Hamm, but an injury to LB Gary Spani necessitated keeping another linebacker . . . Played with the Oilers for two years, mostly as a starter, before returning to Kansas City last year . . . Career totals include 42 games and 29 starts, 129 tackles (92 unassisted) and 7½ sacks. 1985: Finished his first year with the Chiefs by starting his final five games before suffering ligament damage in his right knee vs. Atlanta . . . Spent the final two games on injured reserve following surgery . . . Entered the starting lineup vs. Pittsburgh at left end, replacing an injured Art Still . . . Started two games at that spot, then switched to the right side when Bill Maas was moved from nose tackle to left end . . . Made a season-high six tackles in a win over Indianapolis and recorded his only sack of the year, along with three QB pressures . . . Totaled 22 tackles for the season, 15 unassisted, and ranked third on the team with 14 pressures . . . Played in 14 games . . . The Chiefs sent extra fifth and sixth round draft choices in '85 to Houston for Hamm and an '86 fourth round pick (Tom Baugh). At Houston: Started 24 of the 28 games he played in two years at Houston . . . Became a starter with the Oilers as a rookie, opening in the final 12 games of '83 while playing in all 16 . . . Recorded 53 total tackles (41 solos) and four sacks that year . . . Made seven total stops in each of three games, including a season-high six solos against the Chiefs in an overtime Kansas City win . . . Sustained a dislocated knee cap during the '84 preseason and spent the first four weeks of the regular season on injured reserve . . . Came back to start the final 12 games and finished the campaign with 54 total tackles (36 solos) and 2½ sacks . . . Also made the first fumble recovery of his NFL career . . . Voted by his teammates as the Oilers nominee for the Ed Block Memorial Courage Award in recognition of personal courage exemplified in pursuit of professional excellence on the football field.

College/Personal: Played collegiate football at Nevada-Reno after transferring from West Valley (Calif.) College . . . A native of Kansas City, but grew up in California . . . Attended St. Francis H.S. in Mountain View, Calif. . . . Full name: Bob Hamm . . . Single.

How Acquired: Draft (No. 1 - 1982)
College: Tennessee
NFL Experience: 5
Birthdate: June 10, 1960
Birthplace: Cleveland, Ohio
Residence: Independence, Missouri

Pro Career: Chiefs coaches are trying to get the speedy former No. 1 draft choice more active in the passing offense for his fifth NFL season . . . Has been used mainly as a deep threat thus far in his career, making 69 receptions for 1,203 yards (17.4 yards per catch) and five touchdowns in his first four years . . . Eight of his catches have been longer than 40 yards . . . Has been the third and fourth receiver in the Chiefs schemes most of the time, though he started seven games in 1983, his best season, and one last year . . . Has played in all but two games since joining the team in 1982 . . . Also has been a key kick returner, particularly his first two years, sporting a 20.0-yard career kickoff return average and a 6.6-yard career punt return average . . . Ranks third in Chiefs history for number of career kickoff returns with 64, behind Dave Grayson (84) and Noland Smith (68) . . . Has four 100-yard-plus games, one receiving and three kickoff returning. 1985: Played a more active role in the second half of the season . . . Of his 15 receptions for 286 yards for the season, 13 for 237 came in the final eight games . . . Replaced the injured Henry Marshall at Houston the eighth week and caught three passes for 62 yards to begin a productive four-game stretch . . . Caught a season-high four passes the next week vs. Pittsburgh for 55 yards, one for eight vs. San Francisco, then in his only start he snatched three passes for a season-high 79 yards in a victory over Indianapolis (and had two for 67 yards called back due to penalties) . . . Four-game stretch totals were 11 catches for 204 yards . . . Had just two catches for 49 yards in the first eight contests . . . Touchdown catches vs. the Raiders and Steelers gave him his career's first multiple-TD season . . . Returned six kickoffs for a 20.8 average with a top game of 3-76 at Seattle. 1984: Was off to the best start of his career until suffering a sprained ankle the third week vs. the Raiders . . . Was leading the team in receiving yardage before the injury with 143 yards after the first two games . . . Produced his best game as a pro Week 2 at Cincinnati when he gained 109 yards on three receptions, his first 100-yard receiving game . . . Caught two 46-yard passes in that game, including a spectacular one-handed TD grab that helped spark the Chiefs to a 27-22 win . . . Caught just three passes after the injury for a season total of 10 receptions, 217 yards and a team-leading 21.7-yard average per catch . . . Missed two games with separate injuries, the only misses of his career. 1983: Began and ended the '83 season as a starter, opening in the first five games and the final two contests, while playing in all 16 games . . . Finished with career-high 37 receptions for 584 yards, fourth on the club in catches and third in yardage . . . Caught at least one pass in 13 games, topped by a career-high seven receptions at San Diego the 15th week . . . Yardage best was 94 (on five catches) at Washington the third week . . . Caught a career-long 50-yard pass in the closing moments vs. the Raiders at Arrowhead . . . Shared the kickoff return duty with Theotis Brown, finishing with a 17.8 average on a team-high 29 attempts (fifth-most in Chiefs history) . . . Top KO return day was 5-122 at Dallas . . . Also shared punt returns with J.T. Smith, compiling a 5.8 average on 14 attempts . . . Top PR day was 4-36 vs. St. Louis. 1982: Played in all nine games as a rookie and caught seven passes for 116 yards in limited action . . . Top game was vs. San Francisco, when he made three receptions for 57 yards, including a diving 41-yard TD catch . . . Was the primary kickoff and punt return man . . . Ranked eighth in AFC kickoff returns with a 22.6 average on 27 attempts . . . Best performance was 6-130 vs. San Francisco . . . Made longest return of his career vs. Denver, a 68-yarder that was the Chiefs longest since 1977 . . . Ranked seventh in AFC punt returns that year with an 8.6 average on 12 attempts . . . Top effort was 3-45 vs. Denver . . . Was the first receiver selected in the '82 draft . . . Chiefs traded first round draft spots with St. Louis and gave the Cardinals a third round choice to select Hancock as the 11th pick.

College/Personal: Finished his career at Tennessee in second place on the school's career receptions list with 106, behind Larry Seivers (117) . . . Best statistical season was as a sophomore, 34 catches for 687 yards . . . Made 33 receptions for 580 yards as a junior and was named honorable mention All-America by AP . . . As a senior, he caught 32 passes for 437 yards despite missing the first three games due to a broken foot he sustained while walking to a Cleveland Browns preseason game . . . How Acquired: Draft (No. 2 - 1985)
College: Iowa
NFL Experience: 2
Birthdate: August 11, 1962
Birthplace: Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania
Residence: Overland Park, Kansas

Pro Career: Worked his way into the Chiefs passing offense the second half of his rookie season in '85, setting the stage for a more prominent role in '86 . . . Equally talented as a blocking and pass receiving tight end, he graduated from Iowa a year earlier than necessary and became the Chiefs No. 2 draft choice . . . From John Mackovic's point of view, he has already been in the Chiefs system a year and should "see a great deal of improvement" . . . All five of his receptions for 39 yards came in the final six games of '85 . . . First NFL catches came in a Week 11 game at San Francisco, when he made two eight-yard receptions from Todd Blackledge in the fourth quarter . . . Caught two passes for 17 yards two weeks later at Seattle . . . Made his first NFL touchdown reception in the season finale vs. San Diego, a six-yard grab from Bill Kenney that became the winning score in a 38-34 victory . . . Played in all 16 games . . . Led the Chiefs kicking teams in solo tackles with 15 (and had two assists) . . . Was the first tight end selected in the '85 draft, the 42nd choice overall.

College/Personal: An outstanding senior season bolstered his career totals to 50 receptions for 602 yards and five touchdowns in a career that began as a linebacker . . . Played linebacker as a freshman and most of sophomore season . . . Caught 10 passes for 153 yards and one TD as a junior, then 39 for 442 yards and four TDs his senior year . . . Post-season honors were highlighted by a first team All-America selection by Gannett News Service . . . Was a second team All-Big 10 pick by UPI and honorable mention choice by AP . . . The co-captain's top game was a seven-catch, 44-yard performance that included a touchdown vs. Hawaii . . . Was a teammate at Iowa with Chiefs tackle John Alt . . . Was a three-sport star at South Fayette, Pa., earning all-state and all-conference honors in football twice and basketball once . . . As a prep senior, he caught 27 passes that included 10 TDs and recorded 140 tackles and three interceptions . . . Captained the football, baseball and basketball teams . . . College degree is in general studies . . . Enjoys horseback riding, racquetball and listening to jazz music . . . Full name: Jonathan Michael Hayes . . . Single.

His 595 rushing yards ranked 17th in the AFC . . . Was the team's leading rusher in nine games . . . Scored six touchdowns (four rushing and two receiving) and had his first multiple-TD game when he scored on a six-yard run and a 15-yard reception in a Week 14 win over Atlanta . . . Longest run was a 33-yard dash vs. Atlanta, the second-longest of his career . . . Played in all 16 games and officially had 13 starts because the Chiefs opened three games in one-back formations . . . Saw limited action in two games (Weeks 12 and 13) due to a hip pointer. 1984: Emerged boldly in the second half of his rookie campaign and by season's end was the team's top ground threat . . . Finished the year as the team's leading rusher with 684 yards on 165 carries and four touchdowns . . . Started the final nine games of the season after bursting onto the scene during a Week 7 victory over San Diego . . . Broke loose for a 69-yard TD run late in the game to seal a 31-13 victory, giving him 84 yards on just seven carries . . . Earned his first NFL start at New York vs. the Jets the following week and became a key figure in the offensive attack from that point on . . . Averaged 111 total yards per game in the final three contests: 22-84 rushing and 4-49 receiving vs. Denver, 24-73 rushing and 3-39 receiving vs. Seattle and 15-84 rushing and 2-5 receiving vs. San Diego . . . Topped the 100 total yard mark four times, all home games: 100 vs. San Diego, 108 vs. Houston, a career-high 133 vs. Denver and 112 vs. Seattle . . . Improved as a pass receiver as the season progressed and finished with 25 receptions for 223 yards . . . Was the team's leading rusher in nine of the final 10 games . . . His 684 yards ranked 10th in the AFC, 24th in the NFL and were fourth-most among rookie runners in the league . . . GREG HILL • 23

Cornerback Ht: 6-1 Wt: 199

How Acquired: Waivers (1984 - Houston)
College: Oklahoma State
NFL Experience: 4 (3rd with Chiefs)
Birthdate: February 12, 1961
Birthplace: Orange, Texas
Residence: Kansas City, Missouri

Pro Career: Served as the Chiefs nickel back the past two years after being claimed on waivers prior to the '84 opener . . . His five interceptions the past two years are third-most on the team (behind Deron Cherry, Albert Lewis and Kevin Ross) and most among non-starters . . . Has totaled 54 tackles those two seasons (47 solos) while playing in 31 games and starting two. 1985: Posted career highs in interceptions (3) and tackles (34) while playing in all 16 games in his third NFL season and second with the Chiefs . . . Played primarily as the fifth defensive back, although he saw some action at right cornerback when Albert Lewis was bothered with a neck injury . . . First interception of the season came vs. Seattle and he returned it a career-long 37 yards to set up a touchdown in a 28-7 Chiefs victory . . . Also picked off passes vs. his old Houston teammates and at Denver . . . Made a career-high six solo tackles in the Houston game . . . Of his 34 season tackles, 29 were unassisted . . . Started the win over Indianapolis at right corner when Kevin Ross missed practice that week due to a family death. 1984: Earned his spot as the fifth d-back the fourth week of the season after recovering from a pulled hamstring muscle . . . Went on to make two interceptions and made the first start of his NFL career in the season-ending victory over San Diego when Lewis was injured . . . First NFL interception came in a Week 7 victory over San Diego, when he picked off a Dan Fouts pass in the first quarter to set up a field goal . . . His second came in a win over Tampa Bay, although he fumbled on the return . . . Collected 20 tackles (18 solos) during the season, including a season-high five in his start at San Diego . . . Played in 15 games, missing the home opener because of his hamstring injury. At Houston: Was the Oilers fourth round draft choice in '83 and played in 14 games for Houston as a rookie . . . Most of his action was on kicking teams.

College/Personal: Became an immediate starter at Oklahoma State, opening 11 games as a freshman . . . Was a reserve as a sophomore, then regained starting spot at left cornerback his final two years . . . Made two interceptions both his freshman and senior seasons . . . Recorded 164 career tackles and recovered two fumbles, one which he returned a school-record 97 yards for a touchdown in '81 . . . Attended Orange (Texas) H.S. . . . Won the state prep title in the 330 intermediate hurdles with a 36.4 clocking . . . Enjoys jazz music and watching the stock market . . . Full name: Greg Hill . . . Married, wife Myra.

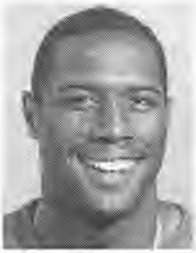
Def. End/Nose Tackle Ht: 6-5 Wt: 258

How Acquired: Draft (No. 5a - 1984)
College: Texas
NFL Experience: 3
Birthdate: September 5, 1960
Birthplace: Houston, Texas
Residence: Kansas City, Missouri

Pro Career: A versatile defensive lineman who finished his second NFL season in '85 by starting the final five games at nose tackle following a re-alignment of the line . . . Has played in all 32 games (and started six) since being drafted by the Chiefs in the fifth round of '84 . . . Plays frequently as the fourth down lineman in passing situations . . . Has totaled 53 tackles (32 unassisted) and one sack in his two seasons. 1985: Started the final five games when regular NT Bill Maas was moved to left end . . . Made 17 of his season's 24 tackles in those five starts, including tying a career-high with six stops at Seattle . . . Also shared a sack, was credited with two quarterback pressures and batted down a pass during that five-game stint . . . Played in all 16 games, but made just seven tackles in the first 11 contests while playing in "nickel" and "dime" sets . . . Season totals were 24 tackles (15 solos), ½ sack, four pressures and two pass deflections (second among lineman, behind Art Still's four) . . . Chiefs were 3-2 in the five games he started. 1984: Was particularly valuable during the second half of his rookie season when Maas and DE Mike Bell were limited by injuries . . . Recorded 29 tackles during the season and 24 came in the final 10 games . . . First extended action came Week 7 vs. San Diego when Maas was injured early and Holle played most of the game at nose tackle, making a career-high six tackles . . . Made his first NFL start the following week at New York vs. the Jets, replacing Maas at nose tackle . . . Logged his first fumble recovery Week 12 vs. the Raiders and assisted in his first sack two weeks later in a victory over Denver.

College/Personal: Was a consistent performer as a defensive end during his career at Texas in which he compiled 222 total tackles, including 18 sacks and 27 additional stops for losses . . . Tabbed for All-Southwest Conference and honorable mention All-America honors as a senior . . . Recorded a career-high 92 tackles and a team-high 42 QB pressures that year . . . Was a starter since 1981 after being redshirted in '79 . . . Attended LBJ High in Austin, Texas . . . History major . . . Interests include traveling and water skiing . . . Full name: Eric W. Holle . . . Single.



ETHAN HORTON • 32
Running Back Ht: 6-3 Wt: 228

How Acquired: Draft (No. 1 - 1985)
College: North Carolina
NFL Experience: 2
Birthdate: December 19, 1962
Birthplace: Kannapolis, North Carolina
Residence: Chapel Hill, North Carolina

Pro Career: Spent most of his rookie season as a backup to Herman Heard at halfback and was used mainly in passing situations as a receiver out of the backfield . . . Finished third in rushing with 146 yards (on 48 carries) and fifth in receptions with 28 (for 185 yards) . . . Was third on the team in touchdowns with four — three rushing and one receiving . . . While his rushing output was a bit of a disappointment for the No. 1 draftee, his receiving ability was a pleasant surprise, quickly proving himself as the most effective receiver among the Chiefs running backs . . . His 28 catches were fourth-most in Chiefs history for rookie running backs, behind Abner Haynes' record 60 and Johnny Robinson's 41 in 1960 and Ken Thomas' 30 in 1983 . . . Caught five passes in his first NFL game, good for 36 yards at New Orleans . . . Tied that season-high with five catches vs. Pittsburgh for 27 yards . . . Had four catches in two other games and at least one reception in 11 contests . . . Best rushing performance was a team-leading 26-yard, seven-carry effort in a 28-7 win over Seattle the fourth week . . . Ten carries vs. the Rams were his single-game most . . . Averaged 3.0 yards per carry . . . Gained 331 combined yards for the season with a high of 55 in his initial pro game (at New Orleans) . . . His touchdowns were as follows: a 19-yard run in the opener which was his longest run of the seaosn, a two-yard TD catch at San Diego, a one-yard dive in the first meeting vs. Denver and a one-yard run vs. Atlanta . . . Played in all 16 games . . . Was the first running back selected in the '85 draft, the 15th pick overall . . . Was the first running back to be the Chiefs No. 1 draft choice since 1974 (Woody Green) and just the fifth back in franchise history to be the Chiefs first selection.

College/Personal: Led the Atlantic Coast Conference in rushing his final two years, gaining over 1,000 yards both seasons and averaging 107 yards per game in those 22 contests . . . Finished career as the fifth-leading rusher in North Carolina history with 3,074 yards on 604 carries, a 5.1 average and 22 touchdowns . . . Ranked behind Amos Lawrence, Mike Voight, Kelvin Bryant and Don McCauley . . . Caught 46 career passes for 495 yards . . . Began collegiate career as a quarterback, but switched to tailback late in his freshman year when injuries hit two players and he elected to remain at that position . . . Named ACC Player of the Year as a senior, gaining 1,247 yards (fourth highest in UNC history) on 238 totes . . . A second team All-America selection by UPI and a third team choice by AP . . . Was an All-America prep quarterback at A. L. Brown H.S. in Kannapolis, N.C. . . . Led his team to records of 7-3, 11-1 and 9-1 . . . Also played basketball and track . . . Earned degree in Radio-Television-Motion Pictures . . . Full name: Ethan Shane Horton . . . Single.

KEN JOLLY • 52
Linebacker Ht: 6-2 Wt: 220

How Acquired: Free Agent (1984)
College: Mid-America Nazarene
NFL Experience: 3
Birthdate: February 28, 1962
Birthplace: Dallas, Texas
Residence: Kansas City, Missouri

Pro Career: A local college product who made the team as a free agent two years ago and finished his second pro season by starting 12 games at outside linebacker . . . Signed with the Chiefs in '84 out of Mid-America Nazarene, a small NAIA college in suburban Kansas City (Olathe) . . . Played mostly kicking teams as a rookie, then played a major role in the defensive scheme in '85 . . . Has made 79 tackles, all but five coming last year, and has played in all 32 games . . . Has also made more kicking team tackles than any other Chiefs player during those two years. 1985: Started 12 games at right outside linebacker, including the final seven contests . . . All but two of his 74 tackles came in those 12 starts (an average of six per game) . . . First NFL start came Week 3 at Miami after Jeff Paine had been injured the previous week and Ken McAlister was out for the year with a knee injury . . . Started five straight games, played as a reserve for two, then started the final seven . . . Top performance was at San Diego when he totaled a career-high 10 tackles (nine solos) and recovered a fumble which set up a Chiefs touchdown . . . Also had a nine-tackle game and three eight-tackle efforts . . . His 74 total tackles tied for sixth on the team and his 51 solo stops ranked seventh . . . Made17 kicking team tackles, including 12 unassisted, third on the team. 1984: Won a roster spot as a rookie free agent and was the top kicking teams performer in addition to backing up all linebacker positions . . . Recorded a team-high 19 tackles and nine assists on kicking teams for a total of 28 . . . That included a spectacular six-tackle performance in a win over Denver . . . Played sparingly at linebacker, making five tackles during the season . . . Beat odds of making the team with an outstanding preseason, producing two sacks during limited action in the four games, plus he blocked a PAT attempt in the final contest at New England.

College/Personal: Was a four-year all-conference defensive lineman and one-year All-America performer at Mid-America Nazarene . . . Prior to playing at Mid-America, he attended Dallas County Community College, Johnson County Community College (KC area), Park College (KC area) and Cleveland Chiropractic College for one semester each . . . Is a pre-chiropractic major . . . Attended Bryan Adams H.S. in Dallas, where he was a defensive end and quarterback . . . Enjoys golf and working with children . . . Full name: Kenneth Clay Jolly . . . Single.

BILL KENNEY • 9
Quarterback Ht: 6-4 Wt: 211

How Acquired: Free Agent (1979)
College: Northern Colorado
NFL Experience: 8
Birthdate: January 20, 1955
Birthplace: San Francisco, California
Residence: Lee's Summit, Missouri

Pro Career: Three years as the engineer of John Mackovic's passing express has vaulted Kenney from a mediocre career to one that ranks him among the best quarterbacks to ever play the game . . . Ranks 12th on the NFL's all-time passing charts, based on the league's rating system, and is sixth among active quarterbacks with a career 78.7 rating (see chart below) . . . A Pro Bowl season in 1983, the first under Mackovic and his first as the full-time starter, saw him become one of only a handful of quarterbacks in the history of the league to pass for more than 4,000 yards . . . Rewrote the Chiefs single-season passing record book that year and recorded one of the best years in NFL annals . . . Has been the starter ever since, excepting injuries, but will back up Todd Blackledge in '86 . . . Rags-to-riches NFL story began as the next to last player selected in the '78 draft by Miami . . . Was traded to Washington during that preseason, but was released and he sat out the entire '78 season before signing with the Chiefs as a free agent in '79 . . . Didn't play a down in '79, then split time with Steve Fuller in '80, '81 and '82 before winning the No. 1 job under Mackovic in '83 . . . Ranks second in Chiefs history with 12,699 career passing yards, behind Len Dawson's record 28,507 . . . Also ranks second in pass completions with 957 (behind Dawson's 2,115) and touchdown passes with 77 (behind Dawson's 237) . . . Ranks third in pass attempts with 1,735 (behind Dawson's 3,696 and Mike Livingston's 1,751) and interceptions with 61 (behind Dawson's 178 and Livingston's 83) . . . Has thrown for 300 or more yards in 13 games, more than any other Chiefs player, and 11 have come the last three seasons . . . Has been the team's leading passer in each of the last five years and only Dawson has led the team more seasons . . . Has thrown for over 2,000 yards in each of the last three years, with only Dawson gaining that much yardage more times . . . Has started 56 games and owns a 26-31 record in those starts. 1985: Was on his way to another highly-productive season until various injuries knocked him out of the lineup for the final five games . . . Started 10 of the first 11 games, but a rash of bruises — mainly knee and shoulder — curtailed his effectiveness after a great start to '85 . . . Was on another 4,000-yard passing pace prior to his initial injuries . . . Despite playing QB in just 12 games, he finished with 181 completions in 338 attempts (53.6 percent) for 2,536 yards and 17 touchdowns, all ranking as the second-best figures of his career next to '83 (also threw nine interceptions) . . . His 83.6 rating ranked sixth in the NFL (fifth in AFC) and was the best of his career since a 91.4 rating in limited action in '80 . . . Finished the year with 143 straight passes without a theft, excluding two "Hail Mary" passes that ended a half or a game . . . Opened the season in grand fashion by throwing for 397 yards, more than any other QB on opening day, in a lopsided win over New Orleans . . . The 397 yards were the second-most of his career and he completed 22 of 34 passes and tossed three TD balls . . . His other 300-yard game in '85 and 13th of his career was a 304-yard effort at San Diego (24 of 36) . . . Threw for three touchdowns for the ninth time of his career vs. Pittsburgh . . . Ended the season by replacing the injured Blackledge in the second quarter vs. San Diego and completing nine of 16 passes for 200 yards and two touchdowns, including a career-long 84-yarder that ranked as the team's longest since 1974 and tied for sixth-longest in club history . . . Chiefs were 3-7 in his 10 starts . . . Played in all 16 games, but three as strictly a holder on placement kicks. 1984: Missed the first seven games after breaking his passing thumb in the final preseason game, but made the most of his half-season . . . Made a grand entry in his first outing (Week 7 vs. San Diego), entering the game midway through the third quarter and completing 13 of 22 passes for 238 yards and two touchdowns to spark the Chiefs to a 31-13 win . . . Was named the NFL offensive player of the week by Sports Illustrated for his performance . . . His presence made an immediate impact on a sluggish passing attack and he went on to complete 151 of 282 pass attempts for 2,098 yards, 15 touchdowns and 10 interceptions in his nine games . . . Finished sixth in the AFC with an 80.7 QB rating . . . First start came the week following the San Diego game in a one-point loss to the N.Y. Jets . . . Rolled up his best totals of the season in his second start, connecting on 26 of 46 passes for 332 yards and two TDs in a gutsy performance (knee and shoulder injuries and cut his injured thumb) in a victory over Tampa Bay . . . Was forced to leave the next week's game at Seattle due to knee, shoulder and elbow injuries and did not play the next Sunday vs. Houston . . . Came back to start the final five games and played superbly, leading the Chiefs to victory in the final three games . . . Passed for 312 yards in the Seattle game, his second 300-yard outing of the season . . . In the finale, he completed 17 of 23 passes for 245 yards and three TDs in just over a half and surpassed the 10,000-yard career passing yardage plateau. 1983: Recorded one of the top single-season passing performances in NFL history en route to breaking nearly every Chiefs passing record and earning a Pro Bowl berth . . . His 4,348 yards were the fifth-most ever attained, behind two Dan Fouts seasons, Steve DeBerg and Lynn Dickey (Dan Marino and Neil Lomax passed that mark in '84, making it the seventh-best entering '86) . . . Threw for over 300 yards in seven games, which tied for second in league history (Fouts in '81 and behind Fouts' eight games in '80) . . . Had a streak of four consecutive 300-yard games, which also tied for second with Fouts' 1979 season and behind Joe Montana's five in 1982 . . . Kenney's '83 totals completely shattered previous Chiefs season records: his 4,348 yards easily surpassed Dawson's 1974 record of 2,879 yards, his 603 attempts outdistanced Cotton Davidson's 1960 mark of 379, and his 346 completions buried Dawson's 1967 record of 206 completions . . . Also broke Dawson's 1962 total offense record of 3,011 yards, gaining 4,407 yards (4,348 passing and 59 rushing) . . . Best game of his season and career came Week 15 at San Diego, when he threaded the Chargers defense for 411 yards by completing 31 of 41 attempts and threw four TD passes . . . The 31 completions set the Chiefs single-game record, the 411 yards were a personal best and ranked second in Chiefs history behind a 435-yard Dawson performance and the four touchdowns tied a personal best he set twice earlier in '83 . . . Another top game was at Denver, when he attempted a Chiefs record 52 passes and completed 27 for 365 yards . . . At Dallas, he was 23-40 for 337 yards and combined with Blackledge for team record 59 attempts and 33 completions . . . Tied Dawson's record of 15 consecutive pass completions early in the season (final 13 vs. San Diego and first two at Washington) . . . Attempted 40 or more passes in eight games and completed 20 or more passes in 12 contests . . Threw 24 touchdown passes in '83, which tied for fourth in Chiefs history, and threw 18 interceptions, third-most on the clubs list . . . Ranked seventh in the AFC with a QB rating of 80.8 . . . Ranked first in the NFL in attempts and completions and second in yards behind Dickey . . . Was named the Chiefs MVP by his teammates . . . Was voted as an alternate to the AFC Pro Bowl team, then played in the game when Marino couldn't go because of an injury . . . Set a Pro Bowl record by attempting 32 passes. 1982: Started the first three and final three contests of the shortened season . . . Was replaced by Steve Fuller during mid-season, but won back the job with his first relief appearance as a pro vs. the Raiders . . . Completed 95 of 169 passes for 1,192 yards and seven TDs, ranking seventh in the AFC with a QB rating of 77.0 . . . Best game was in the season finale against the N.Y. Jets, when he threw for 223 yards and completed 18 of 27 passes, including 11 in a row, and three touchdowns. 1981: Started the first 13 games and completed 147 of 274 passes for 1,983 yards and nine TDs before being replaced by Fuller in the final three games . . . Best game that season was vs. San Diego, when he connected on 22 of 41 attempts for 303 yards. 1980: First regular season action of his NFL career came in '80 when he replaced Fuller in the final three games . . . Leading the Chiefs to victory in two of the three, he passed for 542 yards, including 316 in the finale vs. the Colts.

College/Personal: Began his collegiate career at Arizona State under Frank Kush, but transferred to Saddleback (Calif.) Junior College and then on to Northern Colorado . . . At UNC, he played tight end as a junior, catching 17 passes, then subbed at quarterback in two games and completed 18 of 40 passes . . . Played QB full time as a senior, completing 97 of 226 passes for 1,264 yards and seven touchdowns . . . Attended San Clemente (Calif.) H.S. . . . Earned a degree in Business Administration . . . How Acquired: Draft (No. 5 - 1985)
College: Purdue
NFL Experience: 2
Birthdate: January 7, 1963
Birthplace: Dale, Indiana
Residence: Oakland Park, Florida

Pro Career: Began his NFL career in Kansas City as the starting fullback, but his responsibilities are in a backup role to Mike Pruitt as he enters his second season . . . Was the only NFL rookie running back to start opening day in 1985 and he was the No. 1 fullback for the first half of the season . . . Saw limited action after Pruitt was signed as a free agent at mid-season . . . Started seven games and finished the year with 83 rushing yards on 28 carries and seven pass receptions for 45 yards . . . All of his rushing totals except one carry for two yards came in the first seven games . . . Top effort was seven carries for 20 yards in a 28-7 win over Seattle the fourth week . . . A key kicking teams performer, he recovered a fumbled punt return in that game at the Seattle five-yard line, then threw the key block two plays later for the Chiefs first touchdown . . . Played in all 16 games . . . Was the Chiefs fifth round draft choice and the second of three running backs chosen by the club in '85.

College/Personal: A strong senior campaign boosted his NFL worth, gaining 416 rushing yards on 91 carries and catching 33 passes for 355 yards and three touchdowns as Purdue's starting fullback . . . Had been part of Purdue's starting rotation since his freshman season, although he was used mainly as a blocker until his senior year . . . Was selected honorable mention All-Big 10 by UPI . . . GARCIA LANE • 41

Cornerback/Kick Returner
Ht: 5-9 Wt: 180

How Acquired: Sup. Draft (No. 3 - 1984)
College: Ohio State
NFL Experience: 2
Birthdate: December 31, 1961
Birthplace: Youngstown, Ohio
Residence: Youngstown, Ohio

Pro Career: Is in his second season with the Chiefs after a two-year stint in the USFL . . . Serves as the team's primary punt returner, one of two primary kickoff returners and as a backup at cornerback . . . Was the only Chiefs player to return a punt in '85, his first NFL season . . . Finished eighth in the AFC and 12th in the NFL with an 8.9-yard average per return . . . His 43 punt returns were third-most in Chiefs history (behind two J. T. Smith years) and his 381 punt return yards were fifth-most (behind three Smith years and one Larry Brunson season) . . . Top single-game performance came in a Week 12 win over Indianapolis, when he returned six punts for 103 yards, including a 57-yarder . . . The six returns tied for third-most in team annals, plus the 103 yards and 57-yard return were the best since Smith's effort vs. Tampa Bay in '81 . . . Returned kickoffs in the final nine games and compiled a 20.5-yard average (13-267) . . . Best KOR outing was a five-return, 132-yard performance vs. Pittsburgh in just his second game as a kickoff returner . . . The 132 yards were the most by a Chiefs player since Charlie Thomas' 155 in a '75 game . . . Teamed with Jeff Smith in that game to set the Chiefs record for kickoff return yardage in a game, 236 . . . Combined return yardage totals for '85 were 648 yards on 56 returns . . . Played sparingly in the defensive backfield, making four solo tackles and one assist . . . Most action came in a Week 14 victory over Atlanta and he made three solo tackles and shared a sack . . . Played in all 16 games during the regular season, giving him a total of 40 games in a busy '85 schedule that covered two different leagues . . . Joined the Chiefs in training camp after playing in 18 regular season USFL games and three post-season contests . . . Played in three preseason games with the Chiefs, then the entire regular season . . . Was a third round selection of the Chiefs in the 1984 Supplemental Draft . . . Helped the Baltimore Stars to the USFL championship both of his seasons and earned all-league honors as a cornerback and punt returner both years . . . Compiled an 8.9 punt return average his first year and an 8.8 average in '85 . . . Produced good playoff performances both seasons, recording a 16.1 playoff average in '84 and a 22.4 average in '85 playoff games.

College/Personal: Was a three-year starter at Ohio State, starting all 36 games during those three seasons . . . Holds career records for the Buckeyes for most punt returns (89), punt return yardage (895) and punt return touchdowns (3) . . . Returned two punts for TDs in the same quarter against Purdue as a senior . . . Attended South H.S. in Youngstown, Ohio . . . Enjoys skating and bowling . . . Full name: Garcia Lane . . . Married, wife Denella, sons Troy (2) and Shaun (born this past off-season).

ALBERT LEWIS • 29
Cornerback Ht: 6-2 Wt: 192

How Acquired: Draft (No. 3 - 1983)
College: Grambling
NFL Experience: 4
Birthdate: October 6, 1960
Birthplace: Mansfield, Louisiana
Residence: Lee's Summit, Missouri

Pro Career: Is quickly gaining recognition as one of the top cornerbacks in the league . . . Has been the team's starting cornerback the last two years after spending most of his rookie season as the nickel back . . . Already has made 16 career interceptions, an average of 5.3 per year, topped by last year's AFC-leading eight . . . Only five players in the NFL have made more interceptions than his 16 in the last three years (Deron Cherry, Dave Brown, Kenny Easley, Leslie Frazier and Vernon Dean) . . . Has registered 176 tackles (155 solos) in his three years . . . Has played in 47 games (missing just one) and started 32 . . . Played right corner as a rookie, then switched to the left side in '84 when Gary Green was traded. 1985: A torrid season-ending surge gave him a share of the AFC interception title, capping his best of three NFL seasons . . . Tied Eugene Daniel of the Colts for the AFC lead with eight, one behind NFL leader Everson Walls of Dallas . . . Six of those thefts came in the final three games of the season . . . Began that flurry by picking off three passes vs. Atlanta, a personal best and just one shy of matching the club and NFL record of four in a single game . . . A week later he intercepted two passes at Denver, then finished the season with one vs. San Diego in the finale . . . Also had one interception in each of the first two games of '85 . . . Compiled 65 solo tackles to rank third on the team and 74 total tackles which tied for sixth . . . Also had 1½ sacks . . . Put together a masterful performance in a Thursday night game vs. the Raiders the second week, making a season-high eight solo tackles, one interception, forced a fumble and recovered a Jim Plunkett fumble in the end zone for his first NFL touchdown, the Chiefs last score in a 36-20 win . . . Started all 16 games. 1984: Stepped forward as a leading performer on the Chiefs defense in his first year as a starter . . . Made four interceptions and recorded 66 tackles (60 solos) . . . His four thefts came in a five-week span, beginning Week 10 at Seattle, then after none vs. Houston, he picked off one in each of the next three games vs. the Raiders, Giants and Broncos . . . Top tackling games were 10 stops in wins over San Diego and Tampa Bay . . . Made the first sack of his pro career vs. Houston, first by a Chiefs defensive back in '84 . . . After starting the first 15 games, he missed the season finale after straining his right knee the previous week vs. Seattle . . . It is the only missed game of his NFL career. 1983: Spent most of his rookie year as the team's nickel back until winning the starting job in the finale . . . Made four interceptions and recorded 36 total tackles while playing in all 16 games . . . First NFL theft came off Jim Hart vs. St. Louis, then he picked off two Plunkett passes in the first quarter the following week vs. the Raiders . . . Final interception came at Seattle, which he returned a career-long 34 yards . . . Top tackling performance of '83 was eight solos and one assist vs. the Raiders . . . Was one of the team's top kicking teams players, compiling a team-leading 27 tackles and recovering a fumbled punt return vs. the Giants at the 23-yard line that set up a Chiefs TD . . . Was the Chiefs third round draft choice in '83.

College/Personal: Was a first team All-Southwestern Athletic Conference selection his final two years at Grambling . . . Intercepted 11 passes in those two seasons, including a SWAC-leading seven as a junior . . . Attended DeSoto H.S. in Mansfield, La., where he was a two-year All-District defensive back . . . Won nine letters in football (3), basketball (3), and track (3) . . . Earned a degree in political science and is now studying law . . . Is a member of the Chiefs Academic Corps, which works with inner city high school students in Kansas City . . . Hobbies include riding horses, biking, hunting and fishing . . . Full name: Albert Ray Lewis . . . Married, wife Phyllis.

How Acquired: Waivers (San Diego - 1978)
College: Boston University
NFL Experience: 9
Birthdate: November 16, 1955
Birthplace: Cambridge, Massachusetts
Residence: Overland Park, Kansas

Pro Career: His service to the Chiefs enters its ninth year and has been invaluable to the cohesiveness of the defensive line, one of the team's strongest areas throughout his career . . . A durable performer who has played in 89 consecutive games for the Chiefs, tying PK Nick Lowery for the longest streak on the team . . . Has played in all but three games since joining the team on waivers in 1978 . . . Even more importantly, he has started 30 games the past six seasons when regular ends Art Still and Mike Bell have been injured . . . Career totals are: 118 games, 30 starts, 205 tackles (138 unassisted), 13½ sacks and one fumble recovery . . . Single season bests are 37 tackles in 1981 and four sacks in 1980 . . . Only Henry Marshall has played for the Chiefs longer than Lindstrom's nine years (Gary Spani and Art Still also have nine years). 1985: Played in all 16 games and started the final two when Bob Hamm was injured . . . Finished the season with 22 tackles (10 solos), 1½ sacks and seven QB pressures . . . Best game total was four tackles in the season-ending win over San Diego . . . Also had a sack and four pressures in the season-opening win at New Orleans. 1978-84: Saw considerable action in '78 and '79 in a defensive line rotation system, although he made no starts . . . Played in all 16 games as a rookie and finished with 20 tackles (15 solos) . . . Appeared in 13 contests in '79, missing the final three games with a strained knee, and made 16 stops (12 solos) . . . His first big season was in 1980, when he started 14 games after Bell was injured early in the campaign and was credited with 30 tackles (21 solos) and four sacks . . . Came to the Chiefs rescue for the second straight year in '81, when he started five games after Still was injured and totaled a career-high 37 tackles (29 solos) while playing in all 16 games . . . Was called on again in '82 when Bell was injured and started four of the nine games that year, registering 19 tackles (15 solos) and three sacks . . . Was awarded a game ball by his teammates following a 19-12 win over San Diego when he sacked Dan Fouts twice, one of which forced a fumble which led to a Chiefs field goal . . . Started three games in '83 for Still and collected 27 tackles (19 solos), including one sack, while playing all 16 contests . . . Started two of the final four games in '84 (at N.Y. Giants and at San Diego) and saw considerable action the entire second half of the season while Bell was hampered by a knee injury . . . Registered 34 tackles, which included a career-high 26 unassisted stops and two sacks . . . Was San Diego's sixth round draft choice in 1977, but spent the entire season on injured reserve and was waived in '78.

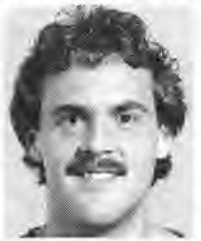
College/Personal: Spent his collegiate career at Boston University, where he was the team's most valuable player his senior season . . . Attended Weymouth South H.S. in Mass. . . . Has a brother, Chris, who plays for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers . . . Earned a degree in education . . . Works for a commercial real estate firm in Kansas City and has recently been awarded a "Burger King" store franchise . . . Enjoys playing racquetball and golf . . . Full name: David Alan Lindstrom . . . Married, wife Mary, daughter Halee, born this past off-season.

ADAM LINGNER • 62
Center/Guard Ht: 6-4 Wt: 260

How Acquired: Draft (No. 9 - 1983)
College: Illinois
NFL Experience: 4
Birthdate: November 2, 1960
Birthplace: Indianapolis, Indiana
Residence: Lee's Summit, Missouri

Pro Career: Serves as the Chiefs deep-snapper and as a backup center . . . Has deep-snapped every punt and placekick for the Chiefs the past three years, playing in all 48 games . . . His playing time at center in '85 included most of the second half at Miami the third week when Bob Rush was suffering from heat cramps . . . Also played part of the second half at Houston when Rush was bothered by a bad back . . . Made 11 tackles on kicking teams . . . In '84, he helped punter Jim Arnold win the NFL punting title and placekicker Nick Lowery move into first place as the NFL's most accurate career field goal kicker . . . Most extensive action at center came in a Week 15 victory over Seattle, when he played the final three quarters for the injured Rush . . . Played in all 16 games on kicking teams and recorded eight tackles . . . As a rookie, he saw action at center in the final four games and made his only NFL start the 15th week at San Diego, playing all the way for the injured Rush . . . Played most of the game the previous week against Buffalo's All-Pro nose tackle Fred Smerlas . . . Compiled eight kicking teams tackles in '83 while playing in all 16 contests . . . Was the Chiefs lowest-round 1983 draft choice to make the team (ninth round) . . . Learned the guard position as a rookie to add versatility.

College/Personal: Lettered all four years as a center and deep-snapper at Illinois . . . Played behind All-Big Ten center Greg Boeke his first three years, then became a starter his senior season . . . Attended Alleman H.S. in Rock Island, Ill., where he lettered in football, basketball and track . . . Set the school discus record, bettering the mark held by his brother . . . Majored in community health and is scheduled to complete his degree by next off-season . . . Full name: Adam James Lingner . . . Married, wife Marcy, one-year-old daughter Amanda.



NICK LOWERY • 8
Placekicker Ht: 6-4 Wt: 189

How Acquired: Free Agent (1980)
College: Dartmouth
NFL Experience: 7
Birthdate: May 27, 1956
Birthplace: Munich, Germany
Residence: Lee's Summit, Missouri

Pro Career: Reigns supreme as the NFL's No. 1-ranked field goal kicker of all time, based on completion percentage, a crown he has owned since mid-1984 . . . Has connected on 136 of 177 field goal attempts in his six NFL seasons for a 76.8 percentage . . . Not only does he rank as the most accurate kicker in NFL history, but he also has been among the most productive since joining the Chiefs as a free agent in 1980 . . . Among kickers who have been in the league those entire six years, his 136 successful field goals tie with Washington's Mark Moseley for most and his 613 points are second to Moseley's 630 . . . Possibly the truest statistic is average length of field goals made and missed, which Lowery leads all kickers during those six years with a 36.5-yard average per field goal made and a 45.0-yard average for missed attempts . . . Has attempted more field goals 50 yards or longer (31) than any other kicker during that period and has made the most (12) . . . His 12 kicks of 50 yards or more rank in a tie for second in NFL history (Tom Dempsey 12, Jan Stenerud 17) . . . Has made 85 percent (124 of 146) of his attempts inside the 50-yard line . . . Has never missed a field goal attempt from less than 30 yards in his career (34-34) . . . Ranks second on the Chiefs all-time charts in scoring (613 points), field goals made (136) and PAT's (205), behind record totals by the legendary Stenerud, who he surprisingly beat out in '80 . . . Adding a short two-game stint at New England prior to coming to Kansas City, his career totals are 620 points, 136 of 177 field goals, and 212 of 214 PAT's . . . Played in one Pro Bowl Game (following the '81 season) and has been an alternate the past two years . . . Has scored over 100 points in four seasons, including the last three in a row . . . Has broken the team single-season record for field goal completion percentage three times ('82, '83 and '85) . . . Holds the team record for longest field goal, 58 (twice), which ties as the fourth-longest in NFL history . . . Enters 1986 with a personal-best streak of 11 consecutive field goal successes (second-longest current string in NFL next to Pat Leahy) and 81 straight PAT conversions (third-longest next to Gary Anderson) . . . Has played in 89 consecutive games for the Chiefs, tying Dave Lindstrom for the longest current streak on the team. 1985: Strengthened his hold as the NFL's most accurate kicker by making 24 of 27 field goal attempts for 88.9 percent, which broke his own team record for single-season completion percentage . . . It was the third-best season in NFL history, behind Moseley (20-21 in 1982) and Stenerud (22-24 in 1981) . . . Remarkable season won him the honor as placekicker on the All-NFL team, thanks to first team votes from AP and NEA . . . Also was named to the All-AFC second team by UPI . . . Was voted as first alternate to the AFC Pro Bowl team, behind Pittsburgh's Gary Anderson . . . Scored 107 points, third-most in his career and ranking sixth in the AFC and 10th in the NFL . . . His 24 field goals tied for third in the AFC and seventh in the NFL . . . His uncanny accuracy included making 22 of 23 attempts inside the 50-yard line . . . Only miss under 50 yards was a 32-yarder at Houston, which broke a streak of 14 straight from within that distance . . . His only other two misses were a 50-yarder vs. the Rams and a 55-yarder at Miami . . . Kicked nine field goals (9-9) and scored 35 points in the first two games, the best two-game start in Chiefs history . . . Was 4-4 in a season-opening 47-27 win at New Orleans, including two 52-yarders that tied the NFL record (which he had already matched in '80) for most field goals over 50 yards in a single game . . . Four nights later in a nationally televised game vs. the Raiders, he produced the best performance of his career by making all five field goal attempts in a 36-20 Chiefs win . . . The five field goals were a personal best, tied the team record set by Stenerud and were just one shy of the NFL record for most field goals in a game with no misses . . . That included a 58-yarder, which tied his personal best as the fourth-longest in NFL history . . . His average length of field goals made (38.3) was best in the league and his average length of field goal attempts (39.1) was second-best (Tampa Bay's Don Igwebuike, 39.9) . . . His season-ending streak of 11 consecutive field goals made covered a span of eight games (last miss was Week 9) . . . Converted all 35 of his PAT attempts for the second straight year. 1984: Connected on 23 of 33 field goal attempts and was selected as the second alternate for the AFC Pro Bowl . . . His 23 field goals ranked third in the AFC and tied for eighth in the NFL, his 33 attempts were the most in the AFC and tied for fourth-most in the NFL and his 104 points ranked fourth in the AFC and ninth in the NFL . . . Began the '84 campaign by making his first seven field goal attempts before hitting an upright with a 30-yard attempt vs. the Raiders, the shortest miss of his NFL career . . . That broke a streak of 13 consecutive field goals dating back to '83 . . . His season-opening streak included a 52-yarder Week 2 at Cincinnati . . . Booted another 52-yarder vs. the N.Y. Giants . . . Kicked three fourth-quarter field goals Week 14 vs. Denver, including a 42-yard game-winner with 1:56 remaining, in a 16-13 victory. 1983: Set the team record for field goal completion percentage for the second straight season (which he broke again in '85) by making

24 of 30 attempts for 80.0 percent . . . Only misses were from 52, 51, 48, 47, 43 and 42 yards out . . . Set a personal best with 116 points, the third-best mark in Chiefs history behind Stenerud's 129 points in '68 and 119 points in '69 . . . His 116 points ranked second in the AFC and sixth in the NFL . . . Boomed his first 58-yarder at Washington, the team record and third-longest in NFL annals at that time . . . Later that year, he kicked a 54-yarder vs. the Raiders. 1982: His statistics from the nine-game season almost seemed to reflect a normal 16-game schedule . . . Broke the Chiefs field goal accuracy record for the first time by converting 19 of 24 attempts for 79.2 percent, bettering Stenerud's '69 mark of 77.1 percent . . . His 19 field goals were tops in the AFC for the second straight year and second in the NFL next to Moseley's 20 . . . His 74 points were second in the conference and third in the NFL . . . Made 19 of 21 attempts inside the 50-yard line and was perfect inside the 40-yard line . . . Earned second team AFC honors from UPI. 1981: Capped a brilliant 1981 season by being voted as the placekicker for the AFC Pro Bowl team . . . Proceeded to win the Pro Bowl Game by kicking a 23-yard field goal with three seconds remaining . . . Connected on career-most 26 of 36 attempts that year, including 25 of 29 inside midfield, and scored 115 points . . . The 26 field goals were the most in the AFC and the 115 points tied him with Jim Breech for most in the conference . . . Selected to the All-NFL team by NEA and to the UPI All-AFC first team. 1980: After beating out Stenerud, he quickly rebutted the skeptics with superb kicking . . . In the second game of the season vs. Seattle, he boomed a 57-yard field goal, which broke the club record at that time of 55 yards set by Stenerud in '70 . . . Made good on 20 of 26 field goal attempts that year, including 16 of 19 inside midfield . . . His four kicks of 50 yards or more tied for second in NFL history, one behind the all-time record set by Denver's Fred Steinfort that year . . . Finished his rookie campaign with 97 points. Pre-Chiefs: Before winning a spot with the Chiefs, he had tried unsuccessfully with eight other NFL teams . . . After not being drafted out of Dartmouth, he had a tryout with the N.Y. Jets in '78, but was cut during training camp . . . Then signed with New England during mid-season and appeared in two games, connecting on all seven PAT's and missing his only field goal attempt before being released . . . Failed in tryouts with Cincinnati, Washington, Baltimore, New Orleans, Tampa Bay and San Diego in '79.

College/Personal: Spent his entire collegiate career at Dartmouth . . . Has worked parts of five summers in Washington, D.C., as an assistant in different legislative areas of the U.S. Government . . . Spent part of his childhood in Europe, where he played both rugby and soccer . . . His father worked for the State Department at the American Embassy in London . . . Earned a degree in government . . . Interests include politics, drama, public speaking, jazz music, playing drums and tennis . . . Did a television news mini-series on conditioning this past off-season in Kansas City . . . Among his many civic and charitable activities is his "Kick With Nick" program, in which he raises money for Cerebral Palsy, including a personal donation for each field goal he makes . . . Is a member of the Chiefs Academic Corps . . . Full name: Dominic Gerald Lowery . . . Single.

DAVID LUTZ • 72
Tackle Ht: 6-5 Wt: 287

How Acquired: Draft (No. 2 - 1983)
College: Georgia Tech
NFL Experience: 4
Birthdate: December 30, 1959
Birthplace: Monroe, North Carolina
Residence: Eatonton, Georgia

Pro Career: Has consistently been graded high in game assignments by Chiefs coaches in his first three NFL seasons . . . The starter since his first pro grame, he has anchored the right side of the Chiefs line at tackle while the guard position has undergone changes . . . Has played in 39 games and started 38, including every game as a rookie in '83 and again last year. 1985: Played more downs than any other offensive lineman while starting all 16 games at right tackle . . . His only missed action was the final three quarters of a Week 5 game at the L.A. Raiders due to a bruised calf . . . Was one of just three offensive players for the Chiefs to start every game in '85 (Bob Rush and Walt Arnold were the others) . . . In addition to consistently grading high, his presence the entire season was imparitive to the offensive line, which saw the same group never start more than three games in a row due to various injured players. 1984: Missed the first half of the season after suffering ligament damage in his right knee in the season opener at Pittsburgh . . . Underwent arthroscopic surgery and spent nine weeks on the injured reserve list . . . Returned to action Week 11 vs. Houston, then started the final five games . . . Season totals were seven games played and six starts . . . Selected by his teammates as the Chiefs nominee for the Ed Block Memorial Courage Award for '84 in recognition of personal courage exemplified in pursuit of professional excellence on the football field. 1983: Stepped into the starting lineup at right tackle during the preseason and went on to become Kansas City's only offensive lineman to start all 16 games that year . . . Was chosen by his veteran teammates as the 1983 winner of the Mack Lee Hill Award, an annual award given to the Chiefs outstanding rookie who best exemplifies the play and spirit of the late Hill . . . Also was named to the 1983 NFL All-Rookie Team by Football Digest . . . Became the first Chiefs rookie to start the season-opening game since DE Art Still and Sylvester Hicks in '78 . . . Beat out 10-year veteran Charlie Getty, who was traded to the Green Bay Packers, for the right tackle job.

College/Personal: Was a four-year starter at Georgia Tech in a pro-style offense . . . Started 44 consecutive games after being redshirted in '78 and didn't miss an offensive snap his final two seasons . . . Earned honorable mention All-America recognition from AP as a senior and from the Sporting News his final two years . . . Attended Bowman H.S. in Peachland, N.C., where he lettered three years in football and one year in wrestling . . . Majored in Industrial Management . . . Interests include fishing, hunting and camping . . . Is a fishing and hunting guide in Georgia during the off-season . . . Full name: David Graham Lutz . . . Married, wife Marsha.

BILL MAAS • 63
Nose Tackle Ht: 6-5 Wt: 259

How Acquired: Draft (No. 1 - 1984)
College: Pittsburgh
NFL Experience: 3
Birthdate: March 2, 1962
Birthplace: Philadelphia, Pennsylvania
Residence: Lee's Summit, Missouri

Pro Career: Regarded as one of the NFL's most dominating nose tackles during his first two pro seasons . . . His powerful presence in themiddle of the defense has forced consistent double-teaming efforts and has aided the Chiefs already-established ends, giving the team a forceful defensive line . . . Stepped in immediately as the starting nose tackle after being the team's No. 1 draft choice in '84 . . . Started at end during the conclusion of last season after a re-alignment of the line and played equally well at that position, but is "potentially the finest nose tackle in the league," according to John Mackovic . . . Has started all 30 games that he's played in two years (missed two games of rookie year) and has totaled 128 tackles (90 solos) and 12 sacks. 1985: Started at two different positions, the first 11 games at nose tackle and the final five contests at left end . . . Was the team's top sacker, dumping opposing quarterbacks seven times . . . Recorded 74 total tackles (fifth-most on team and most among defensive linemen), including 61 solo stops (fourth), 16 QB pressures (second), one pass deflection and one fumble recovery . . . Earned honorable mention All-NFL honors from AP . . . Notched season-high eight tackles in three games, although several other games stood out . . . At San Diego, he tied a personal best by making three sacks in a seven-tackle effort the sixth week . . . In a Thursday night national TV win over the Raiders the second week, he netted two sacks and the second hit forced a Jim Plunkett fumble that was recovered on the L.A. six-yard line, setting up a Chiefs touchdown . . . Against Atlanta, one of his eight-tackle games, he greeted NFL rushing leader Gerald Riggs three times for losses and shared in a QB sack . . . In his five games at end, he totaled 32 tackles (21 solos), 1½ sacks and he recovered a fumble at Seattle. 1984: Had a major impact on the Chiefs improved defense as one of the NFL's top rookies in '84 . . . Stepped in as the starting nose tackle from day one and was a big reason why the Chiefs mounted the best pass rush in franchise history (50 sacks) . . . Was named the NFL Defensive Rookie of the Year by AP despite being limited the second half of the season by a leg injury (fractured fibula) suffered the seventh week . . . Came back quickly, missing just two complete games, but was in and out of the lineup the remainder of the season whenever the leg got hit . . . Finished with five sacks, the third-best total on the team, and 43 total tackles (29 unassisted) . . . Made his NFL debut at Pittsburgh, the town where he gained collegiate fame, and played opposite All-Pro center Mike Webster . . . Made his first NFL sack in that game . . . Best game as a rookie came in a Week 5 victory over Cleveland, when he posted three sacks (leading to team-record 11 sacks, second-best in NFL history) . . . Made a season-high six tackles in that game . . . Started all 14 games in which he played . . . In addition to his NFL Defensive Rookie of the Year honor, he was named to NFL All-Rookie teams by UPI, Pro Football Writers, Pro Football Weekly and Football Digest . . . Was the first defensive lineman taken in the '84 draft and the fifth player overall.

College/Personal: An All-America performer at Pitt, where he totaled 203 tackles and 22½ sacks, plus an additional 28 tackles for losses in his career . . . Played in 36 consecutive games for Pitt after earning the starting berth at right defensive tackle in 1981 as a sophomore . . . Gained honorable mention All-America honors from AP and UPI and first team All-East honors from AP as a senior . . . Named a first team All-America by The Sporting News as a junior . . . Played in four bowl games as a collegian: Gator Bowl in '80, Sugar Bowl in '81, Cotton Bowl in '82 and Fiesta Bowl in '83 . . . Attended Marple Newton H.S. in Newton Square, Pa., where he was an All-State football player . . . Also was All-State in baseball and lettered in wrestling . . . Earned a degree in sociology . . . Enjoys hunting, fishing, skiing and riding three-wheelers . . . Full name: William Thomas Maas . . . Married to the former Cindy Marino, sister of Miami Dolphin star QB Dan Marino . . . One-year-old daughter Erica.

HENRY MARSHALL • 89

Wide Receiver Ht: 6-2 Wt: 213

How Acquired: Draft (No. 3d - 1976)
College: Missouri
NFL Experience: 11
Birthdate: August 9, 1954
Birthplace: Broxton, Georgia
Residence: Kansas City, Missouri

Pro Career: Continues to mount pass receiving figures season after season that could soon make him the most prolific receiver in Chiefs history . . . Enters his 11th NFL season, all in Kansas City, in second place on the team's all-time receiving yardage list with 5,767 career yards and in third place in career receptions with 360 . . . Is 31 receptions shy of Chris Burford (391) for second and 50 catches away from Otis Taylor's record (410) . . . Is 1,539 yards short of Taylor's receiving yardage mark (7,306) . . . Has been a starting wide receiver since entering the league as a third round draft choice by the Chiefs in 1976 and is now the team's elder statesman . . . Has played in 137 Chiefs games (of a possible 149) and has started 125, more in both categories than any other player on the current roster . . . His 10 years of NFL experience is most on the squad, tying Mike Pruitt who joined the Chiefs in '85 . . . Following the 1986 campaign, no wide receiver in Chiefs history will have played longer (Taylor played 11 years) and only 12 players will have enjoyed longer tenures, including just two "skilled position" players (QBs Len Dawson and Mike Livingston) . . . Durability has been amazing, missing games in just three seasons with a most of five misses last year . . . A model of consistency, each season he has compiled at least 20 receptions, 300 receiving yards, an average of 13 yards per catch, a 30-yarder or longer and nine starts . . . Season highs were 62 receptions and 912 yards in 1984 and six touchdowns in '80 and '83 . . . Has led the team in receptions three years ('80, '82, '84) and in receiving yardage twice ('80 and '82) . . . Has averaged 2.6 catches and 42.1 yards per game in his career . . . Has registered eight games of 100 or more receiving yards, which ranks third in team history behind Taylor (21) and Carlos Carson (13) . . . Has caught at least one pass in 116 games . . . Has scored 32 receiving touchdowns and two rushing for a total of 34 . . . Has carried the ball on the reverse 24 career times for 257 yards, but none since '82 . . . His career receiving totals are even more impressive considering the fact he didn't play in a pass-oriented offense until 1983 when John Mackovic arrived. 1985: Because of a separated shoulder that caused him to miss five games, he compiled his lowest season totals since 1979 . . . Made 25 receptions for 446 yards and didn't catch a touchdown pass for the first season in his career . . . Led the team in receptions the first half of the season until sustaining his injury Week 9 at Houston . . . Missed the next five games and returned for the final two . . . Most of his catches came in a four-game stretch, Weeks 3-6 when Carson was hampered by a knee injury, when he caught 18 passes for 293 yards . . . Had four each vs. Miami, Seattle and the Raiders for 67, 56 and a season-high 90 yards, respectively, then caught a season-high six for 80 yards the next week at San Diego . . . Caught at least one pass in each game he played until the season finale, which broke a 20-game catch streak . . . Played in 11 games and started the first nine . . . Averaged 2.3 receptions and 40.5 yards per game played. 1984: Put together the best season of his illustrious career by leading the team with a career-high 62 receptions and notching a career-high 912 yards, second on the team next to Carson's 1,078 . . . His 62 catches tied for the fifth-best single-season total in Chiefs history and ranked 14th in the AFC, while his 912 yards were the seventh-best ever and ranked 11th in the conference . . . Started all 16 games and caught four or more passes in 10 games and at least one pass in all but one contest (vs. N.Y. Jets) . . . Had two games with over 100 receiving yards: eight passes for 148 yards the fourth week at Denver, the second-best figures of his career until he topped that with an eight-catch, 166-yard performance the 15th week vs. Seattle . . . The latter marked the best receiving game of '85 for the Chiefs and was the eighth-best yardage game in team annals . . . Was named AFC Offensive Player of the Week by the league office for that performance . . . Averaged 3.9 catches and 57 yards per game . . . Caught four touchdown passes. 1983: This marked his first season in a pass-oriented offense and he responded with 50 catches (best of career at the time) for 788 yards (second-best at time) and six touchdowns (tied best), despite missing three games . . . Missed one game with a broken nose and the final two contests with a broken arm . . . Had two 100-yard receiving games, making eight catches for 115 yards vs. Dallas and seven grabs for 131 yards vs. the N.Y. Giants . . . Caught at least one pass in all but one game (at Miami) and that snapped a 22-game catch streak . . . Started nine of the 13 games he played that year. 1982: Was on a record-setting pace in '82, but the shortened season hindered him from setting personal highs . . . Made 40 receptions for 549 yards in just nine games, an average of 4.4 catches and 61.0 yards per outing . . . Caught at least three passes in every game and ranked seventh in the AFC and 10th in the NFL with his 40 receptions . . . Yardage high was 98 yards on five catches vs. Pittsburgh. 1981: Missed the final four games with a sprained knee, but still managed to latch onto 38 passes for 620 yards in 12 games . . . Top outing was a six-catch, 110-yard effort vs. the Raiders. 1980: Came into his own in this, his fifth season, catching 47 passes for 799 yards and six touchdowns . . . Gained over 100 yards in three contests, including a career-best nine catches for 176 yards in the season finale vs. the Colts . . . The 176 yards still rank as the sixth-most receiving yards in a single game in Chiefs history and he also snatched a career-long 75-yard pass in that game. 1976-79: Stepped in as a starter immediately as a rookie and posted similar stats in each of his first four seasons, catching between 20-30 passes each year . . . Had at least one four-catch game for 70 or more yards in at least one game in each of those seasons . . . Best effort in his first four years was five receptions for 89 yards in a 1978 game vs. Tampa Bay . . . Was the Chiefs fourth pick of the third round in the 1976 draft on a choice obtained from Houston in a deal involving Curly Culp.

College/Personal: Capped his collegiate career at Missouri with a superb senior season, catching 44 passes for 945 yards and nine touchdowns . . . His first three years were less productive as the Tigers used the wishbone formation, but the offense opened up his final year and was highlighted by his Big Eight record 207-yard receiving performance vs. Oklahoma State . . . A tremendous athlete, he played varsity baseball and basketball as a freshman at Hillcrest H.S. in Dalzell, S.C., and both teams won state championships . . . Football career didn't begin until he was a junior in high school . . . Became an immediate blue-chipper in football that year, plus he hit .450 in baseball, long-jumped 24-10½ and ran a 46.0 quarter on a relay team . . . Majored in economics . . . Full name: Henry H. Marshall . . . Single.

KEN McALISTER • 94
Linebacker Ht: 6-5 Wt: 220

How Acquired: Free Agent (1984)
College: San Francisco
NFL Experience: 4 (2nd with Chiefs)
Birthdate: April 15, 1960
Birthplace: Oakland, California
Residence: Kansas City, Missouri

Pro Career: A converted defensive back who showed flashes of greatness as a linebacker in 1984, but spent the entire '85 season on injured reserve . . . Also had arthroscopic surgery on the same knee in '84, so his effectiveness in 1986 is unknown, but his excellent pass coverage ability would be a great bonus to the Chiefs defense . . . Went down in the first preseason game of '85 at Cincinnati with torn knee ligaments and has been rehabilitating since surgery . . . Was a prize free agent acquisition for the Chiefs in '84 after spending his first two NFL seasons with the Seattle Seahawks and San Francisco 49ers as a defensive back . . . After signing with the Chiefs in January of '84, he put on some 20 pounds of body weight and became the starting left outside linebacker despite missing the entire preseason due to his training camp knee injury that required arthroscopic surgery . . . Missed the season opener and played only in spot situations the next three weeks before making his first NFL start the fifth week vs. Cleveland . . . Stole the show in that debut, compiling a career-high 14 total tackles, 2½ sacks (first of his career and helped Chiefs to team-record 11 sacks) and making his first NFL interception . . . Named the NFL Defensive Player of the Week by Sports Illustrated and Pro Football Weekly for his performance in that 10-6 Chiefs victory . . . Went on to record 72 tackles (48 solos), four sacks, two interceptions, five pass deflections and two forced fumbles during the season . . . Started nine games and played in 15 . . . Was replaced by Jeff Paine as a starter in the final three games and played sparingly in the final two because of a hip pointer. Pre-Chiefs: Began his NFL career with Seattle as a free agent in '82 and played in all nine games as a reserve safety and kicking teams player his rookie year . . . Remained with the Seahawks through the first two games in '83 before being placed on waivers . . . Signed with the 49ers in November that year and played in the final four regular season contests . . . Was waived prior to San Francisco's first-round playoff game.

College/Personal: Didn't play collegiate football, but was a four-year letterman in basketball at the University of San Francisco . . . Averaged 8.5 points, 3.2 rebounds and 2.5 assists per game as a guard and helped USF to the NCAA playoffs all four years . . . Attended Oakland (Calif.) H.S., where he was a football All-America . . . Earned a degree in sociology . . . Interests include horseback riding, camping and traveling . . . Is a member of the Chiefs Academic Corps . . . Full name: Ken H. McAlister . . . Married, wife Joanna.

How Acquired: Draft (No. 4 - 1985)
College: Virginia
NFL Experience: 2
Birthdate: June 5, 1962
Birthplace: Brookville, Pennsylvania
Residence: Atlanta, Georgia

Pro Career: Will attempt to solidfy his position as the Chiefs starting right guard in his second NFL season after starting 14 games at that spot as a rookie last year . . . Beat out veteran guard Tom Condon for the starting job during the '84 preseason and opened the regular season as the starter . . . Started the first 11 games before being replaced for two games by Rich Baldinger . . . Came back and started the final three contests when Baldinger moved to left guard because of an injury to Scott Auer . . . His 14 games started was more than any other rookie on the Chiefs roster in '84 and was third-most among the team's offensive linemen (David Lutz and Bob Rush started 16) . . . Only nine players on the team started more games . . . Was named to the NFL's All-Rookie Team by Football Digest . . . Was the Chiefs fourth round draft choice in '84 and their third pick overall (no third round choice).

College/Personal: Started every game his final two years at Virginia and was named to the All-Atlantic Coast Conference team as a fifth-year senior . . . Began his collegiate career at defensive tackle, but made the switch to offensive guard in 1982 as a sophomore . . . Was one of three captains as a senior and he lettered three years . . . STEPHONE PAIGE • 83

How Acquired: Free Agent (1983)
College: Fresno State
NFL Experience: 4
Birthdate: October 15, 1961
Birthplace: Slidell, Louisiana
Residence: Fresno, California

Pro Career: Highlight of a story-book three-year career came in his last game when he exploded for the best pass receiving yardage game in the history of the NFL . . . An amazing 309-yard performance vs. San Diego in the 1985 season finale broke a 40-year-old league record and placed his name among some legends . . . That peaked the growth and development of this high-spirited youngster's career, which astonishingly began as a rookie free agent in 1983 . . . Has primarily been the third wide receiver in John Mackovic's pass-oriented offense, which often-times calls for three-WR sets, although he started eight games last year due to injuries to other receivers . . . Though his role changed late in '85, he has been regarded as the best third-down receiver in football . . . Of his 103 career receptions, 59 have been on third down and 50 of those times he's either made the first down or a touchdown (11 TDs on third down); the team has needed 490 total yards to make first downs on those plays and he's gained 1,209, over twice the needed yardage . . . His three-year career stats are 103 receptions for 2,012 yards, a 19.5 average and 20 touchdowns while playing in all 48 games (and starting nine) . . . Only Otis Taylor and Chris Burford have owned better receiving figures after the first three years of their Chiefs careers . . . Of wide receivers who entered the NFL in 1983, only Chicago's Willie Gault (107-2,127) has better totals. 1985: The single biggest story for the Chiefs in '85, according to Mackovic, was the emergence of Paige . . . And his single biggest game — the best in NFL history — was the 309-yard spectacle in the finale . . . The old record of 303 yards had been set by Jim Benton of the Cleveland Rams in 1945 . . . Surpassed the Chiefs record of 213 yards (Curtis McClinton in 1965) in the second quarter and had 258 yards by halftime . . . Had first-half catches of 56 (TD), 51, 30, 17, 84 (TD) and 20 and second-half catches of 39 and the record-breaking 12-yarder . . . His eight receptions were also a career high and, in fact, his previous bests were five catches (twice in '83) and 94 yards (two weeks before his record) . . . His 84-yard TD catch was his career-long, tied for sixth-longest in Chiefs history and was the longest since 1974 . . . Thanks to his season-ending record total, he finished the year as the Chiefs leader in receiving yardage with 943 (ninth in AFC and 15th in NFL) and second in receptions with 43 (next to Carlos Carson's 47) . . . His 21.9-yard average per catch ranked first in the NFL among qualifying receivers . . . His 10 touchdown receptions were third-most in Chiefs history, behind Burford's 12 in 1962 and Taylor's 11 in 1967 . . . Scored two TDs in three games (Seattle, Atlanta, San Diego), giving him four two-TD games in his career . . . Started six of the final seven games of '85 after Henry Marshall suffered a separated shoulder at Houston . . . Also started two games (Weeks 4-5) when Carson was hampered by a knee injury . . . Played in all 16 games and made at least one catch in all but two. 1984: Matched his rookie season total of 30 receptions and upped his receiving yardage from 528 to 541 . . . Top yardage game again came in the season finale vs. San Diego, 84 yards on just two catches, one being a 65-yard TD reception that ranked as the team's longest of the year . . . Had three receptions in three different games . . . Caught at least one pass in all but one game and that was at Denver when he caught two passes in the end zone that were ruled out of bounds . . . Made his first NFL start in a Week 14 win over Denver when the Chiefs opened offensively in a three wide receiver set . . . Also served as the primary kickoff return man in '84, compiling a 20.1 average on a team-high 27 returns. 1983: Posted one of the top rookie performances in the NFL in '83 . . . Was brought along slowly by Mackovic early in the campaign, but played extensively the second half of the season and finished with 30 receptions for 528 yards, a team-leading 17.6 average, and six touchdowns . . . Only two other rookie wide receivers in the NFL caught more passes than Paige's 30 that year — Gault and Detroit's Jeff Chadwick, both with 40 . . . The 30 catches were the most by a Chiefs rookie WR since Burford's 46 in 1960 . . . First NFL reception came the fifth game vs. St. Louis, then he quickly came into his own . . . Finished the season strongly, making 17 receptions for 326 yards and five touchdowns in the final five games . . . Top game was at San Diego, when he caught five passes for 84 yards and two TDs . . . Caught at least one pass in each of the final 12 games . . . A superb showing in training camp in '83 earned Paige a roster spot as a rookie free agent, plus an injury to J. T. Smith opened another spot at that position.

College/Personal: Enjoyed a good two-year collegiate career at Fresno State, but was overshadowed by WR Henry Ellard, who was drafted in the second round in '83 by the L.A. Rams . . . Transferred from Saddleback (Calif.) Junior College, where he spent his first two years . . . Attended Long Beach Poly H.S. in Calif., where he played football, basketball and baseball . . . Majored in Radio-TV and would like to work as a television producer in the future . . . Enjoys reading and playing Pac-Man . . . Full name: Stephone Paige . . . Married, wife Paula, one-year-old son, Stephone II.

College: Texas A&M
NFL Experience: 3
Birthdate: August 19, 1961
Birthplace: Garland, Texas
Residence: Kansas City, Missouri

Pro Career: Hopes to regain the starting right outside linebacker job that he earned near the end of his rookie season of 1984 and kept at the start of the '85 campaign until being injured . . . After opening in the first two games last year, he suffered a partial tear of ligaments in his right knee in the Thursday night win over the Raiders . . . Spent the next four weeks on injured reserve, although no surgery was required . . . Came back vs. the Rams, then started the next two weeks before straining his other knee . . . Saw limited action the remainder of the season . . . Finished with 11 solo tackles and eight assists for a total of 19, including one sack . . . Had five-tackle efforts in the season opener at New Orleans and in his first start after his initial injury, at Denver . . . Played in 12 games and started four . . . First won a starting job the final three games of '84, all Chiefs wins, after seeing more and more action as his rookie season progressed . . . Finished the year with 20 tackles, including 13 solos . . . Top game was in a Week 15 win over Seattle, when he totaled a career-high six tackles (five solos) . . . Was bothered by a strained knee early in the season, missing the second and third games . . . Played in 14 games and started three . . . Has also been an aggressive kicking teams player during his first two years, nailing down nine specialty tackles as a rookie and eight last year . . . Was the Chiefs second pick in the fifth round of the '84 draft as part of the draft-day trade involving Gary Green to the L.A. Rams.

College/Personal: Emerged as a strong outside linebacker as a senior at Texas A&M after splitting time between linebacker and tight end his first three collegiate seasons . . . Recorded 64 tackles his final year and won the "Aggie Heart" award as the senior who displayed the most leadership . . . Caught 12 passes for 131 yards as a part-time starter at tight end as a junior . . . Attended Richardson (Texas) H.S., where he won All-District and All-City honors and was given the team's Hustle Award . . . Earned a degree in industrial engineering . . . Very active in Fellowship of Christian Athletes . . . Enjoys reading and working with children . . . Full name: Jeffrey Franklin Paine . . . Married this past July, wife Beth.

College: Purdue
NFL Experience: 11 (2nd with Chiefs)
Birthdate: April 3, 1954
Birthplace: Chicago, Illinois
Residence: Westlake, Ohio

Pro Career: The leading active rusher in the AFC and the 13th-ranked runner in NFL history enters his 11th pro season and second with the Chiefs . . . The two-time Pro Bowl performer spent the first nine years of his brilliant career at Cleveland before joining Buffalo, then Kansas City in 1985 . . . In his nine games with the Chiefs last year, he moved up four notches on the NFL's all-time rushing list to 13th place with 6,930 career yards on 1,705 carries . . . The only active players ahead of him are all playing in the NFC: Walter Payton (1), John Riggins (4), Tony Dorsett (6), Earl Campbell (8) and Ottis Anderson (11) . . . Is 345 yards away from surpassing Leroy Kelly into 12th place on the all-time charts . . . Has a career 4.1-yard average per carry and has scored 49 rushing touchdowns . . . An often-used receiver out of the backfield throughout his career, he has 262 pass receptions for 1,804 yards and five TDs (giving him 54 total scores) . . . Has gained over 1,000 yards in four seasons, all coming during the span of 1979-83 (only miss was nine-game '82 campaign) . . . His single-season rushing highs are 1,294 yards and a 4.9-yard average in '79, and 293 carries and 10 touchdowns in '83 . . . Caught 63 passes in two consecutive years, 1980-81, and once owned a streak of 53 straight games with pass receptions . . . Has 17 career 100-yard rushing games, including at least one every year except 1984 (with a most of five in '79 and '83) . . . Has enjoyed a healthy career, with only one injury putting him on injured reserve (arthroscopic knee surgery in '84) . . . Has played in 137 regular season games in 10 NFL years and has started 96 . . . Also played in two playoff games, one each in 1980 and '82 . . . His 10 years of NFL experience are more than the Chiefs other four returning running backs combined, and, in fact, doubles it. 1985: Stepped in as the starting fullback after joining Chiefs in mid-season and provided a spark not only to the running game, but to the entire team . . . Played in the final nine games of the season and started the final eight, rushing for 366 yards on 105 carries and scoring two touchdowns . . . Finished second to Herman Heard in rushing, despite playing in just about one-half the games of '85 . . . Became the first Chiefs running back since 1981 (a span of 54 games) to rush over 100 yards in a game, when he gained 102 yards on 16 carries in a Week 14 victory over Atlanta . . . That included a 54-yard jaunt, the team's longest of the season and his longest since a 56-yarder in '80 . . . His first game with the Chiefs was vs. Denver and he gained 29 yards on eight carries with only three days of practice . . . In his second game, he rushed for 82 yards on 18 carries at Houston, the most yardage by a Chiefs back at that time . . . Prior to his arrival, the Chiefs averaged 85 rushing yards per game, but averaged 99 per game in his nine outings and 101 per game in his eight starts . . . Was released by the Browns on the final roster cutdown in '85, signed by the Bills in mid-September and waived after four games (seven carries for 24 yards). 1984: Despite starting just seven games, he gained 506 yards on 163 carries and scored six TDs, finishing second on the Browns team to Boyce Green (now with Chiefs) . . . Missed playing time in several games before having arthroscopic knee surgery on Nov. 2 . . . Top rushing game was 83 yards on 26 attempts at Pittsburgh. 1983: Compiled the second-best rushing figures of his career, gaining 1,184 yards on 293 carries, ranking third in AFC and ninth in NFL . . . Scored 10 rushing touchdowns and 12 total, tying for fourth in AFC scoring and eighth in the NFL . . . Rushed for over 100 yards in five games, with a high of 153 at Houston, a game in which he scored a career-most three touchdowns . . . Was named second-team All-AFC by UPI. 1982: Led the Browns with 516 yards on 143 carries during the nine-game season, despite a series of irritating injuries . . . In his only healthy game of '82, he rushed for 136 yards on 30 carries vs. Seattle in the opener . . . Made a career-high nine receptions vs. San Diego. 1981: Ranked fourth in AFC and 11th in NFL with 1,103 rushing yards on 247 carries . . . Combined for 1,545 yards (rushing and receiving), 10th highest in the NFL . . . At Houston, he gained a career-high 213 all-purpose yards, including 155 rushing. 1980: Ranked third in AFC and eighth in NFL with 1,034 yards on 249 carries, gaining his second straight Pro Bowl berth . . . Caught a then Browns record of 63 passes, which he duplicated in '81 . . . Had three 100-yard rushing games. 1979: Earned his first trip to the Pro Bowl by putting together his first 1,000-yard season . . . Gained a career-high 1,294 yards on 264 carries and caught 41 passes . . . Finished second in AFC (to Earl Campbell) and fifth in NFL in rushing and his 1,666 combined yards was fifth-best in NFL . . . Also posted the following career highs: longest run, a 77-yard TD sprint at Oakland, longest reception, a 50-yard TD catch vs. Cincy, and most yards receiving, 67 vs. Houston. 1978: Became a full-time starter for the first time of his career in Sam Rutigliano's first year as head coach . . . Rushed for 560 yards on 135 carries, including a career-high 173 yards vs. Buffalo . . . Started nine games. 1976-77: Played behind Cleo Miller his first two seasons, rushing just 99 times for 343 yards and catching 11 passes for 38 yards . . . Was Cleveland's first round draft choice in '76, the seventh player selected overall and the third running back after Chuck Muncie and Joe Washington.

College/Personal: Was Purdue's MVP in 1975 after rushing for 899 yards (second on team to Scott Dierking's 914) . . . Three-year totals were 1,588 yards on 351 carries for a 4.5 average and six touchdowns . . . All-Big Ten honorable mention as a senior . . . A 94-yard TD run vs. Iowa as a junior still stands as Purdue record . . . Also ran track for Purdue (60-yard dash in 6.2 seconds) . . . Named to Illinois' all-state prep football team after gaining over 1,000 yards rushing his senior year at Wendell Phillips H.S. in Chicago . . . Played running back, guard, tackle and nose tackle during prep career . . . Also was city wrestling champ (185 pounds) and ran a 9.5 100-yard dash as a trackster . . . Pro Career: Is rapidly establishing himself as an NFL linebacker, winning a starting job at the Chiefs left inside position as a second year performer in '85 . . . Has played in all 32 games since being drafted by the Chiefs in the second round of the '84 draft out of Penn State, a school tradition-rich at linebacker . . . Has recorded 137 tackles (88 unassisted), including three sacks, in his two seasons . . . Also has made three interceptions, more than any other Chiefs linebacker during those two years. 1985: Compiled the best totals among Chiefs linebackers in his first year as a starter . . . Was the third-leading tackler on the team, tying Gary Spani, with a total of 88 . . . His 58 solo stops were fifth-most on the squad and most among linebackers . . . Topped team LB's with three sacks, all coming in the final four games . . . Was the only Chiefs linebacker to intercept a pass, making the third of his career vs. Indianapolis . . . Led the team in tackles in three games, including a career-high 13 vs. Pittsburgh . . . Also had 10-tackle efforts at Seattle and vs. Atlanta . . . Made the first fumble recovery of his career at San Francisco . . . Started all 16 games. 1984: Contributed from the beginning of his rookie season and finished with 49 tackles (30 solos) and two interceptions . . . Played in all 16 games and started two contests when Spani was injured . . . Made first NFL start the second week at Cincinnati and his second start came Week 15 vs. Seattle, both Chiefs wins . . . Compiled a season-high nine total tackles in both of those games . . . In addition to being the team's leading tackler in the Seattle game, he also scored his first NFL touchdown by picking off a Dave Krieg pass and returning it 19 yards, which sparked the Chiefs to a 34-7 victory . . . First career theft came Week 4 at Denver, when he tipped a John Elway pass, then grabbed it and raced 35 yards.

How Acquired: Draft (No. 4 - 1984)
College: Penn State
NFL Experience: 3
Birthdate: September 13, 1962
Birthplace: Washington, D.C.
Residence: Overland Park, Kansas

Pro Career: A talented safety who could probably start in many NFL defensive backfields . . . Plays in "dime" defensive sets for the Chiefs and backs up Lloyd Burruss and Deron Cherry at the safety positions . . . Has already established himself as one of the Chiefs hardest hitting players . . . Has played in 27 games and started one during his two seasons, recording one interception and 34 tackles (30 solos). 1985: Played in the final 11 games after missing the first five because of a sprained ankle he sustained during the preseason . . . Started the first game of his NFL career in his first game back from the injury, replacing the injured Burruss at strong safety vs. San Diego . . . Responded with a career-high nine tackles, shared a sack and was credited with two QB pressures . . . Went on to make 25 tackles (18 solos) during the season and his two sacks tied Burruss for the team lead among defensive backs . . . Made his first NFL interception in the season finale vs. San Diego . . . Picked off a Mark Herrmann pass late in the first half and returned it 20 yards to the Charger 26-yard line, setting up what turned out to be the winning touchdown in a 38-34 Chiefs victory . . . Recovered a fumble at Seattle. 1984: Played in all 16 games, seeing more and more action as his rookie season progressed . . . Registered 12 solo tackles and four assists for a total of 16 . . . Eight of those came in the final three games, which were all victories for the Chiefs . . . Was the second-leading tackler on kicking teams with 22 . . . Was drafted by the Chiefs in the fourth round of '84.

College/Personal: Was a first team All-America defensive back at Penn State as a junior, but a broken ankle midway through his senior year ended his season, which is why the Chiefs were able to nab him in the fourth round . . . Finished four-year career with nine interceptions, 203 return yards and 180 total tackles . . . Made two interceptions, three pass deflections and nine tackles in Penn State's national championship victory over Georgia in the Sugar Bowl as a junior . . . Joined current teammates Todd Blackledge and Scott Radecic on that team . . . Led John F. Kennedy H.S. to the state championship as a junior as an offensive and defensive back . . . KEVIN ROSS • 31
Cornerback Ht: 5-9 Wt: 182

How Acquired: Draft (No. 7 - 1984)
College: Temple
NFL Experience: 3
Birthdate: January 16, 1962
Birthplace: Camden, New Jersey
Residence: Paulsboro, New Jersey

Pro Career: A former lower-round draft choice who has made believers out of opposing players during his first two NFL seasons . . . His ferocious hits have become a trademark — possibly the hardest hitter for his size in the league — and although just 5-9, he owns the speed that makes him a solid cover man . . . Has been the Chiefs starting right cornerback since his first NFL game, despite arriving as a seventh round draft pick . . . Though tested often during his rookie season, he has answered the challenge time after time and has gained great respect as he enters his third campaign . . . Has made nine interceptions in two years and 209 tackles (158 unassisted) . . . Only Deron Cherry has made more tackles in those two seasons (262) and only Cherry (14) and Albert Lewis (12) have intercepted more passes . . . His nine thefts all came in his first 19 pro games . . . An aggressive kicking teams performer who has 20 specialty tackles in two years 1985: When defenses realized his rookie season wasn't a fluke, they quit throwing so often in Ross' direction . . . All three of his '85 interceptions came in the first three games, including the first double-theft effort of his pro career in the season-opening romp at New Orleans . . . Finished second to Cherry in tackles with a career-most 111 total stops, including 81 solo shots . . . Set single-game career highs in both games vs. Denver by totaling 11 tackles in each contest . . . Also had 10 tackles at San Diego, tying for the team lead . . . Had at least three tackles in every game . . . Recovered a fumble in the Thursday night victory over the Raiders and forced a fumble two weeks later in a win over Seattle . . . Played in all 16 games and started 15, missing the first start of his career vs. Indianapolis after missing practice that week due to a death in the family . . . All 47 of his interception return yards came in the opener . . . Voted by his teammates as the Chiefs winner of the Ed Block Memorial Courage Award for '85 as the player who showed the greatest courage in the face of adversity. 1984: Put together one of the most incredible rookie success stories in franchise history . . . Showed his competitive nature from the start of training camp and earned the starting RCB job by the regular season opener . . . Went on to make six interceptions and 98 tackles . . . Had a rocky beginning, having several long plays made against him by Pittsburgh wide receivers in the opener . . . Proved his determination a week later by turning in a sterling performance at Cincinnati, making 10 tackles, forcing a fumble to set up a field goal and recovering a fumble deep in KC territory in the final minute to preserve a 27-22 Chiefs win . . . From then on, he was a key performer on the vastly-improved defense and was voted winner of the Mack Lee Hill Award . . . His six interceptions tied him for third in Chiefs history for thefts by a rookie (Bobby Hunt, eight in '62, Eric Harris, seven in '80 and David Webster, six in '60) . . . Ranked second to Cherry (7) for the team lead and tied for fifth in the AFC and 11th in the NFL . . . Returned his first NFL interception 71 yards for a touchdown in the home opener against the Raiders . . . It was the longest interception return by a Chiefs player since 1977 . . . His 98 total tackles were the most by a Chiefs rookie since Gary Spani (144) and Art Still (120) in 1978 . . . Of his 98 tackles, which ranked fourth on the team, 77 were unassisted . . . Top tackling games were 10 vs. Cincinnati and San Diego . . . Started all 16 games.

College/Personal: At Temple, he recorded 13 career interceptions and 249 tackles in four years . . . Picked off three passes as a senior and a career-most five (in seven games) as a junior . . . Attended Paulsboro H.S. in New Jersey, earning All-State honors as a linebacker and running back . . . Led Paulsboro to the state championship as a senior . . . Also competed in basketball and wrestling . . . Business major . . . Was a construction worker during the off-season . . . Works with inner city high school students in Kansas City as part of the Chiefs Academic Corps . . . Full name: Kevin Lesley Ross . . . Single.

How Acquired: Trade (1983 - San Diego)
College: Memphis State
NFL Experience: 9 (4th with Chiefs)
Birthdate: February 27, 1955
Birthplace: Santa Monica, California
Residence: Germantown, Tennessee

Pro Career: Has been the Chiefs starting center since being acquired in a 1983 training camp trade with San Diego . . . Has started all but one game during his three seasons in Kansas City, more than any other offensive lineman and more than any Chiefs player except Deron Cherry during that period . . . That includes a streak of 33 consecutive starts heading into '86 . . . Including five playing seasons in San Diego, he has played in 117 NFL games and started 59 . . . Played in seven playoff games, including two AFC Championship games. 1985: Started all 16 games despite a nagging back injury throughout much of the season . . . Of Chiefs offensive linemen, only he and David Lutz started every game in '85. 1984: Like '85, he was bothered the entire second half of the season with a nagging back problem, but started all 16 games . . . His consistency was a factor in the offense allowing just 33 sacks (fourth-fewest in NFL) and a team-record ratio of one sack allowed per 19 pass attempts. 1983: Started 15 games in '83, with his only miss coming at San Diego the next to last game of the season after finally giving way to a sprained right ankle he sustained two weeks earlier . . . Joined the team during training camp and quickly assumed the starting position in preseason . . . The starting job was open following the retirement of longtime center Jack Rudnay at the end of the '82 season. At San Diego: Was playing behind All-Pro center Don Macek at San Diego at the time of the trade . . . Was the Chargers first round pick in the 1977 draft, the first center selected and the 24th player overall . . . Played in all 14 games his first season and was named to the NFL's All-Rookie Team . . . Suffered a knee injury in a preseason scrimmage in '78 and spent the entire season on injured reserve . . . Became San Diego's starting center in '79 for the final 10 regular season games (played in all 16) and one playoff contest when Macek had a pinched nerve in his neck . . . Started one game each in '80 and '81, while playing in 15 and 16 games, respectively . . . Also played in two playoff games both years . . . Played in all nine games in '82, plus two playoff contests . . . Also was the Chargers deep-snapper.

College/Personal: Played collegiate football at Memphis State, where his coach was Richard Williamson, now the receivers coach for the Chiefs . . . Was selected to several All-America teams and to the independent schools' All-South Team . . . Snaps with his right hand, but does it left-handed when snapping in the spread formation . . . Attended Northwest H.S. in Clarksville, Tenn., where he was a defensive end . . . Earned a sociology degree . . . Is a certified scuba diver . . . Other hobbies include gunsmithing, karate, hunting and fishing . . . Full name: Robert Jeffrey Rush . . . Married, wife Patsy, four-year-old son Robert Jeffrey, Jr. and one-year-old daughter Lacey.

How Acquired: Draft (No. 1 - 1981)
College: South Carolina
NFL Experience: 6
Birthdate: February 13, 1959
Birthplace: Newberry, South Carolina
Residence: Columbia, South Carolina

Pro Career: Enters his sixth NFL season as the third-leading tight end in Chiefs history with 75 receptions . . . Only Fred Arbanas (198) and Walter White (163) have caught more passes than Scott among players at that position in the franchise's 26 years . . . Has played in all but one game (71 of 72) since coming to Kansas City as the 1981 No. 1 draft choice . . . Started 42 of those games . . . Career totals include 75 catches for 682 yards and 11 touchdowns. 1985: Was used mainly as a blocker during his fifth season, catching five passes for 61 yards . . . Made two receptions at Seattle and one each at Miami, vs. L.A. Rams and vs. San Diego . . . Started five games when the Chiefs opened in two tight end formation. 1984: Set a career high in receiving yards with 253, while his 28 receptions were one shy of a personal best . . . Started 12 games and played in 15 . . . Missed the Tampa Bay game due to bronchitis and it was the only missed game of his NFL career, breaking a string of 49 consecutive games and 25 straight starts . . . Best yardage game of his career came at Denver, when he totaled 48 yards on five receptions . . . Caught a career-long 27-yard pass in a win over San Diego and compiled 47 yards in that game on three catches. 1983: More than doubled the stats of his first two years, making a career-high 29 receptions and six touchdowns and gaining 247 receiving yards . . . His six TDs were the third-most by a Chiefs tight end, next to Arbanas' eight in 1964 and White's seven in 1976 . . . Top effort was in a Monday night game vs. San Diego, when he caught a career-high seven passes for 32 yards . . . Started all 16 games in the NFL's third-ranked offense. 1982: Started four of the nine games, making eight receptions for 49 yards and one touchdown . . . Best game was vs. the Chargers, when he caught four passes for 24 yards. 1981: Rookie season got off to a slow start as a fractured finger kept him from playing in any preseason games . . . Played in all 16 regular season contests, started three, and made five receptions for 72 yards and one TD . . . Biggest day as a rookie was in his first NFL start, when he caught three passes for 44 yards at New England . . . Was the first tight end and the 14th choice overall in the '81 draft.

College/Personal: Finished collegiate career at South Carolina as the school's 10th-leading career receiver with 63 receptions for 787 yards and seven touchdowns . . . Was an AP honorable mention All-America honoree as a senior . . . Was a key blocker in South Carolina's system which enabled teammate George Rogers to win the Heisman Trophy in 1980 . . . Played in a two tight end offense much of his collegiate career . . . Earned his degree in health education . . . Has been a substitute teacher in South Carolina during off-seasons . . . Enjoys classical music and traveling . . . Full name: Willie Louis Scott, Jr. . . . Single.

JEFF SMITH • 42
Running Back/Kick Returner
Ht: 5-9 Wt: 201

How Acquired: Draft (No. 10 - 1985)
College: Nebraska
NFL Experience: 2
Birthdate: March 22, 1962
Birthplace: Wichita, Kansas
Residence: Lincoln, Nebraska

Pro Career: Was one of the biggest bright spots of the Chiefs 1985 season, emerging as an exciting kick returner and fast-developing running back . . . The team's primary kickoff return man as a rookie, he was also assuming an integral role in the offense until a severely sprained ankle sidelined him for the final three games of the season . . . Voted by his veteran teammates as winner of the Mack Lee Hill Award, the team's top rookie award . . . Despite missing three games, he finished third in team history with 33 kickoff returns (behind Noland Smith's 41 in '67 and Carlos Carson's 40 in '80) and seventh in KOR yards (the most since Carson's 917 in '80) . . . As a running back, his main contributions began Week 10 vs. Pittsburgh when he scored two touchdowns on pass receptions, finishing with five catches for 82 yards . . . First TD was a 45-yarder in the second quarter that included some dazzling downfield moves and the second came on a 13-yarder in the fourth quarter . . . The 45-yard TD romp marked the longest reception by a Chiefs running back in '85 and his 82 receiving yards were the most by a Chiefs RB since 1981 (Joe Delaney 104 vs. Raiders) . . . Again caught five passes for 21 yards the next week at San Francisco and had a season-long 25-yard run . . . Best rushing day came the following Sunday, when starting halfback Herman Heard was injured in the second quarter and Smith gained a team-high 55 yards on 17 carries in a victory over Indianapolis . . . Made his first NFL start the next week at Seattle, but suffered his ankle injury in the second quarter, ending his season . . . Year totals on offense were 118 rushing yards on 30 carries and 18 receptions for 157 yards . . . Gained 929 all-purpose yards (rushing, receiving, kick returning), an average of 71 per game . . . Averaged 19.8 yards per kick return, with a best game average of 28.3 on three returns at Houston that included a season-long 39-yarder on the opening kickoff . . . Best kick return yardage game was vs. Indy (his two TD reception game), when he ran back four kickoffs for 104 yards (26.0 average) . . . Combined with Garcia Lane in that game to set the Chiefs record for single-game KOR yardage with 236 . . . That game also was his best all-purpose yardage performance, 186 . . . Five returns at San Francisco were his most . . . Made the team with superb kick returning during the preseason, averaging 37.3 yards per return . . . First time he touched the ball in the NFL, he returned the opening kickoff of the first preseason game at Cincinnati 98 yards, then had a 62-yarder later in that contest . . . A 10th round draft choice, he was the third running back taken by the Chiefs in '85.

College/Personal: Was an all-purpose performer at Nebraska, compiling the following career totals: 315 rushes for 1,992 yards and 19 touchdowns, 12 receptions for 247 yards and two TDs, 45 punt returns for 665 yards (14.7 avg.) and two TDs, and 17 kickoff returns for 335 yards (19.7 avg.) . . . Was the nation's leading rusher and punt returner early in his senior year before a nagging ankle injury slowed him a bit . . . Finished with 935 rushing yards on 177 carries and a 15.0 punt return average, gaining honorable mention All-America honors from AP and UPI . . . Played as backup to Heisman Trophy winner Mike Rozier early in his career . . . Was an All-State running back at Wichita Southeast High School . . . Working on college degree in criminal justice . . . Interests include reading books and watching movies . . . Full name: Jeff K. Smith . . . Single.

Pro Career: A four-time Pro Bowl performer who has been the cornerstone of the Chiefs defense since 1978 . . . The Chiefs built their defense around Still after selecting him in the first round in '78, the second player taken in that draft behind Earl Campbell . . . Has been one of the league's most dominating defensive players ever since . . . Earned consecutive Pro Bowl berths in 1980-82 and returned again in '84 . . . Holds the Chiefs record for career quarterback sacks with 56½ (since individual sacks began being recorded in 1973) . . . Has led the team in sacks five seasons, including a record 14½ twice . . . Has been the leading tackler three years and has won the Chiefs MVP Award twice . . . Career totals are 108 games, 105 starts, 817 total tackles, 574 solo tackles, 56½ sacks and nine fumble recoveries (at least one every year) . . . Is averaging 102 tackles per season and 7.6 per game in eight years. 1985: Spent the final seven weeks on injured reserve after straining his left knee . . . As usual, he was very productive in his nine games, totaling 57 tackles (38 solos), four sacks, 12 QB pressures, four pass deflections (led team), a career-most two fumble recoveries (tied for team lead) and one forced fumble . . . Nailed down a season-high 11 tackles in consecutive games against the L.A. Rams and Denver, then had nine before being injured in the Houston game . . . Possibly his best all-around performance of '85 came in the Thursday night prime time victory over the Raiders (Week 2), when he had seven tackles and iced the win by sacking Jim Plunkett with a hit that jarred the ball loose and was recovered by the Chiefs in the end zone for a 36-14 lead in the fourth quarter . . . Missed the Pro Bowl for just the second time in the last six years. 1984: Returned to Pro Bowl form after a one-year absence . . . Led Chiefs in tackles and sacks and was voted by his teammates as the team's MVP for '84 . . . His 107 solo tackles tied a career best and his 131 total stops were his second-most ever . . . His 14½ sacks tied the Chiefs record he set in 1980 and tied him for fourth in the AFC and for sixth in the NFL . . . Spearheaded a fierce pass rush that set a team record of 50 sacks . . . Made 11 or more tackles in four games, highlighted by a 14-tackle effort vs. Houston and a 13-tackle performance two weeks later vs. the N.Y. Giants . . . Also led the team with five forced fumbles and he recovered one . . . Added 25-30 pounds to his 6-7 frame during the off-season and remained healthy the entire campaign, starting all 16 games . . . Sparked the AFC to a 22-14 Pro Bowl victory by returning a fumble 83 yards for a touchdown with his team trailing, 14-12, in the fourth quarter . . . Marked the only TD on a fumble recovery in Pro Bowl history and was the longest fumble return in the game's existence. 1983: Was hampered by a contusion to his left ankle during the second half of the season and broke his Pro Bowl streak . . . Even so, he compiled 96 tackles (61 solos), third on the squad, and three sacks . . . Played in 15 games and started 12, marking the first time in his pro career he played in a game without starting. 1982: Earned his third straight Pro Bowl berth after leading the Chiefs with 68 tackles (44 solos), 3½ sacks and 13 pressures while starting all nine games of the shortened season . . . Also was named to the All-AFC second team by UPI. 1981: Was chosen to the Pro Bowl despite missing five games during mid-season after straining ligaments in his right knee vs. San Diego . . . Concluded the season with 68 tackles (41 solos) and two sacks. 1980: Put together the best season of his career, earning his first trip to the Pro Bowl and team MVP honors . . . Collected a career-most 140 tackles, 107 unassisted stops and 14½ sacks . . . Led the team in the latter two categories and finished second to Gary Spani in total tackles . . . Was selected to every All-NFL team in addition to starting the Pro Bowl. 1979: Registered 137 tackles (94 solos) and 8½ sacks in his second pro season . . . Led the team in sacks and was second to Spani in tackles . . . Posted an incredible 20 tackles in the season finale vs. Tampa Bay . . . Was named to the Sports Illustrated all-pro squad. 1978: Won the starting left defensive end job from the beginning of his rookie year . . . Made the transition look easy by recording 120 tackles (82 solos), second-most on the team to Spani, and a team-leading 6½ sacks . . . Was named to the UPI All-Rookie Team . . . Was the highest-drafted Chiefs defensive lineman since Buck Buchanan in 1963.

College/Personal: Was a four-year starter at Kentucky, where he was a consensus All-America his senior season and was named the Southeastern Conference player of the year by UPI . . . Led the Wildcats to a 10-1 record, but they couldn't play in a bowl game because of NCAA probation . . . Earned degree in criminology . . . CHIEFS 1985 GAME SUMMARIES

WEEK ONE — CHIEFS 47, SAINTS 27 at New Orleans (57,760)

Talk about starting the season with a bang! The Chiefs wasted little time inaugurating the '85 campaign, taking just 1:06 to score their first touchdown, bolting 84 yards in three plays. After a three-yard running play opened the game, QB Bill Kenney hit WR Henry Marshall for a 50-yard pass completion, then quickly rifled a 31-yard scoring strike to TE Walt Arnold. The Chiefs offense went on to score on six of their first seven possessions and proved nearly unstoppable during the afternoon, piling up 504 total net yards, including 395 through the air. The duo of Kenney and WR Carlos Carson were a spectacle, connecting eight times for 173 yards and two touchdowns. Kenney completed 22 of 34 passes for an NFL-high 397 yards and three touchdowns. The defense, meanwhile, made life miserable for Saints starting QB Dave Wilson. A fierce pass rush and tight coverage caused Wilson to manage just two completions in 21 pass attempts for 30 yards, including two interceptions, before being replaced late in the third quarter by Richard Todd. The Chiefs defense finished with four interceptions. PK Nick Lowery kicked four first-half field goals of 48, 52, 52 and 34 yards. The Chiefs had the game in control by halftime with a 26-3 lead and their largest margin was a 33-3 lead midway through the third quarter.

WEEK TWO — CHIEFS 36, L.A. RAIDERS 20 at Arrowhead (72,686)

It was a perfect setting. Prime time Thursday night national TV game . . . home opener . . . near sellout crowd . . . arch rival Raiders in town . . .both teams with 1-0 records after demolishing opening-day foes four days earlier. And the Chiefs responded with a near-perfect performance. After trailing 14-9 at halftime, the Chiefs ripped off 24 unanswered points in the second half and cruised to a 36-20 victory. Nick Lowery belted a team record-tying five field goals — including a 58-yarder — for the Chiefs first 15 points, then the team scored three second-half touchdowns. QB Bill Kenney connected with WR's Carlos Carson and Stephone Paige for third quarter TD passes. Then in the final period, the defense scored the Chiefs final points when DE Art Still sacked Raiders QB Jim Plunkett and forced a fumble which CB Albert Lewis recovered in the end zone for his first career touchdown. Carson had his second straight 100-yard receiving game with 118 yards on five receptions. Kenney finished 18-of-38 for 259 yards. The victory gave the Chiefs the NFL's longest current winning streak at five in a row, dating back to '84.

WEEK THREE — DOLPHINS 31, CHIEFS 0, at Miami (69,791)

After scoring an NFL-most 83 points in their first two games, the Chiefs were stymied by an inspired Dolphins gang at the Orange Bowl and lost their first game of the year, 31-0. The game was much different than the score indicates, and, in fact, it was deadlocked at 0-0 at halftime. The turning point seemed to come in the second quarter when the Chiefs faced a first-and-goal from the one-yard line and failed to score (three pass plays and a fake field goal). Star WR Carlos Carson was injured on that same drive and didn't return. After a great first half, the Chiefs defense wore down in the second half as the Dolphins scored four touchdowns and a field goal.

WEEK FOUR — CHIEFS 28, SEAHAWKS 7 at Arrowhead (50,485)

A steady rain fell at Arrowhead this Sunday afternoon and, likewise, the Chiefs poured it on the Seahawks. A ferocious defense and kicking teams forced seven Seahawk turnovers and led to a 28-7 Chiefs victory that put them in sole possession of first place in the AFC West. The day really belonged to FS Deron Cherry, who tied an NFL record by intercepting four passes and led the defensive assault. The Seahawks had the ball in Kansas City territory 10 times and scored just once — four times inside the 25 without scoring. The kicking teams set up the Chiefs first score early in the game when RB Bruce King fell on a fumbled punt return at the Seattle five-yard line and RB Herman Heard ran for a two-yard TD two plays later. Three of the Chiefs four touchdowns came after Seattle turnovers and resulted in drives of 5, 13 and 14 yards. The only sustained drive was a 7-play, 87-yard spurt in the first quarter that resulted with WR Stephone Paige making a sensational 34-yard TD catch in double coverage, his first of two scoring catches. The Chiefs were outgained in total yardage, 369-165, despite winning the game.

WEEK FIVE — RAIDERS 19, CHIEFS 10 at Los Angeles (55,133)

The Chiefs stayed within reaching distance of the Raiders for the first three quarters of this early-season rematch, then a fourth-quarter rally fell short. The result was a 19-10 Raiders victory. After Nick Lowery put the Chiefs in front with a 36-yard field goal in the first quarter, the Raiders mounted a 13-3 lead heading into the final period. The Chiefs offense, which had lost starting tackles David Lutz and Matt Herkenhoff to injuries early in the game, suddenly struck with 11:15 left in the game. QB Bill Kenney hit WR Anthony Hancock with a 41-yard scoring pass, bringing the Chiefs to within three points. But the Chiefs were unable to score the rest of the way and a ball-control Raider offense produced two more field goals, the clincher coming with 20 seconds remaining. Each team finished the contest with just one touchdown, but four Raider field goals proved the difference.

WEEK SIX — CHARGERS 31, CHIEFS 20 at San Diego (50,067)

This one would later be earmarked by John Mackovic as the team's worst performance of the year. The Chiefs let two 10-point leads slip away, dropping a 31-20 divisional road battle. Two Bill Kenney touchdown passes propelled Kansas City to a 17-7 second quarter lead, and the Chiefs even took a 20-17 advantage into the final period, but they allowed two fourth quarter touchdowns to the Chargers. Several penalties that nullified big plays (offensively and defensively) and a continued problem of not protecting the passer played a role in the loss. Despite constant pressure, Kenney produced a remarkable game. He threw for 304 yards on 24-of-36 accuracy, tossed two touchdown passes and three others for sure TD's were dropped. Most of San Diego's damage was inflicted through the air, with QB Mark Herrmann (replacing the injured Dan Fouts) throwing for 320 yards.

WEEK SEVEN — L.A. RAMS 16, CHIEFS 0 at Arrowhead (64,474)

The Chiefs wasted a defensive gem against Eric Dickerson and Co., losing a 16-0 struggle to the undefeated L.A. Rams. Allowing just 184 total yards, the Chiefs held the record-setting Dickerson to a 2.6-yard average per carry (68 yards on 26 attempts). The Rams managed just one touchdown and all three of their field goals came on short drives that began in KC territory. But a team-record six interceptions thrown by QB Todd Blackledge, who was subbing for the injured Bill Kenney, kept the Chiefs from putting together any consistency on offense. Kenney, who was on a 4,000-yard passing pace, suffered a bruised knee the previous week, and coupled with other bumps and bruises, sidelined him for this game. The Chiefs deepest penetration was to the LA 29-yard line in the third quarter, but Blackledge's pass was intercepted in the end zone by LeRoy Irvin.

WEEK EIGHT — BRONCOS 30, CHIEFS 10 at Arrowhead (68,248)

Jim Arnold hadn't seen one of his punts blocked since joining the Chiefs in 1983. But it happened twice in the first half of this AFC West matchup and led to 10 Bronco points that sparked them to a 30-10 win over Kansas City. Both blocks were deep in KC territory and bolted the Broncos to an unsurmountable 24-0 second-quarter lead. A 75-yard Chiefs drive that resulted in an Ethan Horton one-yard TD dive put the Chiefs on the board, but the Broncos controlled the ball the rest of the half and kicked a field goal on the last play for a 27-7 halftime lead. The Chiefs put together two third-quarter drives that could have put them back in the game, but they settled for a field goal on the first one and failed on a fourth-and-three play at the Denver nine-yard line on the second drive. The Broncos then closed the door with a fourth-quarter field goal.

WEEK NINE — OILERS 23, CHIEFS 20 at Houston (41,238)

It may have been the Chiefs best performance in a month, but it still wasn't enough to pull the team out of their slump. A fierce Chiefs comeback was thwarted when Houston's Tony Zendejas kicked a 38-yard field goal with 14 seconds left in the game, giving the Oilers a 23-20 victory. That nullified two fourth-quarter touchdown passes by Bill Kenney that had pulled the Chiefs into a tie after a 20-6 deficit. Despite the loss, the Chiefs offense did snap out of their lull, mounting a 389-yard attack that included 153 rushing yards. Mike Pruitt, in just his second game with the Chiefs, gained 82 yards on 18 attempts and Herman Heard added 66 yards on 15 carries. Kenney threw for 271 yards. The defense, however, had trouble stopping the Oilers balanced attack, allowing 377 total yards.

WEEK TEN — STEELERS 36, CHIEFS 28 at Arrowhead (46,126)

When All-Pro FS Deron Cherry scored his first NFL touchdown with an interception return on Pittsburgh's first possession, it appeared that the Chiefs may be on their way to snapping their losing streak. But two leads slipped away as the Chiefs dropped their sixth straight game, 36-28. After Cherry's 47-yard TD return, the Steelers countered with a touchdown and two field goals to take a 13-7 lead. The Chiefs then struck with a 45-yard pass from QB Bill Kenney to RB Jeff Smith, who made some dazzling moves across field to reach the end zone. That was the Chiefs last lead, however, as the Steelers scored 13 straight points to take a 30-14 lead. Smith's second TD reception, a 13-yarder early in the fourth period, put the Chiefs back in contention. But Pittsburgh's Gary Anderson kicked his fourth and fifth field goals of the afternoon to ice the game.

WEEK ELEVEN — 49ERS 31, CHIEFS 3 at San Francisco (56,447)

The Chiefs played the defending NFL Champions even for a quarter. In the final three quarters, however, the 49ers dominated the game and handed the Chiefs their seventh consecutive loss, 31-3. The lone Chiefs points came when LB Scott Radecic pounced on a fumble at the 49er 29-yard line and four plays later Nick Lowery boomed a 46-yard field goal into Candlestick's swirling wind. That knotted the score at 3-3, but two second-quarter TD runs and two Joe Montana TD passes in the second half blew the game open for San Francisco. Breakdowns in all phases of the team sidetracked the Chiefs. The offense managed just 200 total yards and 99 of those came in the fourth quarter after the game had been decided. The defense allowed a season-most (to date) 417 yards. QB Todd Blackledge replaced an injured Bill Kenney in the fourth quarter and completed 10 of 20 passes for 77 yards.

WEEK TWELVE — CHIEFS 20, COLTS 7 at Arrowhead (21,762)

Todd Blackledge had been named the starting quarterback for the season's final five games and his first challenge was to help snap the team's record seven-game losing streak. That he did, leading the Chiefs to a 358-yard offensive performance and a 20-7 victory over the Colts. The defense, meanwhile, nearly earned their first shutout since 1981, holding the Colts scoreless until 2:22 remaining in the game. The Chiefs had already built a 17-0 halftime lead and 20-0 third-quarter advantage. Aided by good pass protection, Blackledge directed the offensive unit to two long touchdown drives in the first half — a 14-play, 77-yard march on the first possession and a 13-play, 80-yard drive in the second quarter. RB Jeff Smith replaced the injured Herman Heard in the first half and posted rookie season highs of 55 yards on 17 carries. The defense held the Colts to 211 total yards and just 11 first downs.

WEEK THIRTEEN — SEAHAWKS 24, CHIEFS 6 at Seattle (52,655)

Recent memories from the Kingdome haven't been good for the Chiefs. For the third straight year, the Chiefs left Seattle with a loss, this time 24-6. Like last week, the Chiefs were tied at 3-3 after the first quarter. But the Seahawks manhandled the Chiefs the rest of the way. The Chiefs moved to within striking distance by taking the opening kickoff of the second half and putting together a 12-play drive, but had to settle for a 35-yard Nick Lowery field goal, making the score 17-6. Penalties and constant pressure on QB Todd Blackledge kept the Chiefs off the scoreboard the remainder of the game. With Jeff Smith spraining an ankle in his first NFL start and Herman Heard already injured, the Chiefs running game mustered just 52 yards and Blackledge was the leader with 17. All totaled, the offense gained 201 yards.

WEEK FOURTEEN — CHIEFS 38, FALCONS 10 at Arrowhead (18,199)

The Chiefs didn't waste any time putting this game away. Scoring on their first four possessions, the Chiefs rolled to a commanding 24-7 second-quarter lead and went on to smash the Falcons, 38-10. The Chiefs rushed for a season-high 164 yards and QB Todd Blackledge enjoyed one of the best games of his career with three touchdown passes as the offense scored five TDs. He completed his first seven passes for 190 yards, including a career-long 70-yard TD pass to WR Stephone Paige, and finished 11-of-19 for 219 yards. Kansas City also had its first 100-yard rusher in 54 games as RB Mike Pruitt gained 102 yards on 16 carries,including a 54-yard burst that set up the team's second touchdown. Paige and RB Herman Heard each scored two TDs. The defense throttled the Falcons passing game with seven sacks and three interceptions by CB Albert Lewis. Atlanta's only offensive punch came from RB Gerald Riggs, the NFL's rushing leader, who rolled up 197 yards.

WEEK FIFTEEN — BRONCOS 14, CHIEFS 13 at Denver (68,209)

A national television audience was treated to a knock-down, drag-out, down-to-the-wire brawl on this Saturday afternoon. It was, indeed, one of the Chiefs finest performances. But, a last-second touchdown and PAT conversion gave the Broncos a 14-13 victory over the Chiefs. A sterling defensive effort that forced six turnovers had the Chiefs in a position to win the game. The first four interceptions resulted in just two Nick Lowery field goals. Trailing by one point (7-6) entering the final quarter, the Chiefs finally converted the fifth interception. Todd Blackledge connected with Stephone Paige for a seven-yard TD pass for a 13-7 lead. When the defense recovered a Steve Sewell fumble at the KC 13-yard line with 2:30 remaining, the Chiefs were within one or two first downs of running out the clock. But they were forced to punt after three plays. Then on the Broncos next offensive play, John Elway hit Steve Watson on a 42-yard pass play to the KC 17. The Broncos scored the winning TD seven plays later with 22 seconds left when Sammy Winder plunged over from the one-yard line.

WEEK SIXTEEN — CHIEFS 38, CHARGERS 34 at Arrowhead (18,178)

Stephone Paige's quest for an all-time NFL record seemed to be the only outcome in doubt midway through this season-ending battle. But by the time the dust settled, the Chiefs needed every bit of Paige's record 309 pass receiving yards to hold off the explosive Chargers, 38-34. Paige's spectacular day, which broke a 40-year-old NFL record, included touchdown receptions of 56 and 84 yards that helped the Chiefs to a 35-6 lead by halftime. Even their 38-13 lead heading into the fourth quarter seemed comfortable, but three San Diego touchdowns in the final period cut the margin to four points. The Chiefs controlled the ball the final 2:44, thanks to a gutsy seven-yard run on a third-and-five play by Mike Pruitt. Todd Blackledge left the game in the second quarter after injuring his thumb on a pass play and was replaced by Bill Kenney. The two teams combined for 968 yards of total offense. The victory gave the Chiefs three wins in their final five games and marked the sixth straight year they ended the season with a win.

CHIEFS RADIO NETWORK

Once again in 1986, 81/KCMO Radio in Kansas City will be the Chiefs flagship station with Kevin Harlan, Len Dawson and Bill Grigsby calling the action. KCMO has been the Chiefs anchor station for play-by-play coverage each year since the pro football team moved to the midwest in 1963. The station began handling the Chiefs Radio Network in 1985. The network includes more than 50 stations throughout Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa. Harlan begins his second year as the Chiefs play-by-play voice and is joined by Dawson, a Chiefs Hall of Fame quarterback, and Grigsby, a veteran Chiefs broadcaster. The broadcasts include a three-hour, award-winning pregame show called "Chiefs Sunday" and the game broadcasts are followed by several postgame shows, including a locker room interview show.

1962 AFL CHAMPIONSHIP GAME
DALLAS at HOUSTON
December 23, 1962

A contest that moved the infant American Football League into the national consciousness proved to be the first of three AFL titles for Hank Stram's Texans/Chiefs.

Following second place finishes in each of the league's first two seasons, the Texans ran away with the AFL West championship in 1962. Dallas finished 11-3, a full four games in front, and was matched with the Houston Oilers, also 11-3, who had won the AFL title in 1960 and '61 over the Los Angeles, then San Diego Chargers.

The Texans, paced by a pair of touchdowns from Abner Haynes, took a 17-0 halftime advantage. Haynes scored first on a 28-yard pass from Len Dawson and then on a two-yard run after Tommy Brooker had given Dallas a 3-0 first-quarter advantage with a 16-yard field goal.

But the momentum quickly shifted to the Oilers in the second half. George Blanda, then a "young" 35-year-old, passed 15 yards to Willard Dewveall for a touchdown and kicked a 31-yard field goal before Charley Tolar burst over from the one to tie the game at 17-17 in the fourth quarter.

The two teams then went into the first sudden death overtime in AFL annals. The Texans won the toss and Stram elected to kick off, maintaining his defense could hold the Oilers long enough for Dawson to get the ball in good field position. Herein came the famous "kick to the clock" episode in which Texans captain Haynes inadvertantly elected for his team to kick into the wind instead of having it as the consolation for not receiving the football.

Neither club mounted a serious challenge in the early stages of overtime, but as the fifth quarter was drawing to a close, Dallas defensive end Bill Hull intercepted a Blanda pass and returned to midfield. Dawson then passed to Jack Spikes for 10 yards. Spikes, the game's most valuable player, ran for 19 and the Texans were in field goal range. At the 2:54 mark of the sixth quarter, Brooker kicked a 25-yard field goal to give the Texans a 20-17 victory and the American Football League championship. The game lasted 77 minutes and 54 seconds and would be the longest in pro football history until the Chiefs and Miami Dolphins played over 82 minutes nearly a decade later in 1971.

1966 AFL CHAMPIONSHIP GAME
KANSAS CITY at BUFFALO
January 1, 1967

With a berth in Super Bowl I as the prize, the Chiefs visited ancient War Memorial Stadium for a New Year's Day clash with the defending AFL champion Buffalo Bills.

The game, played in frigid, sub-zero temperatures, produced its first break on the opening kickoff. Jerrel Wilson recovered a Bills fumble on the Buffalo 31-yard line. Three plays later, Len Dawson passed 29 yards to Fred Arbanas for the first touchdown and a 7-0 Kansas City lead.

Buffalo, though, tied the game near the end of the opening period when Jack Kemp hit Elbert Dubenion on a 69-yard pass play. Few thought it would be the Bills final score of the day.

The Chiefs defense stiffened and Dawson led the offense to 10 second-quarter points. Otis Taylor caught a 29-yard touchdown pass and Mike Mercer added a 32-yard field goal, aided by a 72-yard pass interception by Johnny Robinson.

Mike Garrett then applied the coup de grace for the Chiefs by scoring on runs of one and 18 yards. Kansas City won its second AFL title in four years and awaited the Green Bay Packers in Super Bowl I.

SUPER BOWL I
KANSAS CITY vs. GREEN BAY
January 15, 1967

Representing themselves and the American Football League in the first championship match with the National Football League, the Chiefs played well for one half before bowing to the supremacy of the Green Bay Packers.

Vince Lombardi's Packers, one of the great pro football teams of all time, won Super Bowl I by a 35-10 score. But the Packers held a slim 14-10 advantage at the half before the game turned on one play in the third quarter.

Green Bay opened the scoring when Bart Starr passed 37 yards to Max McGee, McGee making a remarkable one-handed catch for the touchdown. Len Dawson tied the game for the Chiefs when he passed to Curtis McClinton for a second period touchdown. The Packers then went back on top, 14-7, before Mike Mercer kicked a 31-yard field goal just before the half ended.

The Chiefs momentum carried over into the third quarter as Kansas City moved to a first down on its initial possession. But then the game's key play, one that doomed the underdog Chiefs, unfolded when Willie Wood intercepted a Dawson pass intended for Fred Arbanas at midfield. Wood returned all the way to the Chiefs 5-yard line, where Elijah Pitts ran for a third Green Bay touchdown and an insurmountable 21-10 lead.

1969 AFL CHAMPIONSHIP GAME
KANSAS CITY at OAKLAND
January 4, 1970

On the day the American Football League played the final game of its 10-year history, the Kansas Chiefs became the only three-time AFL champion. The Chiefs, through a curious playoff system, played their Western Division rivals, the Oakland Raiders, for the league's last title. Oakland, which had won the AFL West and held a pair of regular season wins over the Chiefs, went down to a 17-7 defeat.

The contest, unlike other Raiders-Chiefs matchups, was marked by turnovers. The two clubs managed one first-half touchdown apiece. Oakland's came on a three-yard run by Charlie Smith, Kansas City responding with a one-yard plunge by Wendell Hayes after Len Dawson had hit on passes of 14 yards to Otis Taylor and 41 yards to Frank Pitts.

In the third quarter, George Blanda twice missed field goal attempts that would have moved Oakland in front. Midway through the period, Kansas City mounted a drive from its own 2-yard line, the field position a result of a fumble which luckily was recovered before it bounded into the end zone. Dawson and Taylor pulled Kansas City out of the hole with a 35-yard pass and run play. Robert Holmes added 23 more on a flare pass in the left flat and then scored the go-ahead touchdown five plays later.

At this point the game became a defensive struggle. Led by defensive charges from the entire front four of Aaron Brown, BuckBuchanan, Curley Culp and Jerry Mays, the Chiefs continually harassed Raiders quarterback Daryle Lamonica. But the turnovers which would plaque both teams were only beginning.

In the fourth quarter, turnovers gave Oakland the football three times in Kansas City territory. Three times the Chiefs responded with interceptions, one each by Jim Marsalis, Jim Kearney and Emmitt Thomas. Thomas' steal was his second of the day and covered 62 yards to the Oakland 18-yard line. Jan Stenerud's field goal provided a 17-7 lead and a return to the Super Bowl.

SUPER BOWL IV
KANSAS CITY vs. MINNESOTA
January 11, 1970

Kansas City's finest sports hour concluded at 5:20 in the afternoon of Sunday, January 11, 1970, when the Chiefs defeated the Minnesota Vikings, 23-7, for the world championship of pro football.

The Chiefs, who finished 11-3 on the season and defeated the New York Jets and Oakland in the playoffs, closed out their first decade as the outstanding team in the American Football League which, with Super Bowl IV, came to an end. Beginning in 1970, the two leagues merged, with the AFL becoming the American Football Conference of the NFL.

Minnesota, a prohibitive favorite, was 12-2 during the regular season and at one point had won 12 games in succession.

The Chiefs took an early lead when Jan Stenerud kicked a 48-yard first quarter field goal. Stenerud's kick remains a Super Bowl record. He then followed with field goals of 32 and 25 yards for a 9-0 lead.

Kansas City received the first break in the game when the Vikings Charlie West fumbled a kickoff and Remi Prudhomme recovered at the Minnesota 19-yard line. After an eight-yard loss, Len Dawson handed off to Wendell Hayes, who rambled for 13 yards up the middle on a draw play. A 10-yard pass to Otis Taylor gave the Chiefs a first down at the four. Three plays later, Mike Garrett burst off-tackle for the touchdown. The Chiefs held a 16-0 halftime lead, stunning the Vikings and a nationwide television audience.

Minnesota mounted a mild third-quarter comeback when Dave Osborn scored from four yards out to cut the margin to 16-7. But any hopes the Vikings had of getting closer were dashed by Otis Taylor, who lived up to his big-play reputation repeatedly through that season.

Dawson hit Taylor on a short hitch pattern, but when Earsell Mackbee missed the inital tackle, Taylor was loose down the right sideline, highstepping his way to a 46-yard touchdown. After three quarters, the Chiefs again held a 16-point lead.

As was so often the case in 1969, the defense came to the fore. Minnesota had the ball three times in the final period and, as in the Oakland game the previous week, the Chiefs snuffed out all three chances with interceptions. Middle linebacker Willie Lanier picked off a Joe Kapp pass to halt a rally at the Chiefs 34-yard line. Later on, Johnny Robinson, playing with what turned out to be three broken ribs, grabbed another errant Kapp throw. In the game's closing minutes, Emmitt Thomas intercepted his third pass of the playoffs. The Chiefs then ran out the clock to capture the AFL's second consecutive Super Bowl triumph.

PRO FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME

The highest honor a pro football personality can receive is to be inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame. Three of the people who have contributed most to the Kansas City Chiefs organization, owner Lamar Hunt and former linebackers Bobby Bell and Willie Lanier, have been so recognized.

The most recent honoree is Lanier, who is part of the Hall's Class of 1986. The Chiefs starting middle linebacker for 11 years, Lanier possessed a ferocious tackling style that made him a feared run-stopper, plus the speed and agility that helped him make 27 career interceptions. A second round draft choice in 1967, Lanier missed just five games during his 11 seasons. He played in two AFL All-Star games, five Pro Bowl games and helped the Chiefs to their only World Championship, a Super Bowl IV victory over Minnesota.

Bell became the first Chiefs player to be enshrined in the Hall when he was chosen with the Class of 1983. Possibly the best outside linebacker to ever play the game, Bell was a superb athlete and actually began his pro career at defensive end because the Chiefs needed help at that position when he was drafted in the seventh round in 1963. By the time he retired in '74, Bell had earned All-AFL or All-AFC designation for eight consecutive years. During that span, he starred on two AFL Championship teams, played in Super Bowls I and IV, and was named to the all-decade team in '69.

Hunt, who founded the American Football League in 1960 with his Dallas Texans franchise, became the first AFLer to be voted into the Hall in 1972. Described during his induction ceremonies as the "architect, designer and builder of an impossible dream," Hunt has been and still is considered one of the most prominent figures in professional football. He serves as the president of the American Football Conference and, since 1984, the conference championship game trophy has carried his name.

MACK LEE HILL AWARD

JEFF SMITH

Each year since 1966, the Chiefs veteran players have selected a recipient for the Mack Lee Hill Award. It is a tribute to the late Mack Lee Hill, an outstanding running back who played for the Chiefs in 1964 and 1965. He was described as a man who played as much with his heart as he did with his driving legs in the early days of the American Football League.

In memory and tribute to Hill, the award is presented annually to the Chiefs rookie, who, as the inscription on the trophy reads — "best exemplifies the spirit of the late Mack Lee Hill . . . the man with the giant heart and quiet way." In selecting the recipient, the Chiefs veterans look for a first-year player who has displayed the spirit and attitude of Mack Lee Hill.

The 1985 winner of the award was running back and kick return specialist Jeff Smith. A 10th round draft choice out of Nebraska, Smith beat the odds and worked his way into vital roles in both rushing and kick returning. Despite missing the final three games with a sprained ankle, Smith finished third in Chiefs history for number of kickoff returns (33) and seventh for KOR yardage (654). He also was blossoming into one of the team's top runners before suffering an ankle injury in his first NFL start the 13th week. The all-purpose performer was also used extensively as a receiver out of the backfield.

Running back Mack Lee Hill bursts forward for yardage against the Raiders during his memorable two-year pro career with the Chiefs.

LIMITED INSTANT REPLAY SYSTEM TO BE USED IN 1986

At the NFL Annual Meeting in March 1986, the clubs adopted (by a 23-4-1 vote) a one-year system of limited Instant Replay of officiating calls for 1986.

The NFL has discussed Instant Replay in some degree or other since the early 1970s. The League experimented in 1976 and 1978 using two basic frameworks—an independent system using cameras, replay machines, and technicians separate from the network covering the game, and a "no frills" approach using existing television coverage.

In 1985, the NFL used the network feed of nine nationally televised preseason games to experiment with the basic system that later was adopted for 1986. A total of 28 plays were examined closely (17 confirmed call, 4 were inconclusive, 1 was reversed, and 6 had no replay shown).

What is the objective of this system?

The clubs feel that on certain plays the telecast viewed by the general public should be used to correct an indisputable error. The system will be used to reverse an on-field decision only when the Replay Official has indisputable visual evidence available to him that warrants the change.

Is the television network carrying the game part of the review process?

No. Although the Replay Official will be viewing the live network feed, there is no communication to television personnel as to what plays to show or not to show.

What is the step-by-step procedure of a play review?

The Replay Official will view game action and a play will be replayed immediately on one of the two monitors, while the other monitor continues to record the live feed.

The Replay Official makes a determination if further study of the play is needed. If not, there is no contact with the field and play continues without interruption.

If the Replay Official believes an error may have been made, the Umpire will be contacted (via a paging device worn at the beltline), and he then will use a walkie-talkie for further communication with the Replay Official.

The Replay Official will watch replay(s) on one or both monitors and complete his review within a reasonable period (probably 15-20 seconds) after the play is over. (If there is a time out, the Replay Official would not necessarily be restricted to the 15-20-second period.)

The Replay Official will inform the Umpire of his decision, and the Referee will make the appropriate announcement on the wireless microphone.

The limited Instant Replay system concentrates on plays of possession or touching (e.g., fumbles, receptions, interceptions, muffs) and most plays governed by the sidelines, goal lines, end lines, and line of scrimmage (e.g., receiver or runner in or out of bounds, forward or backward passes, breaking the plane of the goal line).

However, the Instant Replay system will not include the following fouls: clipping; encroachment and offsides; grasp of facemask; false start; defensive pass interference; offensive pass interference; offensive holding and illegal use of hands; illegal batting or punching ball; illegal block on free kick or scrimmage kick; illegal crackback; illegal motion; illegal use of forearm or elbow; illegal use of hands by defense; illegally kicking the ball; illegally snapping the ball; intentional grounding; member of the punting team downfield early; illegal formation; palpably unfair act; piling on; roughing the passer; running into or roughing the kicker; striking, kicking, or kneeing; unnecessary roughness; unsportsmanlike conduct; and use of the helmet as a weapon.
